assured the mayor. communication was received from Hon. Manning Doherty approvmilk bylaw. Ald. Wilson moved that a special committee, comprising Ald. Judd, and himself, interview the street railway company with to the change of a switch in West London. Ald. Colbert recalled that Ald. Douglass had already mentioned this change.

Ald. Wilson retorted that Ald. Douglass had no business interfering as he had already done before and sidetracked his (Wilson's) move. Ald. Colbert suggested that Ald. Douglass accompany them, but Ald. Wilson objected as the latter was not a member of No. 1 committee.

The motion passed. Mayor Wenige Ald. Judd. City Treasurer Bell Douglass and were authorized to attend a day municipal convention in Toronto the latter part of the month. Both Ald. John Greer and Ald. W.

A. Wilson objected, holding that the xpense was uncalled for. "Send the whole council while you are at it," suggested Ald. Drake.
"Most uncalled for," asserted Ald. "These deputations cost a lot of money in a year."

Mayor Wenige announced that he would have the public utilities pay 'shortly," as promised. "When can we expect it?" questioned Ald. Judd.

'Shortly!" retorted the mayor.
