A "boob" and a "gob" met at one of the entraining stations recently, where they serve tea and biscuit. "I don't suppose you army men savvy our sea-going slang," said the sailor, who wore "U. S. Armed Guard" on his hatband and two overseas stripes on his sleeve. "Sometimes the rookie sailors—we call them 'boots' because they always draw rubber boots at the training stations—don't savvy it, either. Now, you know, in the navy the little smoke stack from the galley or kitchen on a ship is nicknamed the 'Charlie Noble,' after some old sea cook of long ago. Well, on my ship one day we tell a rookie that 'Charlie Noble' said he was a fathad and a dub. The rookie got sore as a pup and went hunting all over the ship for 'Charlie Noble.' Finally he goes up to the captain himself and complained of being called names by Charlie. 'Report to the bo'n, said the skipper. Ask for a pot of red paint and tell him I gave you permission to daub it all over Charlie—do a good job of it, too.'"—New York Sun.
