on not only elevates them above above suspicion. On the great but above suspicion. On the g days especially, when every del is crowded with customers and e ment is crowded with tempting articles, the opporent ease and immunity with which a cheft can be effected, joined to the attractive ness of the goods, are sure to lure numbers of swomen (for these thefts are rarely committee ley to step with him into a back room, me the is searched, and the stolen articles taken from her. If it is a first offence, she amissed with a reprimand.

Then detected in a second theft the offender inducted before the Administrative Counsif the House, her name and address are deaded, and her abede is searched through medium of a permit which she is required give. Usually a large quantity of interpretation of the house, for whose presence she is unable to come, is found in her rooms. The unused feles are taken away, and she is obliged to mish a written promise of payment to the promise are taken away, and she is obliged to mish a written promise of payment to the promise are taken away, and she is obliged to mish a written promise of payment to the promise of the quarter. There is, in fact, certain privileged quarters. Pairs where there are no poor people, so only are the needs of the indigent provided refrom this source. Should the thief prove mtumacious, and refuse to give her name at address, she is handed over to the slice and is prosecuted in ordinary fashion. mong these shop thieves are numbered dies of the highest rank, the wives of forcar ambassadors, etc. Some of these women re undoubtedly the victims of kleptomania. The of them, an immensely rich old Countess, so well known that whenever she enters one the great shops all the "watchers" are on he alert. They are sure to catch her sooner relater in the act of helping herself to some riffing object, such as a pair of gloves, a box of swriting paper, a pocketbook, or a box of ibbon. She is then politely requested to go before the Administrative Council, and for sach offence is fined $100, which she pays lown at once without protestation or hieves fined stolen, even for children. Ribbons, rlaves, knicktnacks, fans, ornaments, etc., are the objects that are usually taken.

At the approach of the holiday season thieves fairly swarm in the large stores. In a single one there were 105 arrested last Christmas Eve. Not one of the throng was prosecuted. There ortsmen in this part of Nevada are lang the great slaughter of quails made by unters on the Carson and in other places birds sought shelter during the late orm. Such slaughter is to be deplored, may be that we shall have a new stock of quail sent us. A few years ago we had in this city a most remarkable shower of quail. in one evening. The tragedy of "Chatter the drama of "The Color Sergeant," the control was a reminder of the great shower of quail we read of in the Bible - the shower that fell in the camp of the Israelites when they began howling about the flesh pots they had left be-hind in Egypt. The irruption of qualls ochowling about the flesh pots they had left behind in Egypt. The irruption of qualis occurred about 4 o'clock in the evening in the fall of the year. The flight of birds came from the northward, as was supposed, as they settled in the north end of the city. Where the qualicame from no one could imagine, as they were of the large mountain variety, and perfect beauties. The fall o'birds extended from about Suttonsavenue out north to the Union shaft, reaching over three-quarters of a mile of ground. When they fell they seemed to be completely exhausted. People caught them by putting their hats over them, or by simply picking them up. Everybody had quail.

A Shower of Quall in Nevada.

Besides the birds that were killed, about a hundred were caught alive and kept in cages and pens in various parts of the town. A curious thing was that those that were caught and caged seemed perfectly tame and at home at once. There were at that time many conflicting opinions about this great flight of quails. The most probable solution of the phenomenon was that the birds had collected at some point in the Sierras for the purpose of migrating to the southward, but had either mistaken their course or had been blown out of it, and so flew on and on till they were obliged to come to the ground through exhaustion. Night coming on soon after the flight of the birds fell, hundreds roosted about the town, and next day boys were catching and killing them up to 11 or 12 o'clock. By that time nearly all the bewildered wanderers had scattered away into the hills. There they doubless remained to breed and stock the country, as it is not known that they ever got together again to try a second flight.

What a truly beautiful world we live in!
Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof that Green's August Flower will make them free from disease as when born. Dyspepsia and liver complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five percent, of such muladies as billousness, indigestion, sick headache, costiveness, nervous pross tration, dizziness of the head, palpitation of the theart, and other distressing symptomas Three doses of August Flower will prove it worderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents Try:it. Enjoy Life.
