MAP SHOWING WHERE THE VALENCIA WAS WRECKED.

COAST NEAR CAPE BEALE WHERE MANY FROM THE VALENCIA DIED.

Washington, Jan. 29—The secretary of the treasury today received a telegram from Captain Kilgour, of the revenue cutter Grant, now at Seattle (Wash.), in which he says the cutter has just returned from the scene of the wreck of the steamship Valencia, about 40 miles from the Straits of Fuca, in British Columbia. He brought back with him ten survivors of the wreck and three dead bodies. The vessel, he reported, was wholly submerged. Ten dead bodies, the captain reported, were strewn along the shore, one half to one mile apart.

In answer to his request for instructions, the secretary has directed Captain Kilgour to communicate with the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, to whom the vessel belongs, and to recover the bodies provided the steamship company will bear the extra expense. This action is necessary in view of the fact that there is no appropriation available for this purpose.

The Canadian authorities will be asked for permission to remove the bodies.

REV. A. D. DEWDNEY GETS PURSE FROM CONGREGATION

Rector of St. James, Who Leaves for the West Tonight, Tendered a Farewell by His Congregation Last Night.

The vestry of St. James' church was crowded last evening by the congregation gathered to bid farewell to their rector, the Rev. A. D. Dewdney, who will leave tonight for the west. Mr. Dewdney was made the recipient of several handsome presents and an address from his congregation.

At 9 o'clock C. H. Smith asked S. S. DeForest to take the chair. Mr. DeForest then called upon Mrs. Laird, honorary president of the Dorcas Society, to make a presentation to Mr. Dewdney. Mrs. Laird, on behalf of the society, then presented to the pastor a stole.

John Kenney on behalf of the congregation then presented to him a purse of gold and an address, and to Mrs. Dewdney a silk umbrella, and to the rector's two little daughters gold stick pins. Mr. Kenney said he would like to speak a few words with regard to the departure of their beloved pastor. Twelve years ago he was the first to meet Mr. Dewdney and to shake hands with him and ever since that time the strongest friendship had existed between them, and no one in the church or city would regret Mr. Dewdney's departure more than he. This was an occasion of joy, satisfaeton, and regret; joy and satisfaction because of the success Mr. Dewdney has made; regret because he is leaving.

Mr. Kenney then paid a glowing tribute to Mr. Dewdney's good work while pastor of St. James' church. He told of the improvements in the building and in the finances of the church, saying that these improvements were largely due to the work of the pastor. He then presented to him the following address:

To the Reverend A. D. Dewdney:

Reverend and Dear Sir: We, the wardens and vestry of the Church of St. James, in the city of St. John (N. B.), on behalf of the congregation, beg respectfully to express to you the sincere and deep regret which the expected removal of our faithful and beloved pastor has occasioned to us all.

During nearly twelve years you have steadily and zealously ministered to our spiritual needs, and have striven to help us forward on the way that leads to a higher and better life. During these years you have maintained the traditions of St. James and have conducted the services in a reverent and hearty manner. In the pulpit you have upheld the Bible as it has been handed down to us and have been an outspoken champion of the principles of the great reformation.

We feel thankful to our Divine Master for the fact that your pastorate has been marked by a steady and solid advance in the affairs of our parish and the position of our church. A very considerable sum of money has, during that time, been collected and expended upon material improvements in our church biuldings, and upon our now excellent Sunday school. And we may justly say that the present satisfactory and happy condition of affairs is, in a large measure, due to your faithful and unremitting devotion to the discharge of your duties as rector of our parish.

Those among us who may be suffering under pain, sickness, or sorrow, or any form of affliction in body or mind, will miss the relief and comfort your hand and your kindly visits so often used to bring them. Such considerations render your departure from us a most serious loss, and increase our regret.

But, although you are going to a field of labor far distant from our province of New Brunswick, you will not be alienated from our sympathies and our support, especially as the scene of your future labors in the great vineyard of our Lord has always been within the range of your earnest and self-sacrificing efforts to extend and invigorate the connection and fellowship of members of the Anglican church in all the borders of our wide dominion, and in all quarters of the world. And in that fellowship our church here hopes to have and to hold a greater and a still-increasing share.

As a slight token of the high esteem in which we hold you as an earnest and eloquent preacher of God's gospel to mankind, and as a true and faithful clergyman and spiritual pastor, we ask you to accept this purse, and, with it, the hearty good wishes for the welfare and success of yourself and family which we entertain and shall ever cherish. Farewell!

Dated at St. John (N. B.), this 29th day of January, A. D., 1906.

Signed by the Wardens and Vestry.

Rev. Mr. Dewdney, in replying, said it was hard for him to express his feelings by any appropriate words. It had been no easy matter for him to decide whether to leave or not, but he had felt it was God's wish, so when he received the word from the Bishop of Saskatchewan asking him to go there, he decided to do so. It was a great satisfaction to know that after twelve years of hard labor his work was not in vain. When he first came here he felt that he had the good will of the congregation and although twelve years have passed since then he believed that he had now not only their good will but could claim them all as his firm friends, and in going away to a strange land it was a comfort to know that he was leaving behind so many whom he could call friends. He paid tribute to the work of a number of the church members who had helped him so much in his labors and paid a special tribute to Mrs. Laird. He said that the church was in a good condition financially and otherwise and in closing hoped it might be his privilege to once more speak in St. James' church. He then again thanked all, for not only their presents of the evening, but for their many kindnesses in the past.

During the evening solos were sung by Eric Titus and Charles Knight; Prof. Collinson played the accompaniments.

Coffee and cake were served and the members of the congregation then shook hands in good bye with their beloved pastor and many expressions of regret at his departure were heard.

