BELIEVES KITCHENER IS ALIVE

His Sister Says He is a Prisoner in Germany.

Miss Mary Boyle O'Reilly, who is to lecture in Bangor, told a reporter who interviewed her on Tuesday: "Shortly after the report came that Lord Kitchener had been lost with the Hampshire, I sent Mrs. Parker, Lord Kitchener's sister, as a mark of sympathy, a bouquet of orchids.

"Immediately I received a note from her asking to call. I wore a black dress, believing it appropriate for the occasion.

"Why the mourning?" she asked me as I entered.

"Of course I explained to her that I had read of the death of Lord Kitchener.

"Why, you do not suppose that Herbert is dead? He is not dead. I want you to write to Ambassador Gerard asking him to find out in which German camp he is now interned."

"Mrs. Parker then said that the British Admiralty had promptly notified the families of all the sailors on the Hampshire of their loss at sea and had sent blanks with which to fill out applications for pensions. Yet, after this had been done, contrary to the usual dilatory policy of the Admiralty, eighteen survivors of the Hampshire turned up. If these men who were thought dead, came back to England, Mrs. Parker thought that there was great likelihood of the same being true of her brother.

"Then Mrs. Parker declared: "I know my brother is a prisoner in a German camp," she said with emphasis. Sir Richard Cooper has received two letters indicating where he is.

"But when the question was raised in Parliament, the speaker was pulled down by messengers from the King's bench. Kitchener is a tabooed subject in England.

"And," said Miss O'Reilly to the interviewer, "today in England, Lloyd's has insurance on wagers that Kitchener is still living to the extent of a million dollars. Thousands of people in that country still believe he is living. Personally, I do not, but, of course, it is possible. Why doesn't the British Government allow proof to be given that he is dead? That is the most mysterious feature of the whole thing to me."

The financial statement of the Provincial exhibition shows that the expenditure was $41,269.01. There is a deficit of $3,907.02.

It is much better to think proudly of what we are going to do tomorrow than to dwell fondly on what we have done today.

Mrs. Nickerson, from Shelburne, arrived on Saturday to be present at the marriage of her mother, Mrs. Ensor, and is a guest at the home of Mr. J. B. Templeman.

Some unknown parties entered the home of Mr. Emmerson Mitchell on Saturday night. All the eatables were taken from the pantry. On Monday morning about two o'clock, they made a call on Mr. Charles Milbury. They visited the barn first and took out the horse, then they went to the wagon house and in trying to get the wagon out was heard, and left in a hurry. In the morning Mr. Milbury found his horse in the field.

A quiet home wedding took place at "Le Pond Cottage," at 4 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 21st, when Mrs. Sarah Ensor, of Chiltondale, Mass., was united in marriage to Mr. John B. Templeman. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. B. Kinley. In the evening they were serenaded by their friends. All were invited in and a very pleasant evening was spent. Refreshments were served, and the friends departed leaving behind them many expressions of good wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Templeman, for a long life of happiness.

A telegram was received from Ottawa Thursday, Nov. 15th, conveying the sad news to his family, that Private Harry Bailey, second son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bailey, of this place, was killed in action, on Sept. 30th. Besides his parents he is survived by four brothers and one sister. Private Bailey joined the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade and took part in the battle of Vimy Ridge and several other engagements. He was a very popular young man and one of the finest characters. The profound sympathy of his many friends will go to his family in their hour of bitter loss.

CLARENCE CENTRE.

Nov. 26th

The teacher and pupils of the Central Clarence school intend holding the annual Christmas concert on the evening of Wednesday, Dec. 19th. Two features of the evening, will be a Playlet, dramatized from "Little Woman," by the young ladies of the school, and a "Military Flag Drill," by the boys. Parents kindly keep this date in mind and assist the children by encouraging them in regular and prompt school attendance, as the success of the entertainment depends upon this.

LIKE AN ELECTRIC BUTTON ON TOES

Tells Why a Corn is so Painful and why Cutting Makes Them Grow.

Press an electric button and you form a contact with a live wire which rings the bell. When your shoes press against your corn it pushes its sharp roots down upon a sensitive nerve and you get a shock of pain.

Instead of trimming your corns, which merely makes them grow, just step into any drug store and ask for a quarter of an ounce of freezeone. This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. A few drops applied directly upon a tender, aching corn stops the soreness instantly, and soon the corn shrivels up so it lifts right out, root and all, without pain. This drug freezeone, is harmless and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin.

Where Cooks Have No Fire

The Marois, of Northern New Zealand eat cooked food, yet they have no fire and are never troubled about coal or gas bills. When the Maroi housewife of that particular district wishes to cook a meal she places her kettle in a pond of boiling water near by and waits until the water in the kettle boils. The natives have been careful to build their huts near friendly hot-water geysers.

When the housewife wishes to cook meat she puts it in a dish with a grating for the bottom, and places the dish above one of the many holes through which steam escapes from the ground. This dish is covered, and the steam soon cooks the meat.

Oh! My! That Smells Good!

And, madam, you should just smell the fragrance of crushed coffee after it is brewed. And the flavor of it! Well, you never tasted ground coffee with a flavor just like Red Rose Coffee. Coffee critics, those who have travelled far and wide and tasted coffees in various climes, tell us they have never tasted more delicious coffee. Some have even said—but we will refrain from printing such high praise. We prefer you to try Red Rose Crushed Coffee without revealing anything further as to its quality. We don't want to take all the edge off the surprise in store for you when you try it. And the same price it was three years ago.
