Shriners End Convention with a Ball—Meet Next Year at Atlanta, Ga. — Denver to have Commission Gov't.

NEXT MEETING AT ATLANTA.

Dallas, May 14.—What had been a custom was broken on Wednesday when the Imperial Council, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, voted for two nominees to the highest office of the order, electing W. W. Irwin of Wheeling, W. Va., Imperial potentate. It had been the practice to advance each officer one step in rank, and the highest should have gone without contest to Deputy Imperial Potentate Irwin. However, John Boyle, of Utica, N. Y., was nominated, although he received only eighty votes against 347 for Irwin. Atlanta, Ga., was chosen for the 1914 convention city. The Imperial Council granted a dispensation to the Mobile, Ala., temple and charter to Montgomery, Ala. The convention was concluded Wednesday night with an elaborate ball.

Russia took the Northern territory, bordering Russia soil; England took the Southern. English soldiers will pilot all the trade routes along the Persian Gulf. About 200 feet of the sewer connection on Douglas avenue, as far as the railway tracks, has already been laid and the work on the Adelaide Road extension is also progressing at a satisfactory rate. About 200 feet of the trench in which both water and sewer pipes will be laid, is already opened.
