Sportsmen's Patriotic Committee Keep Busy

The Sportsmen's Patriotic Association held an executive meeting in the Queen's Hotel last night.

The committee in charge of the finances was delighted to call upon the biggest men of the city who are now out of touch with sport, but in their younger days were active players. A direct appeal is also made to any person likely to be overlooked. Any line of sport not under the time-tooth comb is asked to send in its individual contributions direct to 12 East King street. Individual players or followers of any games not touched are asked to do the same.

Baseball will be got going at once. A conference of the committee in charge of that sport is to be held this afternoon and evening, and means of reaching every amateur league club and player in the city will be discussed. It is expected that the baseball game will be in full blast behind the movement during the next week.

The bowlers will be approached during the Dominion tournament, which opens next Monday here.

Cricketers are meeting at St. James' Parish House, Church and Adelaide streets, next Wednesday night.

The movement is about ready to be launched to sweep thru every sport in the city.

President Dick Greer, the county crown attorney, intimated many further subscriptions, including $500 from Mr. Geo. H. Gooderham, M.L.A., who in his letter accompanying his cheque wrote: "I enclose my cheque for $500 towards the purchase of machine guns for use by our Canadians. I trust that the very laudable ambition of the association will be achieved, and if the use of my name will be of any good whatever I shall be delighted to have you use it."

When it was officially intimated to the meeting that $120 had been subscribed by the accormen at last Monday's match at the Stadium, the members cheered the splendid effort.

An appeal will be made to the large crowd expected at the Motordrome on Saturday night. Choice buttons will be made, and these will be nice little mementoes of the donor's contribution to the fund.
