The New Home of Fit-Reform
Hand Tailored Garments

DOUBTLESS you, who wear Fit-Reform Suits and Overcoats, have often wondered where, how and under what conditions these superb hand-tailored garments are made. The new home of Fit-Reform is shown above.

YOU—and the other well dressed men of Canada—have made this big building a reality. The enormous increase in demand for these highest class of hand-tailored garments necessitated increased facilities.

LAST year, the entire Fit-Reform Building was acquired, and completely remodeled to suit the special requirements of Fit-Reform.

THE Fit-Reform Building stands at the foot of Beaver Hall Hill in the heart of the financial and business district of Montreal. It contains over 50,000 square feet of floor space—a combined cleanliness and sanitation—and is the largest and most complete hand-tailoring establishment in Canada.

WE are showing the latest creations in Fit-Reform garments—spring, designed and tailored in the Fit-Reform Building shown in miniature above.

WARM WEATHER ZONE IS MOVING NORTHWARD

No More Danger of Summer Frosts in Few Years Declare Climatological Experts—Reciprocity in Weather Despite Politicians.

(From Our Own Correspondents.)

Montreal, June 28th.—That summer frosts, the bane of the farmer and orchardist, would soon become a thing of the past is the opinion of the Dominion continue to disappear as rapidly as they have of late, and that Canada in not many years from now will be as renowned for her semi-tropical products as she is today for her timber, are two rather startling and interesting announcements made by climatological experts who have been comparing notes on the weather during the annual convention of the American climatological association held here.

This does not mean that the juicy "famous" apple, known to all as being just about the most succulent edible the Province of Quebec produces, will be supplanted by Jamaican yams, nor that Montreal melons will be superceded in their glory by Florida oranges, but it does mean that there is a change coming over Canada climate. One of the reasons given is that the thinning out of our forests makes the air less stagnant, that the snow melts more rapidly and that the thermometer rises earlier than in the old days when piles of snow might have been seen in the woods while the fields were bare and dry. On the other hand, it was pointed out that deforestation tends to drought, as the snow all melts quickly causing a flood with no reserve of moisture.

The fact that there is a climatic reciprocity between Canada and the United States, by virtue of which the latter export their heat waves to us, Canada providing them with cold feet in return, was also alluded to despite the fact that the organization is non-political and there was nobody present to urge legislation for or against the exchange. Dr. A. D. Blackader of Montreal was elected president of the association, the first Canadian to receive such an honor. The organization is composed mostly of Government weather prophets and soothsayers stationed in all parts of the continent, the gentlemen from whom the newspapers receive forecasts of the days' doings amongst the stars.

COUNTING THE ABSENTEES.
If a man has gone swimming is he still food for the census man? Many people in Montreal have already started off on their summer vacation, their houses are closed and there is no way of the census enumerator obtaining the information he requires. But that does not matter. If a man is wandering where the surf beats or whipping a stream for trout, or even attending the Coronation he is still a Canadian and his head to be counted with his less lucky stay-at-home neighbor. How to count him? That is the question. Census enumerators here have written for instructions. If they cannot find out from the neighbors a special report is to be made out and an attempt made to tag the delinquent when he returns. Most of the enumerators report swift progress with their work, although one poor fellow had the misfortune to be taken for a rent collector. A tumble down a long pair of tenement stairs and a bucket of water on his prostrate form as he lay on the sidewalk was all the answer he received to his list of questions.

MOTHER'S BAKING

TO BUST TRUST.
The proposed bread merger has bumped up against good live opposition in these parts. It comes direct from Mother and what Mother votes usually carries. Mother says that if there is any bread trust in Montreal she'll just turn to and bake a batch or so of those home made and we have all heard so much about. A meeting of housewives has been called to discuss the situation and to draw up a strongly worded resolution against any proposition which would tend to corner the staff of life.

But there is not much danger of a bread merger enhancing the price of the product. The housewife cannot make sugar, or kerosene oil, or a number of other things that make for "sweetness and light" in the home, but she can make bread, or at least can learn the art, for an art in certainly is, and it would be an unmixed evil should more of our young women be induced, even by the processes of commercial overreaching, to cultivate it. Two young college women in a neighboring city several years ago started in the business having first acquired an expert knowledge of it. They charged twice the prices of the regular baker's loaves, and got it. What would they care about a baking trust so long as there was no "gentlemen's agreement" with the flour kings? As long as we can have home made bread there will be nothing more than the nightmare of the bread combine.

WEDDINGS

NADEAU-McARDIE

A very pretty wedding took place in St. Bernard's church, Moncton, at nine o'clock yesterday morning, the principals being M. Rose McArdie of this city, and Mr. Joseph Arthur Nadeau of Grand Caspédia, Que. The bride entered the church to Mendelssohn's wedding march, which was played by Mr. Stanford Dobson. She was given away by her father, Miss Yona McArdie, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. Edgar Nadeau, brother of the groom, was the best man. The ushers were Messrs. John Corcoran, Alfred Gaudet and Jack Connolly. During the ceremony Mr. Gaudet sang, "O Salutaris," and Mr. Connolly rendered "Ave Maria." After the ceremony the wedding party repaired to the home of the bride on Robinson St., where a dainty luncheon was partaken of. The bride was the recipient of many valuable and useful presents. The groom's presents to the ushers were scarf pins, while the bridesmaid was the recipient of a beautiful ring. The happy couple left on the Boston train yesterday afternoon for Boston where they will spend a few days. After visiting other places of interest they will return to visit friends in Moncton, before proceeding to Grand Caspédia, Quebec, where they will reside.

SMALLPOX AND COUNTY TAXES

The Province of New Brunswick might well take a leaf from the Public Health laws of the Province of Quebec, where general vaccination is now enforced. Surely this would at least be cheaper and more in line with modern civilization than simply paying enormous Smallpox accounts every year.

Is it fair that a portion of our people who takes the precaution to be vaccinated in order to protect themselves, as well as the community in which they live, should be taxed up to the hilt to provide medical treatment and attendance for those who neglect vaccination and become a public charge, as Smallpox patients.

When we consider the enormous bills paid by our own County in connection with Smallpox alone it certainly should make us feel that something should be done to offset such a large annual drain upon our County Treasury.

QUALITY

in the flour means quality in the bread and the pastry you bake. Without quality behind your efforts, no knowledge or skill can bring good results. Better be without the skill than without the quality.

"BEAVER" FLOUR

is the highest development of blended wheats, embracing the rich health-giving properties of Manitoba Spring wheat and the carbohydrates of Ontario Fall wheat, which make delicate, white, light bread and pastry.

Remember, it is for bread and pastry, both. With BEAVER FLOUR in the house, you only need one kind to attain the best results in every form of baking.

BEAVER FLOUR means economy as well as efficiency. Ask your grocer for it to-day.
