

PROVINCIAL POLICE FORCE.

Official Announcement of Its Re-organization to be Soon Made.

Joseph E. Rogers May be General Superintendent.

But Board of Commission Will Control the Force.

(Special Despatch to the Times.)

Toronto, June 8.—The much-heralded reorganization of the Provincial police, which came to a focus shortly after the Kinrade mystery, is on the eve of completion, and the official announcement may, it is understood, be expected either to-morrow or on Friday. While the names of the appointees are not yet officially announced, the Times learned on good authority yesterday that much of the speculation which has taken place concerning the officers to be appointed has been without foundation. The plan to be followed is that which was outlined by the Times some time ago—a general superintendent, who shall have charge of the whole force, being responsible to the Attorney-General. Under him come two district superintendents, dividing the Province between them into north and south. Under these again come the county officers. The force is to be a uniformed one, and each officer from the general superintendent downwards will, it is understood, be required to take the oath, as at the beginning of a new service. While the question of pay has, it is understood, not been definitely settled yet, there is a well-founded rumor that the minimum pay to be given the county officers will be $25 a month; the superior officers will be paid accordingly. The question of a reorganization of the existing detective force is one which, it appears, has given the authorities some difficulty. The force, according to the present arrangement, is divided into the Central Bureau of Criminal Investigation, and the number of detectives will be augmented by one at least. The officers are to be known as inspectors, and will be advanced in order of seniority with one exception. A member of the Toronto detective force will be added also.

There has, it appears, been some difficulty over different phases of the work the force will be called upon to do. The problem arising out of the policing of new Ontario territory, to the enforcement of the liquor and game laws, is a serious one, and it is understood that to avoid any possible clash in authority the force may work under a commission consisting of Messrs. J. R. Cartwright, K. C., Deputy Attorney-General; Bruno Cameron, K. C., chief justice; and Edwin Threlby, chief game warden. There will be, according to report, at least one paid officer in each county, with probably more in the unorganized districts, and all officers will be required to sign the regulations. The question of a mounted constabulary has also been under consideration, but it is understood that this will not be gone into at present. While there has been no official announcement of the names of those to fill the most important positions on the force as yet, the Times learned the names of the general superintendent will in all probability go to Mr. Joseph E. Rogers, while the district superintendent in the north is expected to be George Coldbeck, at present chief of police of Cobalt, and the charge of the southern division will probably go to William H. Mains, of Niagara Falls. In the detective department the existing staff is expected to be advanced in order of seniority, in the following order: Wm. Greer, John Miller, Charles Mahony, of Windsor, an extra man added to the force, and Henry Reburn, of Toronto. It is to this force that the most important work will be done. A great mass of minor detail remains to be worked out yet, but it is expected that much of this will simplify itself when the force gets to work.

JUNE WEDDING.

Marriage of W. F. Athawes and Miss Nellie Edwards.

A quiet house wedding took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. W. A. Edwards, architect, 108 Main street east, when Mr. and Mrs. Edwards' eldest daughter, Nellie G., was united in marriage to Mr. William F. Athawes, of Calgary, formerly of this city. The ceremony was performed in the large parlor and about sixty guests were present, including Mrs. W. H. Edwards, Denver, Col.; Mr. and Mrs. H. Foster and Miss Letha Foster, Brampton, and a number of others from outside points. Rev. R. J. Treleavan united the happy couple, and the bride was given away by her father. The bridesmaid was a sister of the bride, Miss Mable C. Edwards, and the best man was a brother of the groom, Charles Athawes. The wedding breakfast was served under the direction of Caterer Howard, and the table was daintily decorated. The happy couple will reside in Calgary. The presents were both numerous and costly and consisted largely of sterling silver and cut glass. A number were received from the old country.

GILLESPIE-DEITON

A very quiet wedding took place yesterday at Napanee, when a popular young man of this city, Mr. William T. Gillespie, and Miss Etta B. Deiton, of Deseronto, were married.

EVENING WEDDING.

