$10,000 FOR FOUR FINGERS.

Child Gets Damages From Butcher For Mutilation by Chopper.

White Plains, N. Y., March 19.—For the loss of four fingers on her right hand, which she caught in a meat chopper, Rose Longobardi, eight years of age, obtained a verdict of $10,000 against Anthony Parisi, a butcher of Tuckahoe, from a jury presided over by Justice Morschauer.

The child, in company with her mother, Mrs. Frances Longobardi, a widow, visited the shop on May 8, 1920. The defendant placed meat in the chopper and left it unguarded with the little girl standing by the machine. The girl started to push the meat through when her hand caught in the machine. The mother of the girl also received $5,000 damages for the loss of her daughter's services.

RECENT DEATHS

Mrs. George Henderson.

One of the oldest residents of Rotherham, Mrs. Martha Ann Henderson, widow of George Henderson, passed away at her residence on Saturday after an illness of one year and five months. Mrs. Henderson was in the eighty-ninth year of her age and had lived at Rotherham for the last fifty-eight years. Mrs. Henderson was held in warm regard by all who knew her and many will mourn her death with sincere regret. She is survived by two sons, James and Joseph H., both of Rotherham, and one granddaughter. The

Magnificence Overblouses Pops In and Out Daily

Just like the Suits, they're here today and gone tomorrow so catching is their idea—there simply is magnificence in the 1923 Overblouses, but you must look while you may.

This one, now, in Pongee tinted Crepe de Chine—the reign of the Paisleys was well in the mind of the designer who planned an all-over stitch in brilliant colors down the front, the back panel, the waist and flared cuffs. $13.75

A heavy Navy Crepe de Chine with iridescent bugle and pin-head steel beads on front, waist and cuffs—round neck, tied, $12.75. Many Satins, and the Crepe de Chine Blouses from $5.75, in 1923 colorings—Mohawk, Toast, Tangerine, Grey and Copen, Sand, Navy and Black.

Pongees at $3.25, with Peter Pan Collars, long or short sleeves, many tuckings and Last edging.

Real Porto Rico Batistes with Filet and hemstitch trim, Tuxedo collar and turn-back cuff—sizes 36 to 46—Blouses usually at $5.75 and higher—here $3.65.

Flannel Navy Middies with White braiding and buttoned cuff, $4.75.

New Quirks in Billie Burkes

Out they come with flying panels, straight lines and sash belts that waists high or low. One sort has an all-over Hamburg trim on the collars that tie with velvet ribbon, on the cuffs again and in diamond points on the panels. All Billie Burkes are clearly stamped and these are worth $6.45, in Mauve, Sky, Maize and Black. Or you have them in boaty colors, Organdy insertions, Pearl buttons and Lace edging.

$5.95 also gives two wide choices, with Tuxedo collars, Organdy set-in vests and same cuffs and pockets piped in contrasting tints. Self sash girdles. Second, Chambrays with Peter Pan collars, cuffs, vestees and flounces of Gingham Checks, Green, Blue Mauve.

Notice how unexpectedly lower the prices are!

Spring Glorifies the Entire Store

Fashion Exposition

March 20th and 21st

Old styles are dead. Now live the new! Styles that have caught the secret of entire apparel charm—for in them is color—the intriguing interest of many new, clever and beautiful fabrics—the harmony of skilfully united fabric, color and type—and lines that are the perfected expression of the world's great designers.

The store cordially invites you to view new modes here.

Blouses

In New Spring Modes

Some exceedingly smart crepe Overblouses are made in combination with lace; or are brightened here and there by touches of embroidery in rich, oriental colorings. Costume blouses are showing in patterned silk of Persian influence and are most attractive. Hand made blouses are developed in finest volles—and other varieties are equally engaging.

New Frocks Are Buoyantly Springlike

Attractive frocks these new spring modes—each one selected by us for its individuality and charm. Here are effective printed silk frocks—street styles of twill or homespun; stylishly braided or brightened by touches of oriental influence—flat crepes, Cantons and silk Eponge of luxurious weaves and colors—as well as, Voiles and the more summery fabrics to be used later. Hand Craft is used for decorating many of the smartest models. By choosing a frock or two now you will benefit by the advantage of large assortments.

Three-Piece Suits Are Ultra Fashionable

And they're practical, too. You are bound to like these smartly fashioned three-piece suits composed of skirt, blouse and loose hanging box coat or trim Jaquette. Many of the newest models are cleverly braided trimmed and are developed in Poiret twills or fine Tricotines. Blouse is usually of patterned silk in shade to match or harmonize with lining of coat. For those who prefer two-piece suits our stocks will provide ample selection.

Spring Coats Are in Many Cases Dressy

Just the sort of garments you will like for throwing over a summer dress or for dressy street wear. Latest models are fashioned along the loose wrappy lines, sometimes bloused in the back, other times hanging straight to the hem. Poiret Twills, Cut Velours and Veldynes are being strongly featured and are often trimmed with material of striking contrast. For sports and business wear you will find here a nice selection of practical, good-looking Homespuns in tailored and semi-tailored styles.

GLOVES

Gauntlet styles in shades of grey, light tan and brown are spring's favorites and may be found here in Cape, Suede and various washable fabrics. Fancy cuffs and inserts of contrasting material are new court anders and hand stitched seams are not to be overlooked. We have all sizes.

HANDKERCHIEFS

You'll find some here that will more than make up for your losses. Plain linens with one or two rows of hemstitching; linens with embroidered corners; dainty lace edged affairs—and pretty colored ones to use with summer dresses. Some very sheer handkerchiefs in oriental patterned chiffon are exceedingly attractive.

