

DYKEMAN'S.

We Have Left the Fog And Bad Weather Behind

AND NOW WE CAN REASONABLY LOOK FORWARD TO WEEKS OF SUMMER WEATHER, consequently you will want summer clothing. Here is an opportunity to satisfy that want.

SHIRT WAISTS GALORE. They are not stocks that have been carried over, because this has been one of the liveliest shirt waist seasons that we have ever experienced. The five hundred waists now on sale are a recent purchase from a manufacturer at about half their regular price. Nearly all of the lot are in white—only about one hundred of them being colored. The white waists run in price from 50c. up to $2.00 each. We mention just a few numbers to give you an idea of the values. Here is a handsome medallion trimmed waist made from fine lawn, worth $1.50, now 75c.

ANOTHER SPECIAL LEADING LINE is one with heavy tucks and 6 rows of fine embroidery in the front. The sleeves and back are prettily tucked. The original price was $3.00, sale price $1.45.

$1.50 waists for $2.00, very handsomely trimmed with wide embroidery in such a manner as to give it the wide shoulder effect, made from the finest lawns.

COLORED WAISTS. Organdie muslin waists that were 75c., will be sold at 50c. each. Pretty printed corded cambric waists at 60c.—those that were priced 85c. and 90c.

A RUMMAGE SALE IN THE LADIES' DEPARTMENT. In looking over the stocks to find odds and ends, so that there may not be an accumulation of small lots we find a lot of goods that ought to be cleaned out, right now, and they are at prices that will induce you to buy them.

LADIES' NIGHT DRESSES. A small lot of about 25 gowns priced from 40c. up to $1.00. Everyone of them is made from good cotton and prettily trimmed with hampburg. The reason they are sold at these low prices is they are odd numbers.

CHILDREN'S NIGHT DRESSES. A lot that are worth $1.00 will be cleared out at 50c. each. They are suitable for children from 6 to 10 years.

LADIES' WHITE UNDERSKIRTS. Three very special prices, 50c. for a skirt with a wide muslin flounce with three rows of tucking and hemstitching. 75c. for a handsome hampburg trimmed skirt that is worth $1.00. $1.00 for a skirt with lace trimming on a wide flounce and is made from fine English cotton worth $1.35.

A FEW SAMPLES OF LADIES' WHITE UNDERSKIRTS. $1.00 underskirt for 80c., $1.50 underskirt for 90c., $2.50 underskirt for $3.50.

WHITE PIQUE AND LINEN COATS FOR CHILDREN. Slightly rumpled, but the difference between the regular price and the present price will make up for this. Handsome pique coats, embroidery trimmed, regular price $2.00, present price $1.15. $2.50 pique coats with very handsome fine embroidery at $1.75. $3.00 coats made from white pique and very pretty trimmed, $1.95. Linen coats at $1.55 and $2.30.

CHILDREN'S WHITE COTTON DRESSES. A manufacturer's set of samples; $1.25 dresses for 75c., $1.50 dresses $1.00, $2.00 dresses are priced $1.35, and so on through the whole lot.

CHILDREN'S PINAPORES from 25c. to 75c. These are also manufacturer's samples.

LEG BROKEN, BUT ONLY CARED FOR DOLLY. Unusual Courage is Displayed by Little Girl of Five Years.

(New York Herald.) Anne Helts, five years old, whose home is at No. 338 East Fourth street, displayed remarkable self-control when her leg was broken last night, and showed more concern for the welfare of her doll than for her own injuries.

Crossing avenue C at Fourth street with several other children about her own age, Anne found that she had left her doll on the steps where she had been playing a few minutes before and started back to get it. At that moment a heavy truck loaded with hay came down the street and before the driver could stop or turn his horses the child fell under the wheels and her right leg was crushed.

Dr. Parve was summoned from Bellevue Hospital, but when he arrived she child refused to allow him to attend her until he had her "dolly" and "mended its legs or arms if they were broken." During the trip to the hospital in the ambulance she was not whimper, but held her doll tightly in her arms and chatted with the ambulance surgeon. Nor did she give any trouble when placed on the operating table, but did everything as she was told. The leg was set, but the physicians at the hospital fear that an amputation will be necessary.

LOST CHILDREN IN ST. JOHN

Never Was a Case of Kidnapping Here.

The Youngsters Always Turn Up Safe and Happy Though They Have Quiser Adventures.

The sensation caused the other day by the disappearance of the two-year-old child of Long wharf, suggested the question. Has there ever been a case of kidnapping in this city? A reporter put this question to several city officials and members of the police force and all were positive that such a thing had never occurred here. Scott Hipwell, one of the oldest men on the police force says such a thing was never thought of. Many a tearful mother and excited father have come to him, enquiring about their missing ones, but in every case, the sergeant says, the lost children have turned up all right; perhaps with faces dirty and frocks torn but always happy.

The distance children will travel is remarkable. One winter's night, only a few years ago the police were notified that two children whose parents resided on Douglas avenue were missing and all the officers were notified to look out for them. Shortly after the alarm was sent out the little tots were found huddled close together in a sheltered spot on the Ballast wharf. How they got there no one knows.

It is frequently the case that police officers find children lost who are unable to tell their own name. In these cases the child is taken to the central station and it frequently happens that when the almost frantic parent arrives on the scene the little one is either sleeping peacefully or thoroughly enjoying itself playing with something one of the officers has given it.

It was but a day or two ago that people on Carmarthen street saw a sight that could not help but bring a smile to their faces. Slowly walking up the street toward the central station was Sergt. George Baxter, if anyone looking happier than usual, while seated on his massive shoulder was a little tot of two or three years.

It was not till the sergeant was a few feet away that he saw the child, but was perfectly happy. The little one had been found on Duke street, Halifax Mail.
