It's 900 years since the failure of a bank in China," said a bank examiner.

"Over 900 years ago, in the reign of Hi Hung, a bank failed. Hi Hung had the failure investigated, and to his indignation found it had been due to weakness and shady conduct on the part of its president and directors."

Hi Hung at once issued an edict that the next time a bank failed, the heads of the president and directors were to be cut off. This edict, which has never been revoked, has made China's banking institutions the safest in the world."

CHAIRS WORTH FORTUNES

Shah Has One Made of Solid Gold, Valued at $2,500,000.

The value of chairs is strictly relative. Enormous prices have been paid for chairs in recent years, notably $100,000 for a set of half a dozen Louis XIV chairs, upholstered in Gobelin tapestry, which were originally made for Marie Antoinette.

Even this price was exceeded by the sum paid for three of the Hamilton palace tables, one of which brought $30,000.

A most valuable and historically interesting suite of furniture is that which, more than a century ago, was presented by Warren Hastings to Tipu Sahib, and which was purchased at the London sale for $2,000.

The suite consists of a card table, a sofa, two small cabinets, and four arm chairs, all of solid ivory most exquisitely carved.

But probably the most costly chair in the world is one of the many treasures of the Shah of Persia. It is of solid gold—thickly encrusted with diamonds, rubies, pearls and sapphires, and its value is estimated at half a million pounds.

A short time ago a romantic story was told in the French papers of two dilapidated arm chairs which were sold among the effects of a Mme. Borg, a widow, who died at Delhi, an Afghan seaport town.

The widow was reputed to be rich, but a thorough search of her rooms failed to disclose any of her belongings, and it was assumed by her relatives that she had died practically penniless.

Not long after the sale of her furniture, however, it was observed that the purchaser of the chairs, a Spanish stevedore named Perez, ceased to work, began to walk about in fine clothes, to purchase lands and houses, and generally gave evidence of having come into a fortune.

Suspicion being aroused, Perez was arrested, and now stands accused of having appropriated to his own use the old lady's fortune, of at least $20,000, which had been concealed by her in the dilapidated armchairs.

Bowel Complaint in Children.

KEEP CHILDREN WELL.

Stomach and bowel troubles kill thousands of little ones during the hot weather. Diarrhoea, cholera and cholera infantum sometimes come without warning and if prompt aid is not at hand the child may be beyond aid in a few hours. If you want to keep your children healthy, rosy and full of life during the hot weather give them an occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets. This medicine prevents illness and cures it when it comes unexpectedly. And the mother has the guarantee of a government inspection that this medicine is absolutely safe. Mrs. W. J. Munroe, Sinaloa, Sinaloa, says: "For more than three years Baby's Own Tablets is the only medicine I have given my children, and I think the Tablets invaluable for stomach and bowel troubles." Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Keep the Tablets in the house.

HYMENEAL.

KINNEAR-POOLE.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Israel Poole at St. Croix Cove, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on the 27th ult., when their youngest daughter, Edith, was united in marriage with Harold Kinnear, of Halifax.

At five o'clock, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by W. K. Crisp, the bride entered the room accompanied by her cousin, Miss Alice Messenger, of Cliftondale, Mass., acting as bridesmaid, and took her stand under the bridal arch.

The groom was attended by Kenneth Craig, of Bridgetown. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. B. Kinley, of Port Lorne. The bride was tastefully gowned in white with bridal veil, and carried a large bouquet of flowers. Instead of the customary orange blossoms she wore in her hair a delicate spray of fish scales and bead work from the West Indies. The bridesmaid also wore white, and the room was appropriately decorated with pink and white festooning. After congratulations, the party partook of a sumptuous repast, after which a very pleasant evening was spent. About fifty guests were present.

In the course of the evening the "boys" turned out in force and gave the bride and groom a rousing salute. The bride received a number of very appropriate presents. Mr. and Mrs. Kinnear left for their future home on Friday.

Miss Edith, now Mrs. Kinnear, will be greatly missed from her home and the community, where her many friends unite with us in extending to them our sincere congratulations and best wishes for a happy and prosperous future.
