Ended Life in Lonely Boathouse

Miss Marjorie Hamilton Had Been Several Days Missing

From yesterday's Brockville Recorder and Times the following particulars are given concerning the tragic death of Miss Marjorie Hamilton, formerly of this city.

Today shortly after 12 o'clock the body of Miss Marjorie Hamilton, a local stenographer, was found in a boathouse at "Horningtott," the residence of her aunt, Mrs. Robert Crawford, a half mile west of Brockville. The circumstances surrounding the case are extremely sad. The young woman had spent the summer at "Horningtott" and after the cold weather set in, her aunt, Mrs. Crawford left Peterboro to spend the winter. Miss Hamilton had a key to the house and was in the habit of walking out there a couple of times a week. She visited the place on Thursday last, leaving a kimono and two hair brushes on the verandah. After doing so, she went down to the boat house. When she returned a caretaker had placed the articles in the house. She left there and on the way back to town had a brief conversation with Mrs. A. DeLisle, who lives nearby stating her intention of going back to "Horningtott" on Saturday afternoon.

Nothing was thought by Mrs. DeLisle of the incident until this morning when her disappearance was reported.

Missing Since Saturday

The deceased roomed at 17 Court House Square with Mr and Mrs. B. Tooker. She worked Saturday morning and left her boarding house that afternoon shortly before 2 o'clock.

Church Problems Discussed at Lively Meeting

The New Spirit Prevailed at an Organization Meeting Held in S. S. Room of Bridge St. Church Last Evening.

An interesting and enthusiastic meeting was held in Bridge St. Methodist church last night for organizing and continuing the splendid work commenced here during the recent evangelistic campaign under the direction and leadership of Evangelist E. I. Honeywell and his assistant, Prof. H. G. Tovey.

Committees were formed in each ward for the purpose of visiting the new converts desiring to become Bridge St. members. They are invited to attend the mid-week service held on Wednesday, when the Covenant will be read. On Sunday the right hand of fellowship and the administration of the Lord's supper will take place.

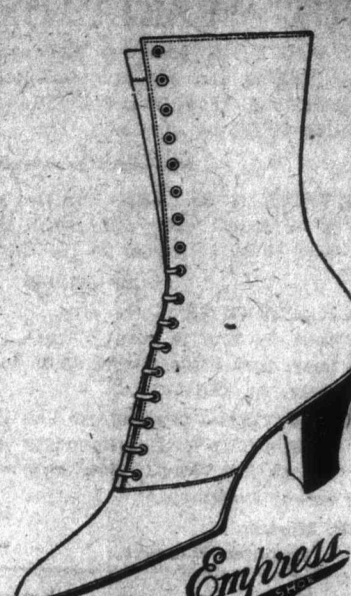

It was suggested to "carry on" with the bright, enthusiastic services every Sunday at the evening service and this will likely follow. Many alterations to bring about the desired results which will make a lasting impression that the special services have happily brought about, are considered expedient and will be introduced in accordance with new plan.

Already the effect is being felt and if the pressure is only kept up, the result will be lasting and the good work grow. The minister, Rev. Dr. C. T. Scott, the board and committees, who have all worked unceasingly to make the campaign the splendid success it has been, feel gratified with the work, down to the last detail and all are ready and willing to assume the responsibility to assure the extension of this noble, inspired campaign, which is hoped is only the beginning of obtaining the growth of a great christian era in Belleville. With the kindly interest and devotion of the splendid manhood and womanhood displayed at last night's service, this is assured and success will crown their manifold efforts.

An Old That Is Famous.—Thompson, Canada was not the birthplace of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. It is the home of that famous compound from here its good name was spread to Central and South America, the West Indies, Australia and New Zealand. That is far afield enough to attest its excellence, for in all these countries it is on sale and in demand.

Speaking at a dinner, William H. Thompson, of Kansas, referred to the beauty of patience and contributed an anecdote along that line.

Some time since Smith and his wife went out for a spin in their new automobile, but before they had gone many miles something went amiss with the machinery. Crawling beneath the car, Smith began to twist and turn things, and finally there came sundry words that sounded like breaking one of the blue laws.

"John, John!" expostulated the good woman in the car. "You should not use such dreadful language!"

"Of course I shouldn't, Mrs. Smith!" irritably responded hubby.

"Of course I shouldn't! I suppose that if you were down under here you would sweetly sing!"

"You should have more patience," returned Mrs. Smith. "Why don't you try to be like Job?"

"Don't quote Job, madam," shouted the old man. "Never in all his life did Job ever get his nose caught in a corkwheel!"

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Manley left this morning for Detroit, Mich., where they will attend the obsequies of the latter's brother, Mr. P. H. Coleman, 1601 West Grand Boulevard, of that city.
