(Special Cor. of the Sun.) TTAWA, June 9 .- The impotence of the Laurier government is revealed in all its grandeur, now that the administration has been called upon to de-clare a fixed policy towards the iron clare a fixed policy towards the iron and steel industries of the country. The galaxy of business men who are conducting our affairs have shown themselves not only unable to cope with the conditions now existing, but they have displayed a lack of coursge which cannot but lose to them the confidence of commercial circles. Dur-ing the past week we have seen the whole iron and steel industry threatwhole iron and steel industry threat-ened with ruin, and witnessed the hu-miliating spectacle of men who have invested millions in developing the re-sources of this country, being forced to go to Ottawa and almost has the go to Ottawa and almost beg the government to grant relief, which meant employment to thousands of men. The very existence of whole men. The very existence of whole communities depends upon the proper-protection of the iron and steel trade, yet the government was unable to de-cide what its course would be, without first running about the country in the ope of securing some pretext which its duty.

The lack of firmness on the part of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his ministers urnishes another example of the undesirable feature of a free trade-protection policy. When the cabinet met yesterday to discuss the situation, the free trade section of the leaders strongly objected to anything being done in the way of giving assistance to iron and steel. One minister went so far as to denounce the development of the steel and iron industries at Sydney as a mere stock exchange venture. On the other hand, another element in the government wanted the tariff re-vised, and the industries of Cape Breand Ontario safeguarded. Still another knot of statesmen were oped to either proposition, and they favor restoring the iron and steel bounties to the original amount and the abolition of the sliding scale. How-ever, it is generally conceded that such measure of encouragement will not e sufficient in the face of the greater nufactures by other countries. The vernment is looking for information huff at granting protection, at the ame time leaving to itself the excuse hat the tariff has not been revised and protection thereby increased. Hon. R. L. Borden, the leader of the opposition, during all this time has been compelled to sit by idly and al-ow his resolution favoring the protec-tion of the whole iron and steel trade to stand. On June 4th Mr. Flelding, who was leading the house, asked Mr. Borden to refrain from passing his motion, and the request was complied with, on the understanding the motion would come up yesterday. Yesterday would come up yesterday. Yesterday the government brought on every gov-ernment bill that could be properly considered so as to avoid the necessity of moving the house into committee of supply. Bills that had been printed in French, and therefore, could not be considered had objection been taken by the ouncefilm were presed end ally . by the opposition, were pressed and althe teri ym obt lowed to receive consideration. Mr. Blair, too, was on hand with his railway commission bill, in the event of Hon. Sydney Fisher failing to fill in the time, and so Mr. Borden was again delayed. Today the same tactics will be resumed, and thus the business cabinet hope to gain time in order to collect their business ideas. But the men of the country and the workmen who are dependent upon adequate protection being extended to iron and steel will not be deceived and humbugged by the course Sir Wilfrid Lau-rier has chosen for himself on this oc-casion. It is a matter of bread and butter to thousands and millons of dollars to many. Under such circum-stances the administration has been forced into a position such as it has have commissed since it some into never occupied since it came into power. It must declare its policy, and t policy must be satisfactory to the country, and it must also give assur-ance to the public that the iron and steel episode will not be repeated at too quent intervals. Yesterday Sir Richard Cartwright, the apostle of free trade, was in Montendeavoring to arrange terms with the iron and steel magnates. Later in a day Hon. William Paterson and m. W. S. Fielding hurriedly left the pital for Montreal to endeavor to arrange a compromise. The tables had last turned. Instead of those in-sted in the great industry throwg themselves at the feet of the min-ters asking for consideration, we ad the great minds of the liberal rty obsequiously casting themselves the mercy of those whom, in 1896, by vowed to destroy. What a pic-this is to find Sir Richard Carttht and Hon. W. S. Fielding, who s to have throws of the lot in the result of the manufactureers of the ind in the result of the res re to have thrown open our mar-ts to the manufactureers of the adverse public criticism which is pidly floating towards men without ence this liberal party has clearly shown The Hoeral party has clearly shown self to be out of sympathy with pub-opinion of today. By pulling the trade wire today and the protec-in wire tomorrow, it has for seven are managed to get along in a rather ppy way. But how that the first the of business depression have ap-ared on the commercial horizon, here are vastly different, and the foons who took to themselves so ins who took to themselves so I credit for the prosperity of the try are found lacking in the very entary qualifications which enable to meet and grapple with large tions. It is now stated that the jurors, who are farm-ers, and witnesses could not be found when detachments of troops were trying to bring them into court. The burning of Ewenic property set down and worshipped it so fervently that they believed it to be a thing o that they believed it is a life. Col. Capt. B. J. Ewen was the chief witto inter imperial trade was that three-quarters of England's trade would be given up for the benefit of one-quarters This result, however, was reached by adding together imports and exports and calling that result prosperity. In illustration, the speaker asked if any private company would add together its assets and liabilities in order to get its financial standing. If required no great ability to buy, the secret of trade was to get sales, but the English peo-ple thought that if they were buying large quantities of goods and thus throwing their own people out of work they were doing splendidly. Mr. Cham-berlain might not succeed just at pres-ent, but his campaign of education would work wonders, and the speak-er was hopeful that within two years the result so ardently desired by every patriot would be assured. The speech of Col. Denison was en-tured they be the speak ness for the prosecution in the trigis of Curtis Jett and Tom White.
