The sensation of the week in submarine activities was the arrival at Newport of the German submarine U-53, and her subsequent torpedoing near the Narragan sett lightship of six merchant vessel which were sunk. It is not yet definitely known if any lives were lost through th sinking of these vessels, but one of the boats from the torpedoed Kingston is said to be missing. A list of the vessels sunk by the U-5.3, the victims of other submarines, and the naval events, reported during the week, are given in "News of the

From the daily casualty lists appearing during the week it was apparent that the Canadians (including many New Bruns wickers) were heroically taking their part in the great drive in Picardy. The need for better results in recruiting in Canada is becoming daily more evident; and the recruiting campaign in New Brunswick during the past week was verry disar pointing, in view of the special efforts o Lt-Col. Guthrie and the other veterar who are assisting him. It is not apparen what more can be said or done to produc by voluntary enlistment the great number of men still required. PURITY, PELF AND POWER

The smoke of battle is clearing. After the election of Sept. 21 neighbours are beginning to speak one to another as "the turnult and the shouting dies." Yet those who voted with the Opposition continue to feel themselves for bumps and bruises; they still wonder how it all happened. Why shouldn't it have happened? Let us analyse the situation:

Thus, let us assume there are around and party-bound—and 11 less Conservatives, equally dyed and bound. A battery of machine guns would not turn this vote. But there is a little army—more than half a regiment—who will vote for the individual or the party that can offer the best graft, either cash down on election day, a job, an office, or preferment in some manner. In the lection the Government party had all this. The Opposition party had only Purity, and the negotiable 700 does not consider purity a commodity that it can use to its own enrichment.
