Room for Enterprise

There are great quantities of goods coming into Canada that could just as well be made here. Time and again we've urged manufacturers to enlarge facilities sufficient to meet outside competition, and in every instance we stood ready with a big order in one hand and cash in the other. It's a significant fact that such things as Refrigerators and Bicycles can be imported from the States and sold cheaper than Canadian goods in spite of the duty. And without reference to the political aspect of the question, this ought not to be.

What Toronto particularly needs at this time is more manufacturing. The fact of a market here and a vast outlet for proper goods ought to encourage some one to discount the best Canada has ever done by discounting the best outsiders may do.

Always Progressive!

There never is any question as to which store sets the pace for Canada. Nobody ever looks to Montreal for new ideas in storekeeping and nobody cares what merchants say in their own praise. The particular fact is that this business has never stopped growing in all the years you've known it, and this year the stride ahead is greater than ever, with—

- Two big additions now being built
- Considerable new machinery just bought
- Very many improvements now under way, and everything being done that can be done to make the store thoroughly up-to-date. The organization is better now than at any time, and a fresh infusion of brains make it as keenly active to-day as though it were a brand new business.

Summer Millinery!

It's scant courtesy to your intelligence to tell you that you'll have to have a new hat or bonnet. Nevertheless we do it, for the sake of telling you something else—you can't buy anything more stylish, more novel, at a less price than you can here. That's quite a sentence and may need some qualification. We've the style—that you'll admit. We've the price—that needs no admission. And we're novel enough to have nothing old; but we don't go in for impossible novelties—styles that might suit themselves on showy Parisian boulevards, but which look bizarre on plain Canadian streets.

The trimmed millinery show the drift of style. They were made in the fashion centres. We welcome your ideas and trim according to your tastes.

An Enthusiastic Meeting of the Anti-Remedialists of No. 2 Ward—descriptions come in hand—

The anti-Remedialists of No. 2 Ward were supposed to hold a committee meeting in one of the chambers of St. George's Hall last night. Instead of being a purely executive meeting for business purposes, it developed into a mass meeting on a small scale. A large number of those who for years supported the Government gathered together to show their disapproval of Mr. Coatsworth's stand and that of the Government on the Manitoba School question.

The first business done was a mild request for funds. Those present were only too anxious to contribute, and Treasurer R. H. Davis was kept busy taking in the coin. The matter in which the contributions were made is the best sign of the enthusiasm which prevailed.

Mr. John Hewitt, the chairman, made an excellent and stirring speech, and an ex-Ald. Foster and Dr. Thompson

Many were surprised to see Ald. Leslie on the platform, but he explained his presence by stating that old and familiar phrase, "Politics make strange bedfellows," and Mr. Leslie has not forsaken the Grit party by any means, but he is dead against the remedial Bill.

John Armstrong also addressed the meeting and told some plain facts. After the meeting adjourned the various committees met and completed arrangements for holding a mass meeting at an early date.

As to candidates, there are a number of well-known people who are willing to come out. The leaders favor Mr. John Ross Robertson or Mr. Douglas Armour, either of whom would carry the riding, provided Mr. Clarke Wallace does not wish to enter the field.

Young Men Will Do Their Part.

Last night's meeting of the Young Conservatives was devoted to a discussion of the remedial Bill. The club. They are arranging to take an active part in the pending campaign in all the Toronto.

PATRIOTISM ACCORDING TO LAURIER

Our Montreal correspondent has called attention to Mr. Laurier's unexpected laudation of the late Count Merle in his speech at St. Cuneo. Mr. Laurier extolled his departed friend as a patriot, and said that his faults were due to the generosity of his soul. Now, it may be known by the company he keeps, and if Mr. Laurier's patriotism is of the same type as that of his friend, the deceased Count, then Mr. Laurier is not the man to lead a Government now in power in the Dominion of Canada. Count Merle was, up to the time of his death, plotting against the continuance of British connection. More than this, he was in the actual pay of Mr. Dana, and of those other Americans who created a fund for the purpose of bribing and maintaining in this country a band of patriots(?) in league with their American paymaster to betray our Queen and country and hand over the control of Canada to Washington.

