

WEEKLY COLONIST AND CHRONICLE.

3

By Electric Telegraph.

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY BRITISH COLONIST

Eastern States.

New York, March 17.—The Tribune's Alsatian special says—the 15th Amendment was ratified by the Georgia Legislature, 64 to 32; the Democrats voting for ratification on the ground that it denied negroes the right to hold office. The matter came up in the Senate to-morrow. The same special reports more Koklux outrages on the negroes, they having killed some and whipped others.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The bill concerning the Educational and Collection Department of the Freedmen's Bureau was postponed until January 11th, 1871, together with a large number of other bills.

A joint resolution relating to lighthouses on the coast of Oregon was passed.

New York, March 17.—Several important nominations were agreed upon in the Cabinet, but it is positively asserted that the President will make no further important nominations until the Treasury Office Bill is disposed of by the Senate.

The Tribune's special insists that Sumner prepared a warlike speech on the Alabama Treaty question, now meeting his doom.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The city is still overrun with office seekers and the number is increasing by every train. Senators and representatives are overwhelmed with letters and personal applications. Efforts are being made to secure the appointment of Ebenezer Bassett, colored principal in a school in Philadelphia, as Minister to Hayti.

The Joint Commission of the British and American Governments to settle the Hudson Bay and Puget Sound difficulties meets at New York to-morrow. The united amounts of claims of the two companies is six millions.

The President sent several nominations to the Senate to-day, but none of an important character.

Ex President Johnson left for Tennessee yesterday.

The Ways and Means Committee have determined to recommend separate action on the tax bill relating to tobacco and spirits.

The Senate has confirmed Frank Moore of New York as Secretary of Legation at Madrid.

Mauritius, March 17.—A election Sunday night destroyed the fruit crop.

New York, March 17.—General Wm. Barstow, formerly on the staff of Gen. Dix, died last night.

Two more victims of the fever by the Grippe James Foster died yesterday.

Comptroller Elihu K. Owen has been ordered to San Francisco to take command of the gunboat Cyane.

Cuernavaca, March 17.—St. Patrick's Day was generally celebrated.

New York, March 17.—Polo Rico advises me that the names of several young men for expressing favorable sentiments to the Cuban revolutionists. The garrisons are being changed on account of disaffection. There is much excitement there.

Europe, March 17.—People say they are going to weed their gardens when they have enough already.

MADRID, March 17.—Prince told the Cortes that the Monarchs were prepared with a candidate for the throne and would name him shortly.

The Cortes have appointed four permanent Commissioners to supervise their business. It is said the draft of the new constitution establishes complete civil and religious liberty, but retains Catholicism as the State religion. There is a serious disturbance in Andalusia. At Ferrol Montorio, Minister Sagasta has advised the Cortes not to endorse the Constitution.

Berlin, March 17.—A bill has passed the Parliament securing the freedom of speech in all German districts.

California, San Francisco, March 17.—Legal Tenders $31,723, the force is 1,028,989. The marked in reference to these the results of the new year, as far as regards the under various heads, will be realized before 1877, the has already entered upon law of the 1st of January, nine five contingents under applying to those who have benefit of being sent into having passed five years naval constructions is thus composed, on the 31st Dec 430 vessels, of which 331 with a total of 76,165 horse besides, in course of com- others of 3,710 horse stocks, thirty-one more of and one sailing transport, into two direct portions, the vessels which form part, to be constituted in the programme in course of 1857, and the second, remains of the old navy, to take place in the new, after transformation! The only one that consti- time strength of the em- 314 steamers and 14. A table shows—1: number of 50 of various armoured fighting ships, 4. 3. 91 small steamers, 12, etc. 4. Transports, 22; and finally the two one for gunners and the transports. Of the old fleet 17 steamers and 29 sail- ships.

San Francisco, March 18.—The report that Gen. George H. Thomas is to succeed Gen. Haleck is confirmed. Gen. Haleck is to command the military division of the South, headquarters at Louisville, Kentucky. The 9th and 12th regiments of Infantry are to go East.

The Montana sailed for Panama at noon today, to establish a branch railway.

Legal Tenders $31,723.

