—That John Hammond, the advance man of "The South Before the War" company, who was struck on the head with a faucet some weeks ago in a row with two men who hailed from London, Ont., was a pretty seriously injured man is evidenced by the fact that he still lies at Grace Hospital unable to receive friends. He talks very little and is unable to tell how he came to be so unmercifully beaten. The hospital authorities say it will be a good long time before Hammond is himself again.

-The village of Denfield was the scene of a wedding yesterday, the contracting parties being Philip R. Marsh, son of Mrs. Ruth Marsh, to Theresa, daughter of Michael Layng, Siddlesville. The bride was supported by Miss Eveline Babcock, daughter of Harvey Washington Babcock, of London, and the groom by Thomas A. Rosser, son of Matthew T. Rosser, of Denfield. The bride was attired in pale blue henrietta, trimmed with lace, and looked charming. The ceremony was performed by Rev. P. R. Carey, after which a wedding breakfast was partaken of. The happy couple left on the evening train for the north, with the best wishes of the entire village.

Perhaps the happiest event of the year Perhaps the happiest event of the year at Hellmuth College is "Commencement Day," which marks the climax of the annual closing exercises. That occasion yesterday was a great success. There was a very large gathering of citizens, relatives of students from a distance and graduates and ex-students of former years. On the platform were the Bishop of Huron, I. F. Hellmuth (president), Principal and Mrs. English and the professors and lady members of the faculty.

The following programme was most successfully rendered:

FAIR

"Those whose corns are trodden on squeal the loudest." We would suggest that a certain narrow-minded druggist, who thinks to build up his business by heaping insuits and falsehoods upon his opposition, had better apply some of his celebrated corn cure to his own corns. This same "urbane druggist" is far astray on our nationality, and as to honest goods and square dealing, we leave the verdict with the people. If there is any virtue in fresh medicines, which our opposition emphasize so strongly, we certainly ought to lay claim to this advantage, as all our goods are fresh purchases, not having laid upon our shelves for years to spoil with age. We were not aware of any bylaw giving to druggists the exclusive sale of Patent Medicines, but had supposed they were open to free competition. Our medicines are all new and bought through the regular channels. Our offering them on our accustomed low scale of profits has brought down the united fury of the druggists, who are combining all their ingenuity to drive us from their sale, unless we will consent to sell at full prices. which we have absolutely refused their representatives to do. The jact, as I am informed, that they have only broken prices on the medicines they found we carry, is sufficient proof to the public what they will have to pay for Patent Medicines if Woods' Fair is beaten in this contest. We appeal to all those who love to support those who are willing to sell them honest goods at close living profits to uphold us in this fight by giving us their patronage. If by a combine of druggists you have been virtually robbed for years by exorbitant prices, you ought now to show your disapproval
