

Guide-Advocate

HARRIS & CO. PROPRIETORS.

WATFORD, JULY 27, 1917

NOTE AND COMMENT

Emperor Wilhelm is described by one correspondent as having "staked his all on blood and iron." A poor combination for retaining a throne.

More anti-draft riots are reported from Quebec. Some of the rioters may feel a real draft some of these days if they continue forgetting how to behave themselves.

The government appointed a man to report on the high cost of living. The government appointee reported that the Wm. Davis Packing Co., of which Sir Joseph Flavelle is the head, had made exorbitant profits in war time, to the tune of nearly five millions. Sir Joseph says the report is untrue. The government appoints another commission to find out who is prevaricating in this instance. Some farce.

Another of Inspector Maxwell's recommendations to the Minister of Education has become law. In the Statute Law Amendment Act of 1917, there have been added to Section 15 of the Public Schools' Act of 1914 the following subsections: (6) The council of a county at the request of a majority of the councils of the townships in the county for a readjustment of the boundaries of the school sections in the townships of the county shall appoint arbitrators at the request of section 21. (7) The arbitrators shall take action and make their award and the same may be put into effect notwithstanding any time limit that may not have expired in connection with the operation of previous awards or changes of boundaries. (8) The council of a county may, in like manner, appoint arbitrators at the request of the council of any township in the county to readjust the boundaries of the school sections in the township. The change in the law will greatly facilitate needed readjustments in a county.
