Edward Lavine of 26th Killed In Action Nov. 20

Word Comes From Ottawa to Home in Pond Street--Leaves Wife and Four Young Children

Under particularly sad circumstances the death of another member of the 26th Battalion, Pte. Edward Lavine, was officially reported today, the news came as a severe shock to his wife and parents at their home 26 Pond street. A telegram from Ottawa bearing the sad word said that he had been killed in action on November 20. Only on Saturday his wife received a letter from him dated November 18 in which he spoke of being in good health, and said he had come through safe so far. Two days after that he met his death.

His wife was almost heartbroken this morning as she thought of the loss of her husband and the father of their four little children, the eldest only nine, the youngest a child of two years. There had been another baby but death had taken it a few months ago. Besides these, Pte. Lavine is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lavine, one brother, George, with the 104th Battalion in Sussex. He formerly belonged to Bathurst but had lived in St. John for some time, and was a former member of the 26th. He joined the 26th Battalion on November 26 last year. Friends will sympathize with the bereaved family in their loss.

MAJOR BROWN IS GETTING ALONG WELL

Letter From Wife to Friend in St. John—Three Pieces of Shrapnel Taken From Foot

Miss Martin of the Public Library has received a letter from Mrs. Brown, wife of Major Brown of the 26th, written from London, Nov. 19, Mrs. Brown says:

"I am pleased to tell you his poor foot is going on beautifully and he can manage without his crutches now. It was a bad flesh wound, three fair-sized pieces of shrapnel were taken out. He was in hospital in France (a beautiful place run by an American lady) eleven days, then brought to England and was in a hospital near London Bridge (Fishmongers' Guild Hospital). He came from France with one boot, no hat or other clothes, and that boot was for his bad foot. It is wonderful how they treat him. He says 'just like clockwork.' Now he is at a 'home for officers' at Birchington-on-Sea, North Margate, Lord Decie's place, but I am expecting him here any day now; he is real well in himself and most anxious to join his regiment, but it is his—over there they say.

It was fearful hard to really have him go, but everybody is left now. My sister did not know for weeks where her husband was, then she got a field post card to say he was in Egypt, moving lots of troops from France there.

The 'shirkers' here are being made to give an account of themselves and will all eventually have to do their bit. Christmas will soon be here; one does not feel like preparing still children's times too much. Many know and feel it like grown-ups, alas.

HOME AGAIN TOUCHED BY HAND OF DEATH

Miss Ethel B. Seely Dead in Carleton—Brother Gave Life in War

Many friends will mourn the death of Miss Ethel B. Seely, of West St. John, who had been ill but three weeks. Miss Seely was a member of the staff of T. H. Estabrooks. She was a graduate in music of McGill, and was organist of Carleton Presbyterian church. She had formerly been organist of Main street Baptist church for two years, and was a very clever musician. Her brother, Reuben V. Seely, was one of the first men of the Carleton Presbyterian church to go to the front, and was shot by a German sniper on May 22 last. Miss Seely is survived by her mother and one sister, who will have the deepest sympathy of the citizens in their second great bereavement within a year.

The funeral will take place from her late home, 142 King street, west, tomorrow afternoon, with service at the church.
