Mr. Smale had fired off a charge of dynamite and displayed a large quantity of stones at the bottom of the river. He went down to prepare for liting these stones by the aid of chains into the punt. While engaged in rolling over a large stone he saw something which he supposed at the time was a piece of clean looking kelp moving about in front of where he was working. In a few seconds this object came in contact with the diver's arms, about which it quickly coiled, partly holding him. Immediately Mr. Smale touched what was coiled round his arm he became aware of his position, and tried to extricate himself, but he found it more difficult than he anticipated.
