

THE EVENING TIMES.

ST. JOHN, N. B., FEBRUARY 13, 1905.

The St. John Evening Times is published at 79 and 21 Canterbury Street, every evening, (Sunday excepted), by the St. John Times Printing & Publishing Co. Ltd. A company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

THINK IT OVER.

If the next St. John city council should prove to be less intelligent, less experienced and less able to deal with important civic problems and the general administration of civic affairs than the present council, the fault will lie entirely with the citizens. Think it over.

SPLENDID OPPORTUNITY.

Some young men and young women in this city will receive through the instrumentality of the Times and its friends the opportunity to secure a most valuable course of instruction either on general or special lines at no cost save the effort of study.

On Page 8 of to-day's Times the story is told. The Times offers two scholarships in the International Correspondence Schools of Scranton, Pa. which have students all over the world, and which have branches in St. John and other provincial towns. Of the value of these courses nothing need be said, nor is it necessary to dwell upon the value of such an opportunity as the Times offers. Many young men and women are deterred from taking a course in some special line because they feel that they cannot afford to pay the necessary fees. Some two persons are to have these fees paid for them. Read the Times offer and get on the list, or lead a hand to some other person to whom the opportunity may mean much in the struggle for education and advancement.

THE GROWING TIMES.

The street sales of the Times have almost doubled since the first of December. At the same time, its list of regular subscribers in city and country has been increasing. The number of its advertising patrons is also growing. Naturally and necessarily, a new paper has to overcome a degree of prejudice, and in addressing its advertisers must be in a position to show them that it has such a circulation as will yield them returns for their advertisements in its columns. The Times believes that its present circulation compares favorably with that of other evening papers in St. John. It believes that its daily street sales are the largest. It believes that it is an advertising medium that is not surpassed by any evening paper in this field, and its value is steadily increasing with a growing circulation. To illustrate the last statement, the sales on Saturday, without any special news to create a demand, were the largest of any day since the Times was established. The time draws near when this paper will be established in its new quarters, with better mechanical facilities for its work. All who pass along Canterbury or Church street are able to see the new building rapidly going up. The new press is in course of construction. The business firm, therefore, which sells its daily story to prospective customers in the columns of the Times, unites itself with a growing paper, that is steadily winning new friends and widening its field of enterprise and usefulness.

TIME FOR ACTION.

This week should see some definite action to arouse a deeper interest in the people in the administration of civic affairs. United action is needed. The hap-hazard policy has been too long pursued. If there is to be any reform in civic methods, if the mayor is to be supported by a council determined to initiate reforms and able to carry them into effect; if the very large expenditures of the coming civic year are to be controlled by men who will avoid extravagance and prevent waste; if the report of the assessment commission is to be intelligently dealt with; if the extension of the water system to Loch Lomond is to be made at a minimum cost, free from expensive suits for damages; if the reform in the ferry service is to be brought about without expensive litigation—the citizens must choose a council in whose ability they have full confidence. That there is a general desire for a change in methods is patent to everybody. But so give it expression and action by business men representing all interests, large and small, organized for the purpose. The mayor must be non-political, free from personal ambition, and concerned only with the best possible administration of civic affairs.

The recent conference between President Roosevelt and Mr. Bryan may not have been the cause of the broadening views of the latter, but a healthy influence has certainly been at work. Under the heading "Democrats Should Help," Mr. Bryan said: "Do not worry about the president. 'Stealing democratic thunder.' If the democrats help to secure remedial legislation the country will enjoy the benefit and the democratic party will share in the credit. If the president accomplishes anything the corporations will try to secure a corporation man to succeed him, and that will give life to the next campaign and hope to the democratic party. If the president fails to accomplish anything, the democratic party will profit by his educational work." This is excellent advice.

The following paragraph from Friday's Montreal Witness is respectfully commended to the thoughtful attention of the street department of St. John:

Six and a half inches of snow fell in the twenty-four hours ending at 11 o'clock to-day, and five and a half inches in the preceding twenty-four hours. This makes 109.3 inches of snow for Montreal's share this season to date—a fraction over nine feet on the level. The road department yesterday put nearly a thousand carters to work, besides five hundred shovellers, and the same number ordered out to-day. The city surveyor stated today that he was receiving very few complaints about the snow, and he considered they were being kept in very good condition. Now that the snow removal gangs were organized, there was not much difficulty in handling an ordinary storm. Although a great quantity of snow had fallen in Montreal this season, there had been no serious blockades yet.

