

pect that each subject could be treated exhaustively in that space, but we think that this is out of place in a dictionary when everything should be short and to the point. There is a tone of conservatism but fairness all through it, especially on Diseases of Women by Herman, which is characteristic of English writers, and which renders it a safe book to refer to.

SAUNDERS' QUESTION-COMPENDS, No. 15. Essentials of the Diseases of Children, arranged in the form of Questions and Answers; prepared especially for Students of Medicine, by William M. Powell, M.D., Physician to the Clinic for the Diseases of Children in the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania. W. B. Saunders, 913 Walnut street, Philadelphia.

There can be no doubt that this little volume will prove highly acceptable both to the final year student as well as the young physician; for no one subject receives so little attention during the four years medical course, and yet none are of more importance to the junior practitioner, who is cast adrift from his Alma Mater with but a small amount of knowledge as to how to deal with the many diseases to which children are heir. The book is arranged in questions and answers, in this way placing before the student in a very few lines and in a concise and easily remembered manner that which in an ordinary work on Diseases of Children would require several pages of reading to give a like amount of information. We can heartily recommend this to our readers.

The Physician's all-requisite Time and Labor-Saving Account-Book; being a Ledger and Account-Book for Physicians' Use, Meeting all the Requirements of the Law and Courts.

We may mention a few of the superior advantages of The Physician's all-Requisite Time and Labor-Saving Account-Book, as follows:—1. Will meet all the requirements of the Law and courts. 2. Self-explanatory; no cipher code. 3. Its completeness without sacrificing anything. 4. No posting; one entry only. 5. Universal; can be commenced at any time of the year, and can be continued indefinitely until every account is filled. 6. Absolutely no waste of space. 7. One person must needs to be sick every day of the year to fill his account, or might be ten years about it and require no more than the space for one account in this ledger. 8. Double the number and many times more than the number of accounts in any similar book; the 500-page book contains space for 900 Accounts, and the 600-page book contains space for 1300 accounts. 9. There are no smaller spaces.
