COL. FREYBURG HANDICAPPED BY WAR WOUNDS

Tide Turns And Carries
Him Out To Sea
Again

17 HOURS FIGHT
V. C. Winner Left French Coast
at 8.25 Last Night; Water
Was Cold

LONDON, Aug. 5.—Lieut.-Colonel Bernard C. Freyburg, V. C., lost by a short half-mile today in his attempt to swim the English Channel. After battling the treacherous tides and currents of the channel for approximately 17 hours, during which at one time he was only 500 yards from the English coast, he abandoned the attempt, which began at Cap Gris Nez at 8.25 o'clock last night. The tide had turned and carried him out to sea again. The pilot accompanying him in the tug told the swimmer that it would be four hours before another change would again enable him to approach the shore.

WATER COLD.
Freyburg decided that because of the low temperature of the water, and the improbability that he could last for four more hours, he would abandon the attempt.

Colonel Freyburg was handicapped by the effects of numerous wounds received in the world war. He served in the British forces throughout the war, including the Dardanelles campaign, and held the rank of Brigadier-General at the close of the conflict.

He was wounded nine times, mentioned in despatches six times, and besides the Victoria Cross, won the D. S. O., with two bars. He is 35 years of age. At seventeen he was champion long distance swimmer of New Zealand, where he was educated. During the Gallipoli campaign, he swam from a British destroyer four miles to the shore and lit flares which facilitated landing operations of the British forces.
