Teday's lessen deals principally with the making of the little coat, because it may be made in any favored material and worn separately. To cut it, the pieces with the triple "TTT" perforations are laid on a lengthwise fold of the goods and the remaining pieces with line of large "O" perforations on a lengthwise thread of the material. Now, for the making. Pleat lower edge of the front, placing "T" on small "o" perforations and tack. Center-front indicated by double "oo" perforations. Jein front and back sections as notched. Slash back on lines of three small "ooo" perforations; finish edges for openings to pass pleated rib-ben through, tie in front. Adjust collar to position underneath frent and stitch along single small "o" perforations, bringing single large "O" and deuble small "o" perferations in collar and in front together; tack extension at upper edge of back to posi-tion, notches even. Close sleeve and cuff seams as notched, sew cuff to sleeve, notches and seams even. Sew in armhole as notched.

The skirt is high waisted and finished with a wide girdle of soft satin, which is fastened at the front.
