STOCK MARKETS. NEW YORK.

H. C. Becher, broker, Bank of Comrce building, received the following by vate wire from Bartlett, Frazier &

Carrington today: New York, Oct. 3-Close.-The receipts of lower prices from London and a dis-position on the part of the traders to secure profits on purchases made during the last two days, made this market somewhat reactionary, but the declines were in no instances large, and some stocks, notably St. Paul, showed decided stocks, notably St. Paul, showed decided strength. Erie was again active, the character of the trading being somewhat more professional than it was yesterday. houses were moderate sellers, there being a good average difference beprices abroad and here. The bank statement on the whole was constdered to be satisfactory. The loss in cash was rather small for this time of year, the decrease in loans was rather larger than had been expected, and the net result is that the banks now have a surplus of nearly $14,000,000, against a per cental. Wheat went at $1.20 per surplus of only $1,800,000 at the corresponthe end of this week shows a distinct change for the better. There seems to be good grounds for the opinion that temporarily, at any rate, the most urgent liquidation is over, and that at the care. Inquidation is over, and that at the same time a better understanding has been estime a better understanding has been established between certain powerful interests in the street, which have occasionally been antagonistic. The reports of ally been antagonistic. The reports of trade conditions are encouraging, and complete the sufficient yield of corn. Naturally after such a trying period as Wall street has gone through during the last nine months, it would be unreasonable to expect anything like a sustained bull market, but its generally admitted that many securities are selling below their intrinsic value, and that as the nervousness engendered by the complications of the recent date has worn off, the buying of an investment has a control of the supplies and sales were made at 16½c to 17c.

Fruits—The principal part of the supply of the supply was apples, and sales were slow and prices easier, at 50c to 75c per bag and to 75c per bag and 30c to 40c to 50c per barket; culls sold at 30c to 40c to 60c to $10 to 17c.

Fruits—The principal part of the supply of cheese were brought into the market to 40c to 60c to 810 to 17c.

Fruits—The principal part of the supply of cheese were bound at 104c; balance shipped for cold

With the telegraph now in use, in sending the five dots in dicating a "p," the operator must de press and release his key five time and thus it is estimated that in the course of sending messages in the cr dinary pursuit of his work the operato is compelled to make one hundred and eighty thousand depressions and the same number of relaxations in course of eight' hours' work, which time he would send about fif-teen thousand words. It will readily seen that the work is exceedingly trying on the nerves.

Much of this labor has been avoided by the use of a new invention, recent

Business Man's Lighthouse

When a city has a harbor and wishes to invite commerce a lighthouse is put to catch the scaman's eye away out in the dark and get him safely into port. Would he come into port anyway, lighthouse or no lighthouse? He might, by day, if buoys were set to mark the channel, but in lack of these things he would probably steer clear and take no chances.