A very pleasant and enjoyable event took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Cosby, Bismarck, when about eighty of their friends and relatives assembled to witness the marriage of their second daughter, Myrtle to Mr. Arthur Lymburner, of Attercliffe. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. M. Gieseler, of Attercliffe Station. The many beautiful and costly presents showed the high esteem in which both are held. The happy couple took the 7:30 train over the T. H. & C. for Detroit and intermediate points west. After their return they will reside near Attercliffe.

POWER QUESTION WORSE MUDDLED.

Yesterday's Vote Settles Nothing—Mayor McLaren Issues a Short Statement.

Instead of settling the power question, the vote yesterday apparently muddled it worse than ever. The city is right back where it started over two years ago, only the situation is much more complicated, and it will keep the aldermen busy straightening it out. Two courses appear to be open. One is to have the engineering department prepare an estimate of the cost of installing a system which will provide private house users with incandescent lights. It is believed this plant will cost half a million dollars. Notwithstanding all the explaining that has been done, the people appear to have heard so much about power within the last two years that they have failed to realize that the $225,000, which they authorized the Council to raise by debenture for a street lighting plant, makes no provision for incandescent lighting. This money cannot be raised for five years, in view of the lighting contract the city has made with the company. The first alternative is to prepare the estimate, however, and have the people vote on it. The second course is for the Council to order

Curled Leaf

(Special Despatch to the Times.) Grimby, Ont., June 8.—The prevalence of curled leaf in a very large number of peach orchards throughout the peninsula is causing some slight uneasiness among growers. Spraying went on as punctually as ever this spring, and it was not for the lack of the lime and sulphur mixture that the trees should put on such a nasty appearance as this disease presents to the eye. Recent wet weather therefore, can be the only cause. Curled leaf causes a drooping off and withering up of much newly formed fruit. It remains to be seen whether in the coming month just what actual amount of damage the disease will carry with it. Curled leaf has been quite formidable in past years in the fruit district, but that was before the general use of the spraying mixtures caused its almost annihilation. Young and old orchards, however, seem to be under the ban now.

Charge of Cruelty Against "Chief" Lindsay Did Not Succeed.

The Veteran Was in Charge of the Bow-wow Prisoners.

Several interesting and illustrious persons appeared before Magistrate Jelfs at the police court this morning, and not the least of these was Jimmy Lindsay, chief of the dog catchers' brigade. James in his capacity of caretaker of the captured canines at the old patrol station, Napier street, has had great difficulty from keeping the dogs from fighting. It was while subduing one of these fights that N. H. Barnes saw Jimmie using a stick to regain order, and thinking that he was using undue severity, went to the police office and laid a complaint, charging the "chief" with cruelly ill-treating a dog. The war-scarred veteran pleaded not guilty, and Barnes was put in the stand to tell how the charge had come about. He said that he was looking in the window last Saturday night watching the dogs, when Lindsay went into the pen and began laying about him with a big broom handle. "Do you think the dogs were hurt?" asked the magistrate. "They certainly were if one could judge by the yelps and howls they were giving vent to," replied Barnes. Jimmie was sworn and asked to give an explanation. "Well, yer honor," he said, "them dogs is not fed any too much, and being away from home like, they gets kind of wild, y' know, and fights among themselves. Especially them big dogs, they goes for the little fellers, and would eat them up if I didn't step in occasionally and chastise them with a little stick I have. And that stick, yer honor, ain't no broom handle. I'll swear it don't weigh more than two ounces, and as far as being cruel to them dogs, why I even went to the trouble to get homes for some of them." This ended Jimmie's appeal. "I don't think you have established a