Arrived, March 17, ship Elizabeth Kimball from Liverpool, British Oak, Port Madison, bark Gen. Cobb, Port Orchard.

The mail steamer Colorado arrived from Panama this morning.

THE SEED STORE, Springfield, Mass.

Chicago, March 18.—Washington special says that the House went into Committee on Foreign Affairs, and considered the Cuba and San Domingo questions, but failed to no conclusion.

In the meantime the West India squadron is being heavily reinforced.

The ostensible object is to protect American citizens in Cuba, but it is well understood to mean something else.

Should the revolution gain much further headway, steps will undoubtedly be taken to recognize the independence of the island of Cuba by our government.

Annsing.

THE GRAND PROMOTERS OF HEALTH.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

Uncle Nick was a good man, but he found a great deal of fault, and especially with the present religion of the day. "I want," says Uncle Nick, "and we all want, a religion that beats not only on the sinfulness of sin, but on the baseness of lying and stealing; a religion that banishes all small measures from the counters, small baskets from the stalls, peddles from the cotton-bags, sand from sugar, chickory from the coffee, alum from bread, lard from butter, strychnine from wine, and water from the milk cans. The religion that is to advance the world," says Uncle Nick, "will not put all the big strawberries and peaches on top, and all the bad ones at the bottom. It will not offer more baskets of foreign wines than the vineyard ever produced bottles. I tell you, says Uncle Nick, "the religion that is to sanctify the world pays its debts. It does not consider forty cents returned for one hundred given according to gospel, even if it should be according to law. It looks upon a man who has failed in trade, and who continues to live in luxury, as a thief. It looks upon a man who promises to pay, and who fails to pay on demand, with or without interest, as a liar. It is not Uncle Nick pretty nearly right?"

A man down East, describing the prevalence of dwelling summing up with "They even fight with daggers in a room pitch dark." Is it possible?" was the reply. "Possible, sir! Why, I've seen them."

A man at a hotel recently ordered eleven beds for his own exclusive use, because he had been eleven nights without decent sleep, and wanted to make up the loss.

Why are seamstresses not admitted into so-called fashionable society? Because the codfish and shoddy aristocracy think there is nothing in them what-new-ever.

The latest from Paris.—What is the difference between a glass of water and a chignon? One is a load of air, and the other a verre de l'eau.

INDIGESTION.—Billious Health.

These complaints may sometimes be considered trifling, but they are very serious.

SCROFULES AND ALL GOUT.

For all kinds of scrofulous complaints, these medicines are a sovereign remedy. While the pills act upon the blood, which they purify, the contents passes through the pores of the skin, and cleanses every structure, as water saturated by solar air penetrates meat. The whole process of absorption and excretion is very speedily completed with friendly assistance. It will correct all functional derangements to which they are subject.

SCROFULES AND ALL GOUT.

No medicine will cure colds of long duration or such as are settled upon the chest so quickly as these famous Pills. Even in cases where the scrofulous complaint appears, the Pills may be taken as a certain and safe salve, taking care particularly if the patient be simultaneously well rubbed into the chest and throat night and morning.

GOUT, COLDS AND ASTHMA.

No medicine will cure colds of long duration or such as are settled upon the chest so quickly as these famous Pills. Even in cases where the scrofulous complaint appears, the Pills may be taken as a certain and safe salve, taking care particularly if the patient be simultaneously well rubbed into the chest and throat night and morning.

INDIGESTION.—Billious Health.

These complaints may sometimes be considered trifling, but they are very serious.

A PRETTY WOMAN.—A pretty woman is one of the institutions of the country—an angel in muslin and glory. She makes sunshine, blue sky, and happiness wherever she goes. Her path is one of delicious roses, perfume, and beauty. She is a sweet poem written in rare colors and choice silk, and good principles. Men stand up before her as many admiring points. Her words float around the ear like music, birds of paradise, or the perfumes of the Sabbath bell's. Without her society would lose its sweet attraction, the Church its firmest reliance, the young men the very best company. Her influence and generosity restrain the vicious, strengthen the faint-hearted. Wherever you find the virtuous woman, you also find innocence, beauty, subtract envy from friendship, multiply amiable accomplishments by sweetness of temper, divide wealth by sociality and economy, and reduce scandal to its lowest denomination by a modest Christian deportment.