Count Merle was Dana's hired man up to the day of his death. In Dana's pay and receiving money from Dana's trusted representative in Toronto to promote as best he could the cause of American annexation. Is it of this stuff that Mr. Laurier's own patriotism is made? We have known that many of those allied with him are under suspicion, and now he would seem to have given us good cause to believe his own loyalty to be a mark for the concealment of his real opinions. Mr. Laurier's acceptance of money from the Dana fund, administered by a pack of scoundrels in Toronto, may have been due to "the generosity of his soul," and may have been proof of his "patriotism," but Mr. Laurier will find great difficulty in explaining away such an extraordinary view of the conduct of one who can be proved to be a traitor and associated with traitors now resident in this city, and whose personal safety we should, by whose slow to guarantee the whole of the country. The revelation of this precious plot revealed to an outraged and indignant public.

STREET RAILWAY EXTENSION.

The Board of Works is acting most inconsistently in its policy of street railway extension. At the present time it is proposed to extend the system in two directions—over Dovercourt road and along Hill-street in Rosedale. In regard to the former the Railway Company objects to undertaking the extension, because the extension will benefit but a handful of people, prove a serious loss to the company and involve the city in a big outlay for the necessary permanent pavement. The company is willing to go on with the extension, but the Board of Works objects to this project on the ground that the extension of the tracks will benefit the residents of the Township of York more than the citizens of Toronto. Ald. Lamb looks upon the proposed Rosedale extension as the thin edge of the wedge of a scheme to boom suburban property. That's exactly what The World said of the Dovercourt-road extension a few days ago.

If it had policy to extend the system through Rosedale through the heart of the Township of York, it is equally bad policy to extend the tracks over Dovercourt-road. The Board of Works and the Council ought to act consistently in this matter. Both extensions should be approved or both rejected. The principle is the same in either case.

CANADA'S ANOMALOUS DIVORCE LAWS.

In a recent issue of The Week the peculiar and anomalous divorce laws of Canada form the subject of an article by Mr. Charles E. Macdonald, who has made the question a special study. It is supposed by many that the law in regard to divorce is the same throughout the whole Dominion. Such, however, is not the case. It is full of anomalies. The Maritime Provinces have divorce courts of their own. It is an undecided question whether the Supreme Court of British Columbia has or has not jurisdiction in divorce cases. Ontario has no divorce court whatever. The law, in fact, varies in all the provinces. By the British North America Act, says the writer in The Week, divorce is one of the matters over which the Dominion Parliament has exclusive jurisdiction, but in the provinces where Divorce Courts existed prior to Confederation the Dominion Parliament has not interfered with them, though it has the power. In Nova Scotia the Dominion Parliament has exclusive jurisdiction in divorce. The Dominion Court, which can declare a marriage null and void for adultery, cruelty, impotence or consanguinity within the prohibited degrees, and the powers and principles belonging to the Divorce Court. England as far as applicable have also been conferred on this court. In New Brunswick there is a court called "The Court of Divorce and Matrimonial Causes," presided over by one of the Judges of the Supreme Court. The grounds of divorce are adultery and consanguinity within the prohibited degrees. In Prince Edward Island matrimonial matters may be heard by the Lieutenant-Governor and his Council, who are constituted a court of divorce. The grounds of divorce are adultery, impotence and consanguinity within the prohibited degrees.

IN REGARD TO ONTARIO NO DIVORCE COURT WAS EVER ESTABLISHED.

The only means whereby marriage can be dissolved in this province is by a special act of Parliament, the expense and delay connected with which make an application for divorce a luxury which only the wealthy can indulge in. The law for Ontario is the same as that which prevails in Ontario.