Reference was made in the Times recently to the fact that Mr. Comerford, a member of the Illinois legislature, was to be called on to answer for sensational charges of bribery made by him against other members of the house. An enquiry was held, and a resolution for his expulsion from the house was adopted last week, by a vote of 121 to 13. In his defence Mr. Comerford reviewed the course of the investigating committee and refused to retract his charges. Among other things he said the committee had no limitation on the scope of the investigation that "God Almighty Himself, if He came here, would have been prevented from getting evidence against a self-accused chief."

In connection with prize stories, the following remark by the Baltimore Sun will strike a responsive chord in the hearts of many readers:—"Those who have read the prize stories in the Boston magazines will not be surprised to know that the best one was written by a crazy woman in Minnesota."

Another leading conservative has declared himself in favor of national ports. In parliament last week, Mr. F. D. Monk said that "the favored recognition of Montreal, Quebec, St. John and Halifax as national ports, and equipping them from the public purse to meet the growing trade of the country."

In Detroit last week a coroner's jury, after hearing testimony regarding the death of a six-year-old boy of diphtheria, returned a verdict blaming the parents of the child, for not having summoned competent medical assistance, instead of relying solely upon Christian Science.

This testimony touching the growth of the independent spirit in Canadian politics is borne by the Toronto Globe—"Quebec has a cabinet crisis on its hands, and it shows that the ties of party are weakening while the individualist impulse is growing stronger."

A Sanitarium Association has been formed in Peterborough, Ont. It has in view the erection of a sanitarium for consumptives on a farm near the town. When will the people of New Brunswick move in this matter?

The Kansas house of representatives has passed a bill permitting women to vote for presidential electors.

"Children," said a Sunday school teacher to her class, "God gave us something that he did not give the lower animals. Who can tell what it was?" A little boy who had been exhibiting a cut finger, rose to reply, "Please teacher," he said, "God gave us blood, but he only gave the animals a little dish gravy."

MR. EVILLE LEAVES.

Leader of The York Theatre Orchestra Seeks a Larger Field For His Talents.

One of the passengers on the 6.10 train Saturday, night for New York, was the popular leader of the York Theatre orchestra, Mr. Vernon M. Eville, who goes to seek larger fields for his musical abilities. The loss to the musical circles in St. John will be felt greatly. To show their appreciation of his ability and the good fellowship which existed between them, the members of his orchestra presented him with a handsome gold ring.

While the loss will be keenly felt by the orchestra, these enterprising musicians will endeavor to keep up the reputation which they have already gained in orchestral work. The services of a competent pianist will be immediately secured. In the meantime anyone wishing the services of the orchestra will kindly communicate with Fred S. Jones.

IN A BAD WAY.

Branch Railways Tied Up Hard and Fast by Recent Storms—Mail Services Demoralized.

The train service on the branch lines is certainly in a bad fix. In some districts, since last Saturday, eight inches of snow have fallen on the level and the hurricane that prevailed last night and today piled the snow into the cuttings filling them up.

A postal official today in conversation with a Times reporter said that the situation is critical and with the rain of today, if cold weather should set in, the tie-up will be even more serious.

The high-rails are now blocked up worse than ever and it will take sometime to shovel them out. In consequence of the latest storm developments, the mail service will be further handicapped.

WOOD FAMINE IN KENTVILLE

Caused by the Great Depth of Snow in That District.

NEWS FROM INDIA.

Kentville Man Gets Good Position in Australia—A Wedding—Games of Hockey—Interesting Personal Notes.

Miss Lillian Bishop of Wolfville, who has been for some years a missionary in India, has lately written to her friends concerning the great drought which is causing a famine there. Whole fields of grain are dying for want of water, and the price of cereals is already doubling of what it was last year.

Messrs. Illsley and Hawkey, who have for some years conducted a grocery business in Wolfville, have decided to close their store there. The place will be occupied by C. W. Strong.

The depth of snow in the woods is so great that in some cases the lumbermen have been obliged to suspend operations. As a consequence, many people who were not successful in getting wood early in the season are suffering greatly. Not a load has come into Kentville for two weeks, and the wood from the store yards is selling at five dollars per cord.

Last week, a group of commercial travellers who were staying in Wolfville played an interesting game of hockey with the Wolfville boys. No score was made, but the game furnished much amusement both to the participants and onlookers.

F. J. A. McKelrick, of Kentville, is the public meeting in regard to civic matters tomorrow evening, in the hall at Breeze's Corner.

The meeting is to be wholly non-partisan. The purpose is to take measures to change the present system of electing aldermen, and to substitute a system whereby the city would be divided into five civil election districts. Other civic questions will come up. All taxpayers are cordially invited to be present. It is regarded as highly desirable that the meeting be representative and large.

The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock and take a half.