THE MAN IN OVERALLS. Hydro-Electric it is. Which means that we now will have to settle with the Cataract in the courts. Thirty years is a long time for a contract to run—more than half of those who voted for it won't see its finish. Now hear Galt and London and the other joy towns snicker in their sleeves at Hamilton. Then that vote makes us all responsible for that $3,000,000 transmission line. That isn't much! Pick out your Board of Control. The man who didn't think it worth while to vote yesterday may have cause to yet change his mind. The doctors needn't bother about picking out a new Hospital site just yet. But they have still the peat house to fall back upon. Now watch T. J. Stewart refuse that $10,000 a year job. The Hamilton Art School gives its 23rd annual exhibition of pupils' work this week. Does that mean skidoo? Weed out the mongrels and useless curs and the other dogs won't be much of a nuisance. Perhaps the people didn't want "cheap" power—the 10 per cent. cheaper kind. I hope it won't be a case of vote in haste and repent at leisure. Annual meeting of Liberal Association on Thursday night. Come out and have your say. What kind of a job would Jim Miller like? They say Hydro money is plentiful yesterday. Where did it come from? Anybody else want to make a thirty-year contract with the city? And we will all now have the pleasure of paying taxes to make Toronto as good an electric city as is Hamilton. Don't worry. It will be all the same a hundred years from now. And, after all, it's laughable. For isn't Toronto laughing? If this thing doesn't pan out as expected, don't come around to blame me thirty years after this, for I won't be here. "Love Finds the Way." Our new story to-night. A fine love story, which you should not miss. No, Maude. There is no inquest over the execution of the dogs by the dog catchers. They go to their long homes without benefit of judge or jury. The bottle brigade has begun its Sunday outings again, and dead soldiers strew the streets in the mornings. If the Mayor or somebody would send over, say, to Glasgow for a copy of its building and fire by-laws he might learn something that would be quite an advantage to the people of this city.

VOTE ON UNION WAS TAKEN TO-DAY.

Resolution Submitted by Principal Patrick Was Adopted by 160 to 42.

At the General Assembly the attendance this morning was a great sea of faces reaching to the back of the hall. If anything, the weight of logic and the spirit of calmness were on the side of the union party, while heavy applause very frequently greets a good point on the other side. The feeling at times got somewhat unruly, but the Moderator was a fearless, flexible and prompt manner of conducting the duties of the chair. He forbids remarks save addressed through himself to the various speakers. To be absolutely fair, he only allows the debaters to follow one another in even sequence of "for" and "against." In resuming the discussion Mr. W. Drysdale said: "I was waited upon by two elders from St. Andrew's Church, of Montreal, in connection with the Church of Scotland, inviting the beginning of a conference whereby this union congregation would be led into the Presbyterian Church in Canada. I may refer to a conference resulting from a letter of mine to a member of the Anglican Church. There were in the same room a Roman Catholic, an Anglican and myself, and we went out to confer with heads of colleges in the city, in the interest of co-operation to prevail over-lapping. We are agreed on the desirability of union, but that we are not yet ready. I am in favor of some change in order to remove the barnacles and cobwebs of generations. To give you an idea of barnacles, think of a dying Scot in a Montreal hospital, being refused burial beside his wife in a consecrated ground, with the priest in sympathy, but unable, by his own words that he had to carry out the canon laws of the Church. Dr. Wardlaw Taylor, of New Westminster, told of hearing a street car conductor saying last night: 'You have a church union debate. You had better cut it out. They will be inventing a new religion one of these days.' I must stand by my vows. I cannot accept this basis of union. Dr. John Pringle Sidney said: I heard yesterday our venerable Principal of Westminster Hall, who has been one year in the west. But I shall not answer his arguments, but leave him to the mover of the resolution. I, myself, have been 30 years a Presbyterian, and yet say frankly that I am in favor. We are crying out for men. Where are they to come from to man the fields? From the small towns and congregations in "hard scramble" for life. Mr. Lawson said: I don't like this new creed, or the higher critics who to-day are so loud spoken. I am not going to be one of them. Rev. Mr. Chisholm, Kemptville, described an experience in the mountains some time ago in which he and Principal MacKay shared. It was a little congregation in a small town, full of sects. The organist could only play four hymns and two psalms. And 15 people attended service. But later there was an anniversary where the choir and congregations united for the celebration. The Principal's heart was cheered, and it was a vision of what union would be in the mountains. Mr. James Rogers, of Montreal, said: "It has been stated without foundation in fact that federation has been tried in Canada. If in certain quarters where planned it did not succeed, it does not better hands it would turn out better. There is a strong desire in Montreal for co-operation. As regards the question before us, I think that we have been making a mistake in sending down, from year to year, resolutions, without giving the people the contrary views and resolutions." Mr. Edward Brown, Portage la Prairie: "I am not yet ready to give a verdict. But I think that the correct thing to be done is to submit the report now (Continued on Page 10.)"