Mr. Tintoretto," said a learned lady, "who had been showing off her wit at the expense of a danger, you remind me of a barometer that is swelled with nothing in the upper story." Divine Almine," weekly replied her admirer, "it's thanking you for the compliment, let me remind you that you occupy my upper story exclusively."

CONTRABAND.—People say they shall peace when they unshod them; that they break corn when they unbuckle it; that they dust furniture when they undress, or take the dust from it; that they scale fishes when they uncake them. Many men say they are going to weed their gardens when they have enough already.

The fair daughters of England; they add virtue to beauty, subtract envy from friendship, multiply amiable accomplishments by sweetness of temper, divide wealth by sociality and economy, and reduce scandal to its lowest denomination by a modest Christian deportment.

Mr. Tintoretto," said a learned lady, "who had been showing off her wit at the expense of a danger, you remind me of a barometer that is swelled with nothing in the upper story." Divine Almine," weekly replied her admirer, "it's thanking you for the compliment, let me remind you that you occupy my upper story exclusively."

Europe, March 17.—People say they shall peace when they unshod them; that they break corn when they unbuckle it; that they dust furniture when they undress, or take the dust from it; that they scale fishes when they uncake them. Many men say they are going to weed their gardens when they have enough already.

The fair daughters of England; they add virtue to beauty, subtract envy from friendship, multiply amiable accomplishments by sweetness of temper, divide wealth by sociality and economy, and reduce scandal to its lowest denomination by a modest Christian deportment.

Mr. Tintoretto," said a learned lady, "who had been showing off her wit at the expense of a danger, you remind me of a barometer that is swelled with nothing in the upper story." Divine Almine," weekly replied her admirer, "it's thanking you for the compliment, let me remind you that you occupy my upper story exclusively."

CONTRABAND.—People say they shall peace when they unshod them; that they break corn when they unbuckle it; that they dust furniture when they undress, or take the dust from it; that they scale fishes when they uncake them. Many men say they are going to weed their gardens when they have enough already.

The fair daughters of England; they add virtue to beauty, subtract envy from friendship, multiply amiable accomplishments by sweetness of temper, divide wealth by sociality and economy, and reduce scandal to its lowest denomination by a modest Christian deportment.

Mr. Tintoretto," said a learned lady, "who had been showing off her wit at the expense of a danger, you remind me of a barometer that is swelled with nothing in the upper story." Divine Almine," weekly replied her admirer, "it's thanking you for the compliment, let me remind you that you occupy my upper story exclusively."

CONTRABAND.—People say they shall peace when they unshod them; that they break corn when they unbuckle it; that they dust furniture when they undress, or take the dust from it; that they scale fishes when they uncake them. Many men say they are going to weed their gardens when they have enough already.

The fair daughters of England; they add virtue to beauty, subtract envy from friendship, multiply amiable accomplishments by sweetness of temper, divide wealth by sociality and economy, and reduce scandal to its lowest denomination by a modest Christian deportment.

Mr. Tintoretto," said a learned lady, "who had been showing off her wit at the expense of a danger, you remind me of a barometer that is swelled with nothing in the upper story." Divine Almine," weekly replied her admirer, "it's thanking you for the compliment, let me remind you that you occupy my upper story exclusively."

CONTRABAND.—People say they shall peace when they unshod them; that they break corn when they unbuckle it; that they dust furniture when they undress, or take the dust from it; that they scale fishes when they uncake them. Many men say they are going to weed their gardens when they have enough already.

The fair daughters of England; they add virtue to beauty, subtract envy from friendship, multiply amiable accomplishments by sweetness of temper, divide wealth by sociality and economy, and reduce scandal to its lowest denomination by a modest Christian deportment.

Mr. Tintoretto," said a learned lady, "who had been showing off her wit at the expense of a danger, you remind me of a barometer that is swelled with nothing in the upper story." Divine Almine," weekly replied her admirer, "it's thanking you for the compliment, let me remind you that you occupy my upper story exclusively."

CONTRABAND.—People say they shall peace when they unshod them; that they break corn when they unbuckle it; that they dust furniture when they undress, or take the dust from it; that they scale fishes when they uncake them. Many men say they are going to weed their gardens when they have enough already.

