London, Thursday, May 19.

The disagreeable weather of this morning was a factor in preventing the farmers from putting in an appearance at the market. The deliveries in the various lines were small. Prices were higher than those paid here on Tuesday. At Saturday's market there will, no doubt, be a brisk demand for all kinds of farm produce, for the reason that there will be no market next Tuesday, and also because of the small supply so far this week. Grain-Oats are scarce and are wanted by the dealers; only a couple of loads had been offered at 11:30 o'clock; sales were made at $1 05 per cwt.

Hay and Straw—There were 8 loads o butter and Eggs—very little on sale, butter is dull, at 13c for store lots and 14c to 15c for crocks and pound rolls. Eggs sell at 13c for large lots and 14c for basket lots.

Poultry-Spring chickens were the principal offering in this line; they were held by the hucksters at $1 25 per pair; old birds were offered at $1 to $1 25 per Dressed Hogs-There were hardly dozen offered; sales were quite brisk and higher prices were secured; sales were made at $7 10 and $7 25 per cwt. Butchers' Meats-Beef was in good de-mand and prices were higher; some fairly choice stuff was held at $8 per cwt; medium sold at $7 to $7 50 per cwt; veal sold well at $6 50 per cwt. CHICAGO EXCHANGE. Reported by F. H. Butler, stock broker, Masonic Temple, for The Advertiser. Chicago, May 19.

intended to grow up, be heralded far and wide as the "Coronation Oak," and be the cynosure of all eyes. But the mean old descendant of an acorn couldn't be induced to keep up to the record of its illustrious ancestors, who had been made into Fritish ships which whipped the world. Though fed with a spoon, so to speak, by the park ssioner, it persisted in cultivating the appearance of a "lone, lorn creetur," like Mrs. Gummidge, and one day it "withered away"—but this is No. 2 yellow, 58c for No. 3, and 57c to 58c for No. 3 mixed, in car lots on the track at Toronto. Nothing daunted, the man who runs the park secured another oak, acting on the axiom that as were ever dug up, and he planted the tree in the hole from which the decased oak had been extracted. This oak, however, was just as mean as its predecessor, and in spite of all the effective contracts.

PARK CHANGES. The park commissioner is a very busy man these days. The season, almost a month late, has kept back work that

Park Commissioner Pearce Is should have been done in April, and the changes started have not as yet been completed. The plot where the grand stand was formerly located has been leveled, and a large flower bed is being laid out in the center, but it still looks uninviting, for it is a mass of "The oaks are dead. Long live the ther oak."

So says Park Commissioner Pearce the control of th

Two years ago the city of London, to show its loyalty to good King Edward, upon the occasion of his coronation, planted an oak which was this end some handsome shrubbery will shortly be planted on both sides of the drive. In a week or so the park will begin to look nice and the roads will be rolled down and the grounds will be

This year there will be no promenading around the band stand. In forme years the crowds, or a large portion of them, walked in a circle around the stand, when the band was playing, with the result that a cloud of dust was raised, which almost choked the musiclans, and stifled those who occupied the seats. Next Thursday night there metting, and, if necessary, the police will be called upon to prevent promenwhere the stand is situated now, there is no inducement to promenade, as it is located in the center of a patch of east. Hitherto the pond has been !l-luminated with an odd goldfish, a few

German carp and occasionally a scaly backed mud-turtle, as big as a dinner plate. To improve the pond, Mr. Pearce proposes to convert it into an equatic garden, full of all species of water plants. The idea has met with the unqualified approval of many prominent citizens, and it will no greatly add to the beauty of the south end of the park. As far as it is posanaconda. The entertainment and ice cream social under the auspices of the Kensington Ladies' Aid held last night, was a great success, notwithstanding the very wet night. The ladies sold all their work at reasonable prices, and all the ice cream was disposed of. The entertainment was a treat. Mr. Jury pleased all with his powerful gramaphone, and the violin selections by the Misses Davidson and Master Davidson were really artistic and gave great pleasure. Mr. Lockhart and Mr. Jeffery sang some quaint songs, which were highly apprecated, as was also the singing and playing by the Rev. E. Bishop and Miss Benson. Altogether, it was one of the best social evenings ever held in the mission and reflects great credit on the ladies of the aid.
