Rain and Snow in the Northwest
A Big Bull Card in Wheat Market

Prices Advance to New Record For This Season on Buying by Investors—Sharp Bulge in Corn Values.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—A new high price record for the season was made today in wheat. Rain and snow in the Northwest, which had been hoped in vain that a reaction was just at hand. The close, the nervous was at 1-4 and 1-5 above last night. Oats were up 1-4 to 3-8, and hog products dearer by 7-16 to a quarter of a dollar.

It was evident from the start that the pit supply of wheat would be too scanty for buyers' comfort. The situation grew worse as the day progressed, being relieved only at rare intervals, and then not sufficiently to cause any setback. The main reason was that it had been snowing through the night, and the morning was overcast. More unfavorable conditions could hardly be imagined for the wheat market. The situation was, however, relieved by the fact that the Canadian fleet, which had been expected to arrive today, was delayed, and the market was given a further serious handicap.

In addition, an increased demand for flour was reported, and there were advices from the Northwest that the wheat crop was better than expected. The market was, however, given a further serious handicap by the fact that the Canadian fleet, which had been expected to arrive today, was delayed, and the market was given a further serious handicap.

Increased Demand for Flour. In addition, an increased demand for flour was reported, and there were advices from the Northwest that the wheat crop was better than expected. The market was, however, given a further serious handicap by the fact that the Canadian fleet, which had been expected to arrive today, was delayed, and the market was given a further serious handicap.

Oats Received Lift. Oats, the overstocked market, received a lift, due to purchases made by elevator concerns and commission houses. The shipping market was also active, and the market was given a further serious handicap.

Northwest Receipts. Receipts of wheat in cars at primary centers were as follows: Week ending Oct. 19, 1911. Chicago, 10,000; St. Louis, 10,000; Minneapolis, 10,000; Winnipeg, 10,000.

European Markets. The Liverpool market closed today unchanged from yesterday on both wheat and corn. The market was given a further serious handicap.

NORTHWEST ADVICES
ARE DISCOURAGING

Rain and Snow in Spring Wheat
Belt—Prices Rise to New High Level.

J. P. Bickell & Co., from Logan and Bryan: Wheat—This was the biggest day in wheat of the week. Not only did prices rise higher than at any previous time for the present campaign, but volume of trade was larger. Foreign news was mostly bullish in tone, but was ignored for the more important news in the domestic situation, which strongly favored buyers. The market turned its attention to the northwest early in the day and the reports, that came from that quarter, dispatched told of rain and snow over spring wheat states. Messages of yesterday telling of great reduction in volume of milling wheat in Canadian provinces were confirmed with even more bullish figures to-day.

Pliny 'Barril' wired: Wheat—All futures were forced into new highs, and the close was strong as practically the top. The unexpected advance in face of the news, in our opinion, is increased outgrowth of popular bullish sentiment, and expanding trade. Sentiment at the close was very bullish and everything indicates that the market will continue to work higher, but in view of our recent return and the fact that considerable new bulls are still waiting, it will doubtless be in evidence. It appears advisable to go a little slow on the swells of the present, but to be ready to take advantage on all reactions.