The fair daughters of England; they add virtue to beauty, subtract envy from friendship, multiply amiable accomplishments by sweetness of temper, divide wealth by sociality and economy, and reduce scandal to its lowest denomination by a modest Christian deportment.

Mr. Tintoretto," said a learned lady, "who had been showing off her wit at the expense of a danger, you remind me of a barometer that is swelled with nothing in the upper story." Divine Almine," weekly replied her admirer, "it's thanking you for the compliment, let me remind you that you occupy my upper story exclusively."

CONTRABAND.—People say they shall peace when they unshod them; that they break corn when they unbuckle it; that they dust furniture when they undress, or take the dust from it; that they scale fishes when they uncake them. Many men say they are going to weed their gardens when they have enough already.

The fair daughters of England; they add virtue to beauty, subtract envy from friendship, multiply amiable accomplishments by sweetness of temper, divide wealth by sociality and economy, and reduce scandal to its lowest denomination by a modest Christian deportment.

Mr. Tintoretto," said a learned lady, "who had been showing off her wit at the expense of a danger, you remind me of a barometer that is swelled with nothing in the upper story." Divine Almine," weekly replied her admirer, "it's thanking you for the compliment, let me remind you that you occupy my upper story exclusively."

CONTRABAND.—People say they shall peace when they unshod them; that they break corn when they unbuckle it; that they dust furniture when they undress, or take the dust from it; that they scale fishes when they uncake them. Many men say they are going to weed their gardens when they have enough already.

The fair daughters of England; they add virtue to beauty, subtract envy from friendship, multiply amiable accomplishments by sweetness of temper, divide wealth by sociality and economy, and reduce scandal to its lowest denomination by a modest Christian deportment.

Mr. Tintoretto," said a learned lady, "who had been showing off her wit at the expense of a danger, you remind me of a barometer that is swelled with nothing in the upper story." Divine Almine," weekly replied her admirer, "it's thanking you for the compliment, let me remind you that you occupy my upper story exclusively."

CONTRABAND.—People say they shall peace when they unshod them; that they break corn when they unbuckle it; that they dust furniture when they undress, or take the dust from it; that they scale fishes when they uncake them. Many men say they are going to weed their gardens when they have enough already.

The fair daughters of England; they add virtue to beauty, subtract envy from friendship, multiply amiable accomplishments by sweetness of temper, divide wealth by sociality and economy, and reduce scandal to its lowest denomination by a modest Christian deportment.

Mr. Tintoretto," said a learned lady, "who had been showing off her wit at the expense of a danger, you remind me of a barometer that is swelled with nothing in the upper story." Divine Almine," weekly replied her admirer, "it's thanking you for the compliment, let me remind you that you occupy my upper story exclusively."

CONTRABAND.—People say they shall peace when they unshod them; that they break corn when they unbuckle it; that they dust furniture when they undress, or take the dust from it; that they scale fishes when they uncake them. Many men say they are going to weed their gardens when they have enough already.

The fair daughters of England; they add virtue to beauty, subtract envy from friendship, multiply amiable accomplishments by sweetness of temper, divide wealth by sociality and economy, and reduce scandal to its lowest denomination by a modest Christian deportment.

Mr. Tintoretto," said a learned lady, "who had been showing off her wit at the expense of a danger, you remind me of a barometer that is swelled with nothing in the upper story." Divine Almine," weekly replied her admirer, "it's thanking you for the compliment, let me remind you that you occupy my upper story exclusively."

CONTRABAND.—People say they shall peace when they unshod them; that they break corn when they unbuckle it; that they dust furniture when they undress, or take the dust from it; that they scale fishes when they uncake them. Many men say they are going to weed their gardens when they have enough already.

The fair daughters of England; they add virtue to beauty, subtract envy from friendship, multiply amiable accomplishments by sweetness of temper, divide wealth by sociality and economy, and reduce scandal to its lowest denomination by a modest Christian deportment.

Mr. Tintoretto," said a learned lady, "who had been showing off her wit at the expense of a danger, you remind me of a barometer that is swelled with nothing in the upper story." Divine Almine," weekly replied her admirer, "it's thanking you for the compliment, let