Mr. Dewdney will leave this evening by the Montreal train for Prince Albert (Sask.) His family will follow later.

THE ROOT OF NEURALGIA HEADACHE

Is an irritable condition of the nerves, caused by cold. Relief comes quickly from Nerviline, the great pain reliever of today. "I consider Nerviline a magical remedy for neuralgia," writes Mrs. E. G. Harris, of Baltimore. But I never worry if Nerviline is in the house. The prompt relief from Nerviline makes it priceless. A few applications never yet failed to kill the pains." In use nearly fifty years; try Nerviline yourself.

The committee on organization of a club for men met in the Brussels street church committee rooms last evening, and decided on a basis of organization which, with the names of officers and committees, will be submitted to a general meeting to be held next Monday evening in the school room of the church. Formal organization will then take place, and an excellent programme will also be given.

SEVENTY-EIGHT AND CAN SKATE

An Almost Octogenarion of the St. John River who Negotiates Fifty Miles in Four Hours.

Age—Seventy-eight years.
Distance—Fifty miles.
Time—About four hours.

They breed spry old gentlemen up the main river, but Samuel Wilson, who dwells at the Narrows, is among the spryest of the spry.

Monday morning he strapped on his reachers and took a few preliminary turns. The hour was 10 o'clock. Then he sped away from this city, and by 2 o'clock had arrived and soon was rapping at his nephew's door in Durham street; not too bad, this, for a man who will be eighty years of age in 1908.

He encountered not a few air holes on the way down, and several times was compelled to slash his way through water. Once he went ashore, removed his boots, and wrung water from his socks.

When he breakfasted along toward 9 o'clock, he hadn't the remotest idea of going to town. But when he finally strolled out of doors, breathed the nipping air, and looked at the gleaming river, he bethought himself of the sport that he had forsaken for some seasons.

The reachers were resurrected. They had not been sharpened, he says, for a generation, but that was a trifling drawback.

Once on the ice, he determined to bear away for St. John. A few seasons back he had suffered keenly from rheumatism; unknown dangers lurked ahead, but he bade all uncomfortable forebodings begone and laid a straight course for the mouth of the stream.

In some places he found the river practically open from shore to shore, and most of the distance he skimmed along close in to the bank. A few times the route was so rough that it became necessary for him to crawl to a smoother stretch.

By 1 o'clock he was within sight of the Kennebeccasis, and not a great while later was triumphantly removing his skates in Millidgeville. He then walked in to the home of his nephew, B. D. Black, Durham street, and after rest and refreshments, made his way to where his brother, George Wilson, resides, in Guilford street, Carleton. He will probably return home today.

A powerful gale was at his back all of the way down, and of course was largely responsible for his bird-like flight.

FISHER AND PREFERENCE

Montreal, Jan. 29.—(Special)—The Star's London correspondent cables: Hon. Sydney Fisher's MacKenzie Club speech is inexplicable here. At the colonial conference Mr. Fisher's colleagues asked for a preference for Canadian farmers. Sir Wilfrid Laurier afterwards explicitly declared for a trade treaty on a basis of preference.

A Times editorial says today: "The chief colonial movement of the day is the movement for preference, yet Mr. Fisher now asserts that Canada wants no preference."

He rejoices that the preferential policy has not been adopted by England. Such flat contradictions are apt to make a laughing-stock of Canadian statesmanship. Moreover Mr. Fisher quite wrongly diagnosed the English political situation. Pretty well every authority agrees that the election has not turned on the preference or on the rejection of a Canadian offer of a referendum.

If the one question had been, shall Great Britain and Canada adopt a mutual preference? British and Canadian ministers agree the election would unquestionably have resulted in an overwhelming yes.

Many minor factors, of course, work in a general election, but the most important factor in creating Liberal labor majorities was the Taff-Vale and other legal decisions which exposed trade union funds to penalties for damages arising out of trade union picketing and boycotting. This spelt absolute paralysis of trade unionism. Unionists failed to enact remedial legislation. The Liberals now promise it, hence the enormous turnover to the Liberals of the working class vote, usually split between the two parties. The Liberal ministry, which is largely dominated by railway interests, rich manufacturers and other capitalists, have now to prove their power to satisfy this labor demand covering as it does many socialistic proposals.

A MILLION NEEDLES

COULD NOT INFLICT THE TORTURE WOMEN SUFFER FROM HEADACHES

Headache is not in itself a disease, but a symptom or accompaniment of other diseases, principally those of the stomach, liver and bowels, such as Constipation, Dyspepsia, Liver Trouble, Bad Blood, Female Complaints, General Debility and Weakness. Headache is common to both sexes, but more frequently affects females.

The varieties of headache most common are sick or bilious headache, nervous headache, headache from constipation, debility or indigestion, periodical and spasmodic headache. Undoubtedly the cause must be removed before permanent relief can be had.

removes the cause of the headache, and not only does this but it also restores the entire system to healthy action and buoyant vigor.

"I was troubled with headache for a number of years, but could get nothing to help me. I procured a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and finding it was doing me so much good, I got two more. I am now fully cured and think there is nothing in the world like Burdock Blood Bitters for headache."

Mr. Preston, Immigration Agent for the Dominion government in London, Eng., has stated that any of the farm peasants from Northern or Middle Europe make the very best agriculturists. Farmers in New Brunswick who need labor and can accommodate a man and his family with lodging and give him the use of a few acres for his own cultivation, cannot do better than apply to Mr. Preston. He describes them as a class that remain on the land for generations, are thrifty and industrious and willing to work as farm laborers or farm hands. Applications will be gladly forwarded by the St. John board of trade or through this office.
