

As host to ICAO, Canada has undertaken a number of responsibilities vis-à-vis the Organization, including the granting of certain legal and fiscal immunities to foreign council representatives and members of the Air Navigation Committee and the Secretariat, and it subsidizes the rent paid for office accommodation in Montreal. In addition, Canada contributes on the same basis as other member states to the regular budget of ICAO, which in 1969 will amount to $8,004,481; Canada's contribution will be between 3 and 4 per cent of this amount.