CADETS BEST HE HAS SEEN.

Col. Galloway Says This of Collegiate Company. "The finest set of young men I have seen in a long time," said Lieut.-Col. Galloway as the Collegiate Cadets passed in review before him at the annual inspection, which took place this morning on the Collegiate lawn. This and many other complimentary terms were used to express the satisfaction of the inspecting officers, and the cadets certainly deserve credit for the splendid manner in which they executed the difficult commands, and the ease with which they went through the intricate foot drills. Lieut.-Col. Galloway, D. A. A. G., C. O. of military district No. 2, acted as inspector, and was highly delighted with the efficiency of the company. He said it was by far the best company of cadets he had ever seen in Hamilton, and was in the lead of any of the companies he had so far inspected this year. The officers came in for considerable praise, and deservedly, as it is largely due to their efforts that the company has obtained its present degree of efficiency. The drills consisted of company in attack, company drill, section drill, firing and manoeuvring exercises, concluding with the march past. The staff officers present were: Lieut.-Col. Moore, Majors Tidswell, Lester, and Ross. The officers of the Collegiate Cadet Company are: E. H. Deason, captain; Alexander MacFarland, lieutenant, and Joseph Weber, lieutenant.

AT FALLS.

School Companies Had a Good Outing on Saturday.

On Saturday the Strathcona Model School and Caroline Street Schools' crack companies, winners of the senior and junior drill championship of the Public Schools, enjoyed an outing to Niagara Falls at the expense of an unknown donor, who undertakes to give the boys a jaunt once a year. They were in charge of the Public School Drill Instructor, Sergt.-Major Huggins, and Chairman Hobson of the Board of Education. In the morning the Strathcona and the Caroline boys crossed bats, the former winning, 5-2. The party dined at the Lafayette Hotel, and in the afternoon had a look through the plants of the Niagara and Electrical development companies; had a ride on the trolley to Chippawa, and Queenston Heights, saw the historic battlefield, and returned to the Falls to dine before returning home. Captain Dick Wathman, of the Strathconas, moved a vote of thanks to the unknown benefactor, and to William Southern, for the donation of two flags. Capt. Campbell, of Caroline, moved a vote of thanks to Col. Hendrie for letters of introduction, which secured permission to inspect the power plants.

City Determined to Enforce New Dog Regulations.

Art School Scholarships for Public School Pupils.

Board of Education Committee Awards Printing Contracts.

Unhappy is the life of the dog-catcher. The men employed by the city to make Hamilton a dogless town have had such a strenuous session of it during the past few days, being hooted and jeered at every time they went after a dog with the net, and, occasionally being pelted with stones, that they refused to-day to go out without police protection. The city officials are determined to enforce the new regulation, according to the instructions received from the Council, and Chief Smith was prevailed upon to-day to send a mounted policeman out with the men to afford them protection. They gathered in a number of dogs. It was also found necessary this morning to put iron bars over the windows at No. 4 police station on Napier street. On Saturday night some one broke in, tore off the netting, rescued a valuable dog and let several others out. So far eighteen dogs have been despatched by the prussic acid route. The Finance Committee of the Board of Education yesterday afternoon awarded the contract for school supplies, such as books, slates, pencils and so on, to Cloke & Son. The printing for the Collegiate Institute will be done by the Robert Duncan Company, and George Midgely got the contract for printing for the Public Schools.

The following Art School scholarships have been awarded:

Honorable mention: Boys—Bert Halliday, Queen Victoria; Gordon Evans, Victoria avenue school; Jack Woodward, Pictou street school; Norman Ferris, Cannon street school; Stanley S. McLeod, Wentworth street school; Reggie J. Howard, Wentworth street school; Harry E. Foster, Wentworth street school; Norman Bailey, Strathcona Model school. City Solicitor Waddell will present a report re water rates to public institutions, appointments made to the Fire Department, and the City Engineer will report on a number of water mains.

There is nothing of much importance for the Board of Works to deal with to-night.
