INTERESTING LETTERS FROM OUR STAFF OF CORRESPONDENTS.

FRONT OF YONGE.

MONDAY, Nov. 17.—The chert-factories in this vicinity are nearly all closed out and ready for another season.

The steer of Plum Hollow is still raising old Sammel from the dead. We lived two seasons in his neighbor-hood, and never during our stay did we ever hear his heroic exploit.

We had no faith in such necromancing, and always imagined that it should not be commended in a christian community.

Mr. Robert Ferguson who has been manufacturing cheese near Quebec has returned to his home in Caintown.

L. T. Kane has moved to Junetown on the property of Mr. Zachous Purvis of said place.

Mr. Joseph Mallory of Keocot is doing a good trade in ball heads on the James Creek.

Our sporting boys have great success in killing the poor squirrel.

Mr. Hugh is now spending his time in Caintown making his home at the residence of Mrs. Hoggaboom.

Turkey raffles hold the boards in this quarter.

Bill McKinley is the moving cause, as the market will surely be effected by said bill.

WESTPORT.

SATURDAY NOV. 8.—Our tonsorial artist, Mr. Wm. Rudge, claims and justly so, to have the finest collection of perfumes, cosmetics, hair dressing lay run etc., to be found in the county. By his strict attention to business and his pleasing jovial manner, Billy has endeavored himself to all.

While the social was in progress at the residence of Mr. Clas. English on Tuesday evening the grim monster death appeared on the scene and took as his prey Mr. Chas. McKevitt, with moments warning. Mr. McKevitt it seems has been subject to attacks of the heart and while singing was attacked by his old enemy and in a few minutes was cold in death. Mr. McKevitt had only been in town for about 3 weeks. His wife whose home is in Rhode Island was notified and the remains were placed in the vault pending a reply from Mrs. McKevitt.

The Westport stove factory expects to be ready for business by the 1st of the New Year.

The friends of the English church engaged the Rev. Mr. Norrie as pastor.

A post office official paid our lady a visit on Wednesday to make inquiries regarding a letter sent by Mr. McCann of this place to Brockville which by some means had become about $10 lighter during its trip from Mr. McCann's shop to Brockville.

Mr. C. Deroche and daughter, wife of the general reporter of the Westport Journal visited our burg on Saturday and Sunday of last week and were highly pleased with Westport and its surroundings.

Rev. Mr. Campbell of Oliver's Ferry conducted services in the Presbyterian church on Thursday evening. A large number attended and were highly pleased with Mr. Campbell's discourse.

SATURDAY, Nov. 15.—The barn and contents belonging to Mrs. McCann and leased by Mr. Jno Martin were burned on Nov. 10th.

Rev. Mr. Hart is conducting special services in the Baptist church.

Messrs. Geo. Gorral and M. Kearney are trying the Civil Service Exam. the former at Ottawa and the latter at Kingston "Success Boys."

The friends of the Presbyterian church, intend holding a grand tea-meeting and concert on the 21st a good time is expected.

Our harness maker Mr. Phillips has returned to North Augusta.

The members of the Ladies' Aid association in connection with the Methodist church intend holding a grand Picnic in the town hall on the evening of Friday 28th. All are welcome.

McINTOSH MILLS.

THURSDAY, Nov. 18.—We are informed that there is going to be a Christmas tree in this place. Last Tuesday evening, there was a meeting held in the school house for the purpose of choosing a committee for arrangement all matters.

Mr. John Leader and Francis Fortune are doing good business in their store.

Mr. Malloy & the Greens are doing good work in the grating business. Mr. Malloy tells us that in a short time he shall be able to turn out first class work.

Mr. Ira M. Malloy general manager of the sawing mill is turning out large quantities of dry measures and cheese boxes. He has in his employment a large staff of men.

Mr. J. and Bill Malloy has taken the contract of breaking a large quantity of stone for Mr. J. J. McIntosh upon the road here.

Last Tuesday evening there was quite a lively time at Mr. Geo. Jackson's. A party of friends and relatives gathered and soon was engaged in the merry dance. The presiding officers were Mr. Flus, Graham as floor manager, Mr. Henry Palmer as honor and Jas Jackson as Butler. Music was furnished by the local violinists, Mr. B. J. Flood and other celebrated players.