NECKWEAR

The gay "Deauville" Scarf (or bandana Neckkerchief) is one of the most striking features of our neckwear section this season. Lace, organdy and linen sets, vestees and collars are also not to be overlooked. You'll find many novelties here that will lead a fresh note much to be admired.

HOSIERY

For first of the season wear you could find nothing more appropriate than some of the heaviest and silk and wool mixtures we are featuring now. For dressy occasions, and for use later on, you'll find a fine variety of plain and clocked silks in all wanted colors for afternoon and evening uses.

HANDBAGS

A swagger little leather bag or purse will help a lot in the general scheme of attire. You may choose one from an assortment of smart shapes and colors. Many of them are fitted with such little necessities as vanity mirrors, hair pin holder, powder box, etc. Fabric bags are showing, too, and are very good looking.

MILLINERY

A varied multitude of new millinery modes challenges attention here. There are plumed pokes, demure cloches, trim toques, graceful broad brimmed affairs—turbans—mushroom shapes—and saillors in many variations. Oriental color combinations and such new shades as clover, almond green, cinder and hazy blue are prominent.

Of Oriental Influence

Are Many of Our Spring Displays

You will find it reflected in Egyptian patterned jewelry; brightly colored costume jewelry; Cretones and Shadow Taffetas; frocks and suits with oriental trimmings—and other ways too numerous to mention. You'll like it, too.

New Fabrics

Possibly among the most notable are: Camel's Hair, shaggy material in stripes, blocks and plain weave. Flat Crepe, dull, lustreless silk crepe. Eponge, a ratine like fabric showing in cotton, silk or wool. Poiret Twill, a finely ribbed material similar to tricotine, and we'll be pleased to show you others.

New Colors

Shades with names that in themselves are eloquent. Clover, reddish lavender. Topaz, a range of lovely orange yellows. Cinder, light grey. Rubisat, oriental red. Almond, green with a resida note. In millinery and ready-to-wear these shades are especially prominent.

Finds He Is Dead When He Gets Home

Buffalo Man Also Discovers Wife Has Sold His Estate.

Buffalo, March 19.—A short stocky man, with a western sombrero pulled over his tanned face, walked into the Surrogate Court here and announced that he was not dead, as his wife had reported thirteen years ago. The missing man was Bartholemew Gahagan. His wife, Mrs. Cecilia Gahagan, according to records, in 1910, obtained a court pronouncement that her husband was legally dead, and that he, as executrix of his estate, could dispose even of his present holdings. He was advised to see a lawyer without delay, as, in the eyes of the law, he was legally dead, and that his wife, as executrix of his estate, could dispose even of his present holdings.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY IN MONTREAL

Montreal, March 19.—It was estimated by Captain T. Kavanagh, chief Marshal, that between seven and eight thousand people took part in the St. Patrick's Day procession here on Saturday. Eighteen units from Irish associations and parishes in the city joined in the parade which was welcomed to St. Gabriel's Church by the parish priest, Canon James S. McElroy. He blessed a new picture of 'St. Patrick going to Tara.' Rev. James French, of Notre Dame, Iowa, preached the sermon.

STILLMAN SAVES A BILL.

Counsel for Wife Agree to Waive Printing of Banker's Appeal.

White Plains, March 19.—Supreme Court Justice Morschauer has signed an order confirming a stipulation by counsel in the Stillman case waiving printing of James A. Stillman's appeal against his wife's victory and against court orders allowing her $90,000 a year alimony pending the determination of the appeals. The order was filed in the office of the Putnam County Clerk at Carmel. The stipulation was sought by counsel for Mr. Stillman in order to avoid the cost of printing the many documents in the case. John F. Brennan, chief attorney for Mrs. Stillman, and John E. Mack, of Poughkeepsie, guardian ad litem for Guy Stillman, readily agreed and an order to show cause was obtained from Supreme Court Justice George H. Taylor, Jr., who made it returnable before Justice Morschauer.

MASCAGNI INSISTS ON DUEL.

Composer Refuses Reconciliation With Mocchi, the Impresario

Rome, March 19.—Pietro Mascagni, the composer, resisted efforts of friends to bring about a reconciliation with Walter Mocchi, with whom he came to blows at a music congress held in the Lyric Theatre yesterday. Mascagni insists that Mocchi meet him on the field of honor. In the argument which preceded their blows yesterday Mascagni accused Mocchi of a lack of patriotism in that he had promoted German music in South America. Mocchi, who was Mascagni's impresario during the composer's last tour of Brazil, called into question Mascagni's ability as an orchestral director and proposed that the music congress from a jury of honor to deal with the dispute.

HEARING OF $125,000 LEGACY. R. R. FLAGMAN QITS HIS JOB

Nyack, N. Y., March 19.—Fred Higgins, Erie flagman at Nanuet, dropped his flag and said, "I'm a rich man at last," when he received a telegram announcing that his late brother, John, had left him $125,000 in St. Louis. Higgins, who is sixty-nine years old, is now on his way to St. Louis to claim his fortune. John was a New York City lawyer, later going west. Fred went south with the Robins every winter and came back every spring, working usually at trucking. "I'll never work again," he told a friend as he boarded the train for Missouri.

$2,000 BONUS FOR RUETHER IF HE WINS TWENTY GAMES

Clearwater, Fla., March 19.—It was learned here that Dutch Ruether has not signed his contract, but is expected to attach his signature to the one President Ebbets has ready for him. The document is said to call for a flat salary of $8,000 with two clauses. Ruether is to receive an additional $1,000 if he wins fifteen games and another bonus of $1,000 if he turns in twenty victories during the season.
