AMUSEMENTS.

The city has been favored with amusements this week, indeed much more so than the houses have been with patronage. The hot term has a very depressing effect upon the numerical attendance, and better business will scarcely be reported for a few weeks.

At the Royal Opera House, Fechter, the Anglo-Poreign artist, has been presenting a round of his characters, supported in the chang parts by a company of his own, including such talent as Miss Lizzio Price, Messrs. Bangs, Langdon, and Vining Bowers. He has appeared in No Thoro'fare, Ruy Blas, Hamlet, and, on this Wednesday evening, offers for his benefit The Lady of Lyons. Mr. French, the proprietor of the Royal, is making extensive alterations to the entrances, which when completed will place it in comparison with any in the city. He is working hard to enjoy public support, and if energy scenres success, Mr. F. will have a satisfactory Fall season.

Duprez & Benedict's Minstrels occupy the Grand Opera House (Mrs. Morrison's) for the present week. They have a strong company including Low Benedict, Frank Kent, Tyrrel, Dumont, &c., and should draw like a wax plaster.