Mr. John Coby is busily plowing for Mr. J. J. McIntosh. John is a good and faithful worker.

Mr. Jas Leader is home again. He says he understands thoroughly the art of growing melons. Jim looks fine after his hard season of work.

Mr. Peter Flood is busily engaged in present digging a ditch across his lot. Peter says that ditching is better than making cheese boxes. Well said Peter.

NEWBORO.

Crowded out last week.

MONDAY, Nov. 10.—A pleasant social was held at the R.V. G. House at the residence of Mr. H. B. Bousfield's intention to hold these socials monthly during the winter.

Thursday was court day, Judge Reynolds presiding. There were not many cases. Whalen vs Whalen was the most important; verdict for plaintiff.

The revival services, held at the Blair settlement by Rev. N. Campbell, Oliver's Ferry, closed last Friday and was a success.

Mr. French, painter, has moved into Mr. Wright's house.

Mr. Simmons has removed to Smith's Falls, where he has secured a situation as lock laborer.

The widow and daughter of the late Mr. Sutton have removed to Smith's Falls.

Miss M. Driffin, lately of this place, and L. Lehti, Montreal, were married at Carleton Place.

Miss B. Driffin is attending school at Smith's Falls.

Amrose Singleton, who has been seriously ill with typhoid fever at Toronto hospital, is recovering rapidly.

Mr. Ackland, V. S., performed a delicate operation on a cow at Portland. It had indulged too heavily in a feed of oats, and to relieve it an opening in the side and also in the stomach and extracted some of the food. The cow is now all right.

MONDAY, Nov. 17th.—Intelligence of disastrous hallowe'en escapades continue to come down the wire in various ways. This has been an eventful autumn, which at the way, eggs since camp meeting and fair time to the present. Fakirs zealously attended both, the former to insinuate themselves into the good graces of the well-to-do and prosperous, in fact to give themselves prominence, friends and credit, the latter for the mighty dollar, and all transactions strictly cash. Will, to return to hallowe'en. The latest comes from the region of the school houses known as Bell's, a couple of miles west of this borough. The principal actors in this great work of devastation intimate they had got the "power" during Hallowe'en, which was actually taken with a larger or smaller grain of salt according to the credulity of the hearer. The convener of the camp always insisted that recipients of such power would manifest it in some way, they would do something, laugh, shout, etc., and naturally enough I have been laying on my oars awaiting developments. Since the removal of the tent they no longer have been living, rigorously in quest of the sheep. However, the identification of the horse property and I was beginning to think the idea was a fraud. During the meeting on the school ground on the evening of the 31st of October, the power worked up to an immense pitch, and desirous of letting their light shine, they concluded to experiment by placing their hands (a sort of laying on of hands) on the outbuilding and barbed wire fence both white and to the great amazement would have been ugly things to tamper with but, so susceptible were they to the finger tips of those worthies that they were immediately "prevented" while shouts and laughs were quietly filled the air. The next day Mr. Wm. Duncan waited on Yes and Shank—well not on the way 8—who hearing what was on the tapis took a slow walk through the field in quest of the sheep. However Mr. D.—left word for the absentees to place everything in ship shape by Monday morning, or he would take legal proceedings against them. With his usual energy, he attended church on Sunday morning. In the p.m. ruminated on the eloquent and instructive discourse of the Rev. Ash, and meeting in the evening under the grand pavilion of General Gordon, they called for the Thomas Lyng of Plum Hollow their faithful allies when they proceeded through the dreaching rain, ignoring the 5th commandment to unto the funny work of the previous Friday and are now "Happy on the way."

Mr. John Graham has completed his job on Vanderbilts office. The vaults are to be constructed under the supervision of the Taylor Safe Company.

Paul and Stout have opened their usual winter camping with a Bishop in charge. We will likely get some good honest wood this winter. What do you say Jim?

The water in the lakes about here is very low on account of the dry fall. Ducks are said to be plentiful but on account of the warm weather it is almost impossible to hunt them with success.

The parties who are just smart enough to get drunk and amuse themselves by throwing whiskey on the ladies on the streets after night, are being closely watched and it is hoped they will find themselves closely caged in the cooler or lose for such cowardly bets.

Parliament, it is expected, will not be summoned for the dispatch of business in 1891 before the last of February. The object is to cut the session short. January 16th was the date Parliament was last called together.
