

ST-LAURENT COLLEGE

(NEAR MONTREAL.)

PROSPECTUS.

This Institution was founded by the Rev. Fathers of the Congregation of the Holy Cross in 1847, and incorporated by act of Parliament in 1849. It combines the advantages of a christian education with those of a thorough commercial and classical course; as is fully testified by the positions now occupied by its Alumni and the continued patronage of the public in general.

OBJECT AND DIVISION OF THE COURSE.

Preparatory Course.

This course serves alike as a preparation for the commercial and classical courses. It is composed exclusively of pupils between the ages of five and eleven. A special house (Our Lady, Côtedes-Neiges) is set apart for their reception, furnishing an excellent opportunity for the particular advancement of young children, while it facilitates, at the same time, the means of bestowing on them that necessary attention which their age requires.

Commercial Course.

It is the superiority of this course which has always distinguished the College of St-Laurent, and placed it in the foremost rank amongst the commercial institutions of the country. It embraces all branches of science included in a complete theoretical and practical commercial education. Diplomas will be delivered to those who pass a satisfactory examination on all branches connected with practical commerce. This course embraces five years.
