President E. W. Nesbitt stated briefly the objects of the meeting. He said Mr. O'Grady had been a most energetic business man, and had worked hard for the interests of Woodstock from the first day he came here to the present time.

Mr. J. G. Wallace, secretary of the board of trade, read a brief address, expressive of the regret of those present that Mr. O'Grady was leaving the town, stating that his efforts in furthering the public welfare were highly appreciated, and congratulating him on his promotion to the important office at London.

Mr. O'Grady, in reply, said he felt that he had been treated much be-yond his deserts. He would like to feel that he merited such a handsome token of esteem, but he feared that he did not. He regretted that he had not been able to leave behind him some tangible achievement. During the past five years here he had made more friends than in all his life before. He thanked all for their flattering remarks, and the precious token, which he valued far beyond its great intrin-

In less than an hour the whole of the west side, from Twenty-ninth street to Longacre Square, above Forty-second street, including Eighth and Ninth avenues, was in an uproar, and in the windup 24 people had been injured, two seriously, and one, the negro Lee, probably fatally. Over 40 arrests were

New. York, Aug. 16 .- Peace was not restored in the riot district until after 3 o'clock this morning. During the riot police were on duty, and ambulances from every hospital on the west side were kept busy. A gross estimate of the result this morning puts the number of wounded at 50 and arrests

The most determined and desperate hand-to-hand fight which occurred during the riot, so far as reported, was that between Detective John Kennedy and the negro Lloyd Lee. Lee acted like a madman. Kennedy ordered him to move on. Refusing to do so, he said "I know you; you are to Kenn'edy: Thorpe's partner. I have been laying for you," and at the same time he slashed Kennedy in the shoulder, inflicting a deep wound. Kennedy pulled his revolver and

FIRED FOUR SHOTS.

One went through Lee's jaw, and the negro fled. Capt. Cooney and Kennedy say that Lee threatened several days ago to "do" Kennedy, because the latter was the partner of Thorpe, whose killing by a negro several days ago was at the bottom of the rioting.

Shortly after 1 o'clock Acting Capt. Burns, at the head of a squad arrest-ed four white men, the first whites of the morning, and after 5 o'clock all was comparatively quiet.

Chief Devery said this morning: "I will watch this thing closely this morning, and if any man in a police uniform does anything more than en-force the law he will be dismissed instantly. This has been an unfortunate outbreak, but it won't happen again." This would seem to indicate that Chief Devery believes that the police, having Thorpe's death in mind, were a little too zealous against the blacks.

Masons Meet and Discuss the Question of Taking Quarters in the New Temple Building-Satisfactory Arrangements Within a Week Almost

A representative meeting of the city Masons was held last night in the city hall to consider the question of permanent quarters for the fraternity. The plans submitted for the proposed quarters in the new Temple building were discussed, and the consensus of opinion was that they would be admirably suited to the needs of the fraternity. Nothing definite was decided upon, and it will be for the different lodges of the city to discuss and ratify any agreement with the Temple Company. Some of the members of the order consider the figure asked by the company too high, but other prominent members have expressed a contrary opinion, believing that the price is not too great for the excellent accommodation that would be secured. The matter will be definitely settled inside of a week, and it is almost certain that an agreement will be reached between the members of the order and the company, as no other quarters could be secured that would prove so suitable or satisfactory as those in the new building.

FOR FIFTEEN YEARS

ant of Her Whereabouts-Located Through the Efforts of Inspector Sanders.

Some days ago Inspector Sanders had brought to his notice the case of an aged woman, nearly 80 years old, who had been wandering about the city, and applying for aid to charitable persons. The inspector interested himself in the case, and extracted from the old lady a number of statements as to her relatives, the statements, however, being somewhat contradictory. The inspector acted upon the information received, and this morning received a letter from Mrs. M. A. Chick, 16 Morris street, Toronto. The writer, after thanking the inspector for his efforts, informed him that the old lady's name was Mrs. Robinson; that she was the mother of the writer; that she had left Toronto 15 months ago, intending to visit friends for two weeks, and that since that time her relatives had been unable to lears
