PEOPLE'S RIGHT OF VETO.

Winnetka System Would Protect People From Their Rulers.

At the single tax meeting in the Toronto Opera House on Sunday afternoon, James Simpson outlined the Winnetka method of securing direct legislation.

Bad legislation had passed through our city council, he said, which would never have been proposed had the people possessed the power of veto. "You can have a council, but you cannot buy the whole people," he declared.

The Winnetka system involved the securing of petitions from candidates for municipal offices that if elected they will submit any proposed measure in the people, about 2000 electors petition therefor, and that they will make a decision one way or the other on any problem which 5000 electors petition to have considered.

W. W. Buchanan was the principal speaker, and between the speeches appeared vocal solos were rendered by Miss Florence Watson and W. E. Bach. He described the social problem as essentially religious because it was the result of the relationship of one to another. Sociology proceeds theology. He pointed out the danger of Christianity becoming Christianity. He argued that the solution of the social problem could not be found in charity or philanthropy, but only in the question of giving the workman a living wage, but of his having the whole product of his labor. His doctrine was to all equal ownership of the Creator's bounty; to each complete ownership of his own products.

OAKVILLE BANK CASE.

Assignee's Report Will Not Be Ready for Publication Until Wednesday.

E. R. C. Clarkson, accountant, who has the affairs of the insolvent Anderson Bank at Oakville in charge as assignee, informed The World last evening that there were no new developments in connection with the bank's failure. His accountants were busy at the books of the bank, and it was expected that a statement would be in readiness on Wednesday of the condition of things.

In order to allay any fear in regard to any deposits that might have been accepted after the bank went into liquidation, Mr. Clarkson stated that there were such deposits they would be returned in full to the parties making them. Not to do so would be equivalent to accepting money under false pretences. He, however, did not know that any such deposits had been made.

The Toronto Bank will open to-day a branch in Oakville. As to who will be in charge is not yet known, nor the exact place where it will be located. Two places were held in view by the bank and one of them will be decided upon this morning.
