> (Special to the Colonist.) VANCOUVER.

VANCOUVER, June 11 .- Attorney-General W. M. Goodman, of Hong Kong, said to a Colonist representative at the Hotel Vancouver last evening that he had nothing to suggest of any importance that would improve the condition of passengers on the splendid steamers of the Canadian-Australian line. The service is excellent, and the passengers ticed that on the P. & O. lines, however that they had a mail bag for passengers. This, he thought, might be done by the Canadian Co. It would be a small matter to have a letter box in the purser's office and a very great convenience to the passengers, who could quietly post perhaps very important letters with a Canadian stamp on them, instead of forthe hurry and scurry at landing. It becomes monotonous, continued Mr. Goodman, to listen to the stereotyped remarks on board the Canadian-Australian line (I have been across on it several times) about the Canadian steamships that so slowly cross the Atlantic. and I am very glad to hear that the Imperial and Canadian governments are Atlantic line of steamers. The accommodation is so much better on the American lines and the steamers are so much faster that the traveller from the Orient does not hesitate at all in choosing which line to go by. Mr. Goodman says that the plague in Hongkong is being stamped out and is entirely confined to the Mongolian population. A sanitary board is impowered to visit any suspected house, clean it out, fumigate it effectively and whitewash the whole place. Mr. Goodman, who has been acting chief justice at Hongkong for some time is on his way to England for a brief rest from
