Mr. W. E. Porter, met with a serious accident last week which will incapacitate him from heavy work for some time. Some of his ribs were fractured two knuckles dislocated and the legament in his other arm torn and generally badly bruised. He is around again but not fit for his usual busy life. A catastrophe of that kind under a man is almost as bad as a German bomb.

The picture at the Strand Theatre, Friday—Saturday is Jack Pickford's latest Paramount offering, "The Spirit of '17," in which the clever young star portrays Davy Glidden, a patriotic youngster of the middle west, who with the help of a number of worn out old veterans of the Civil War, saves his town from German spies who attempt to blow up a mine and who also have incited a strike. The production is an interesting one in photoplay history and one of the best the clever young star has done in some time. It was written by Judge Willis Brown of the Chicago Juvenile Court and arranged for the screen by Julia Crawford Ivers. The director, William D. Taylor, has spared no pains in presenting the photoplay and the photography, settings, lighting and other requirements are fully up to the Paramount standards.

Murdock Campbell Winner of the Military Cross Pays The Supreme Sacrifice

Word has just been received at Kentville that another of her heroic sons has paid the supreme sacrifice. Murdock Campbell son of the late Allister Campbell was killed in action on November 7th. This young hero enlisted in Kentville January 8th, 1916 with the 112th Batt. being transferred later to the 21st Batt. Last summer he won the Military Cross for bravery. He was 22 years of age, a young man of splendid qualities and a general favorite. Deep regret is felt for the bereaved one in the homeland.
