Christian Endeaver.

The Christian Endeavor society met in the Presbyterian church on Monday evening, the vice-president, Miss Zinn in the chair. After the open services it being consecration meeting the sec-retary, Miss McConnell called the roll and the members present responded by giving their favorite promise and why. The meeting was both interesting and profitable and the hour was far too short. Miss Fisher of Paisley was present and addressed the meeting. Her address was very helpful and encouraging. Mr. Hastie, the missionary i charge of the Presbyterian congregation also addressed the meeting, encouraging the young people particularly to Christian service. His address was well received and he received a hearty welcome into the Christian Endeavor society.

The meeting next week will be held as usual on Tuesbay night in the Methodist church. The topic will be "Rejecting Christ; its consequences," Matt 10:11.15; $2.83. Leader, Mrs. Butch art.

PRESS COM.

Huron Ontario Electric Railway.

Shelburne, Nov. 3 .- (Special.)-Subscriptions towards the promotion of the proposed Port Perry & Kincardine Electric Railway have been readily se cured here, and an amount in excess of that asked for by the promoter has been placed on the list. The people of Shelburne and vicinity talked enthusias tically of the merits of the scheme, the great advantage it would prove to their town and district, and are prepared to give it their best influence and support. It will extend through a populous and fertile section of country, and will be the only Railway connecting Lakes Ontario and Huron from east to west It will intersect numerous other lines of railway, and will carry to and receive from them both passengers and freight. It will be operated by water power, an ample supply of which is available on different sections of the route. Mr A. E, C. Pew, the promoter, and Mr. Brunel, surveyors, reached here last Tuesday, having driven this far over the proposed line and reported that they did not encounter any engineering difficulties in the way, and both gentlemen expressed themselves in quite sanguine terms as to the early completion and success of the road. Altogether, it would seem that the construction of this proposed railway is only a matter of time, and that it will prove a profital le undertaking for those indentified with it.

All the farmers are busy at turnips to-day. It has been a grand day and all are taking advantage of it. They are an excellent crop this year.

OTTER CREEK

Mr. Martin Haskins purchased horse from Mr. John Wilton.

Con. Hosfeldt has his wind mill erected. It is a fine one, one of the best in the locality.

The farmers are glad to see the snow go away again so that they can get the remainder of their turnips in.

Population of Otter Creek is increasing. Another family has moved out from Walkerton and he is working in Mr. Jacob Steinmillers mill.

Mr. Henry Procknow lost one of his horses last week. It had been sick for some time with the heaves and as he was not cured he turned up his toes.

As cold weather is setting in so early and farmers have to put their stock in the stables and feed them. A number of them will run short of feed this winter.

Mr. John Loose who is putting a wind mill on his fathers place has not it yet completed. It is one of his own plan and apparently it will work well. He expects to have it finished about Tuesday. Although he has been working at it for some time he has at last devised a plan and we hope it will be a great Farewell Supper.

Monday evening prior to the departure of Mr. W. H. Schneider and family for Hamilton, where they will in future reside, a number of their friends assembled at the residence of his father, Wm. Schneider sr., to bid them farewell. During the evening games of various kinds were indulged in. Dr. J. A. Wilson was elected chairman for the occasion and after delivering his opening address called on Mr. J. Barton, who after a short prelude, read the following address :

MR. W. H. SCHNEIDER,

DEAR FRIEND,—On the eve of your departure from our midst, we, a few of your numerous friends have assembled this evening to testify our best wishes for your future welfare and prosperity. You have been one of our most enter-You have been one of our most enter-prising citizens and we are sorry to part with you, but as you see fit to do so, we join with one accord in wishing you prosperity in your new field of labor. We shall also miss the smiling countenance of your partner as well as your family from amongst us, and wish them prosperity in their future life. Expecting not to meet with you for a season, we deemed it a wise act to bring along some oysters, which with you we wish to digest.

Mr. Schneider replied in very feeling erms for both himself and partner. Short addresses were then delivered by Messrs. J. E. Mulholland, E. N. Butchart and L. A. Findlay. After the addresses came a duet by W. H. Schneider and Mrs. J. D. Miller which was heartily encored, to which Mrs. Miller responded with the solo "The song that reached my heart." An adjournment was then made to the dining room, where every person enjoyed a sumptuous repast of oysters. After much hand shaking and farewells the assembled friends dispersed to their several homes at an early hour, well pleased with the tribute paid our departing for John Renwick for the past 9 years, friends.

We visited around the Portage for two weeks, seeing Rutledges, Scotts, Bradins, Grahams and Mr. Batters, Now all these men went out there about 28 years ago with the exception of Bradin, who is about 4 years out. All left for Manitoba with very small means and have done well and all have beautiful farms, some larger than others. 1 might say that Mr. R. Bradin has bought 820 acres on which we hope he

The country around the plains was far better than I expected. The fences, buildings and roads were better than I had expected. The crops were something more than I can describe to you, both for the quality of the grain and number of bushels to the acre, some going 60 bushels to the acre.

One farmer near McDonald station on the M& N railway running north of the Portage, having $8,000 bushels of wheat which one of the McMichael boys were threshing. Another was threshing for Mr. W. Trimble, Mr. E. Scott was also threshing and had threshed 2,400 bushels in one day. We also spent a few days in the Portage. Specially of whom I will mention Mr. Gordling, Mr. Patterson and Mr. Brown Messes. Brown and Gordling keep two of the finest stores in the Portage. Mr Brown took me around to the principal buildings in the town. The town is much better than I expected to find.

There are three elevators at High Bluff and Mr. T. Rutledge is section boss there. All are doing well in the wheat business which is selling at from 45 to 50 cents a bushel.

I also saw Mr. A. Huston from Belmore and was glad to see the old man. He looks a little frail. I hope that the Lord will be with him in his declining years and guide him into the city where we are told in the Bible that people never grow old.

I would say so far with our jouncy we have been very well pleased and has done us good spiritually, intellectually and temperally.

It is reported that one of our young men, south, intends taking a trip. Think twice before you go Jim. Jacob Miler who has been foreman has quit and engaged with W. Pomeroy. Our blacksmith has been doing a rushing business the post summer. There is a good opening for it, a wagon maker and a shoemaker. Owing to the early snow and hard frost some have not got all their potatoes up yet. It looks as if it is going to be a job to get the turnips in. We hope for better weather,
