

Proceedings on Adjournment Motion

But as the hon. member knows, we have in general a parliamentary system under which the government states its new proposals only in a budget speech made in the House. But as we know, the Minister of Finance (Mr. Benson) has already said he would make such a speech in the near future.

It is with the co-operation of all economic areas of this country more than in any other way that we shall succeed in our fight against inflation.

Motion agreed to and the House adjourned at 10.30 p.m.
