BRITISH FREEDOM

Next summer there will be inaugurated in South Africa another great self-governing state of the British Empire, formed by the union of the Colonies of The Cape, Natal, Orange River, Transvaal and several little territories enclosed by or contiguous to those above named. The new state will be entirely independent of the British Islands, but, having the same monarch as the United Kingdom and the other British possessions, will remain a part of the great British Empire, of which Canada, Newfoundland, Australia and New Zealand are parts entirely independent of each other and practically independent of the mother country as well. As in Canada the two languages most spoken, are placed on an equal footing, the two in the South Africa case being English and Dutch. It speaks volumes for British justice and fair play that such generosity is shown the nationality that seven years ago had just been completely conquered in a hard fought three years' war. The Dutch of South Africa are now likely to ever call in the armies of Germany or any other power to free them from British tyranny. The probability is that they will prove, as did the French in Canada during the two great struggles between Britain and the United States, the most ardent and determined supporters of British connection.

Britain's practical recognition of the absolute independence of all her self governing colonies, under the same sovereign, marks an era in colonial history. No other nation has done so. Spain lost all her American colonies except Porto Rico, by rebellion, the party granting of equal rights to Cuba, not sufficing to hold that island loyal to the homeland. Britain, trusting to the inherent loyalty of her dependent kinsmen, has recognized them as equals, and thus laid the foundation upon which may soon be built up an organic union of states of equal rank, in which each for its own and the common good will give up part of its sovereignty to a general parliament freely elected by the people of each state in numbers proportionate to the total population of each. Such a union, when once formed by the free choice of its component parts, will last. The day of colonial rebellion in British history would seem to have passed forever.

The only defect in the constitution of South Africa is its ignoring all races but the European. It is hard on the negroes, who form five sixths of the population and who were moreover, the owners of the land when the Whites arrived, to be debarred from any share in the government. The Whites have no right to thus exclude other races. If they do not wish to be influenced by other races, they should leave them alone and divide the land with them. The Negroes of South Africa, as well as the Hindu immigrants there, will, by and by, strike for their free dom and they will ultimately get it. It would be wiser, not to say anything of the justice of the case, to give them their rights now.

Lightning killed a baseball catcher a few days ago, but it is generally agreed that the bolt was aimed at the umpire.

The main trouble is, that when a tourist tries to go through a country, the country sees him first and goes through him.

A Western paper says—The charter member of the Ancient Order of Danphools is the man who writes all he knows in a diary and loses it.

China is said to be busy making money and to have no time for fighting. There are no idle hands waiting for the mischief Satan is supposed to provide.

The Montreal contractor who did not pay anything for his City Hall contract, but only placed $500 on the desk of the alderman who helped him get the contract, makes fine distinctions.

The charge that Americans sit as spectators at baseball games, is refuted by the news that Michigan crowd the other day chased the umpire two miles.

The erection of monuments to years of peace is a much more hopeful sign than the erecting of monuments to the heroes or the achievements of war. Perhaps a nation is best known by its monuments.

The Canadian Forestry Association is scattering good advice broadcast throughout the Dominion, and so far as it is followed, future generations will look back on this public service with gratitude.

Montreal, having objected to the inspection of meats offered for sale for human consumption, now has a series of poisonings, the experiments with human safety come high, but Montreal must have them.

One of the Government bridges for the other day, and now another has tumbled down near Fredericton, N. B. killing two men and injuring two.

The Montreal Times and other papers which published the above, know that it is far from being correct. The bridge which fell is nothing but a temporary wooden trestle over which cars of earth were run and dumped to make a fill. But what do they sayers care if the bridge is a point of contact for the present government?

More Deadly Than Cancer.

It is said on high authority, that cancer causes only 30 deaths in every thousand deaths, while Indigestion causes, directly or indirectly, fully one-half of all the deaths in this country. Indigestion starves the body, weakens the nerves, poisons the blood and in short, reduces the life-power and vigor in its victims. You need not fear Indigestion, if you take after meals a dose of the famous digestive tonic, Mother Seigel's Syrup. It is made wholly from herbs, and corrects the disordered stomach as no other medicine can do. Mrs. Ralph Stephenson, of Varna P.O., Huron County, Ont., wrote on Jan 23, 1909, saying: "We have used Mother Seigel's Syrup for years and always keep it in the house. As a stomach medicine we recommend it very highly. It always keeps us healthy and well." Price 60 cts per bottle. Sold everywhere. A. J. White & Co., Ltd., Montreal.

Lancaster, Ont., Sept. 16, 1908

At first I took five tablets a day, but now I take only one tablet every two days. I am now entirely well, and thanks to "Fruit-A-Tives" I give you permission to publish this testimonial. (Madame) Zenophile Bonnevillie.

The common people of Spain are protesting against war. This is a hopeful sign, for they must bear war's greatest penalties.

The Toronto police have decided to let a lacrosse or other athlete who deliberately strikes another while a game is in progress. That's good.

Japan and Russia are said to be again mobilizing troops in Manchuria. This is not fair; they should give others a turn before starting a new fight.

An unstable settlement of the issues between China and Japan is expected shortly on the basis, no doubt, of China's agreeing to everything Japan asks.

CARD

To the Ratepayers of the Parish of Dalhousie

Having accepted the nomination so kindly offered me by my friends, I shall be a candidate at the forthcoming election of Councillors for our Parish. I thank you for your support two years ago when I lost my election by the casting vote of the Chairman. My defeat on that occasion was entirely accidental. This time however, I am convinced that I shall obtain a majority of your votes. And if elected, I assure you that the interests of our Parish will not be neglected by me, as the experience I have had in the Council in the past will be a benefit to me, being familiar with the general business of the Council. It is my intention between now and election day, to see you at your homes, but should I be for any reason prevented, I trust you will vote for me the same as I had met you previously. Thanking you in advance for your support, which I trust will be so generous as to be more than sufficient to elect me.

I remain,
Yours very faithfully,
