The Protestant Bishop of Tuam has been here, and was presented to his Holiness according to his own request. He wore his apron, and knelt three times, according to usage. The Pope almost anticipated the ceremony by rising in the most cordial manner, and shaking both his hands, and told him, through his interpreter, that he was pleased to meet the son of Lord Plunkett, and added that he felt a lively and grateful recollection of the services rendered to the [Roman Catholics of Great Britain and Ireland by the eloquence and reasoning powers of his illustrious father. sented in respect to the progress of Church-building at the two opposite ends of the globe. The Bishop there stated that "he had now completed his survey of the chief towns of his diocese, Auckland, Wellington, and Nelson, and would report the wants which he wished to be supplied. At Auckland a small brick church, in the Early English style, was in progress when he arrived; the design not bad, but the size and character of the building anything but striking. He had chosen a site for another church of grander dimensions, on which he intended to begin as soon as possible to build opon the plan of the Chancei already furnished to him by the [Cambirdge Camden] Society. CHRISTIAN CHARITY IN POLEMICAL WRITERS: (To the Editor of The Oxford University Herald.)

Sir,-I beg leave to call the attention of some of your respondents to Dr. Parr's Letters. Theological conversy is as rife now as in the days of Bishop Montague, nd maintained with the same difference of spirit on either side; for there is as much difference between the spirit which pervades the writings of Archbishop Laud and Montague on the one hand and their persecutors on the other, as between the Record and Co. in the present day and the general spirit of controversial works on the other side—to particularize but two, Dr. Pusey's Letters and Mr. Perceval's Letter to the Bishop of Chester.

THE ROMAN CATHOLIC BAZAAR. To the Editor of the Manchester Courier.

Sir,-I am sorry to learn that the bazaar, intended to be held in Easter week, for the building of St. Bernard's Abbey, by the Roman Catholics, is supported by many who call themselves Protestants. It is surprising that any who think at all on the subject can encourage by their presence, and aid by their liberality, the endeavours rrupt church (one against whose errors they protest), in the extension of its false principles and much abused power. By lending any assistance, however trivial, to this object, they become partakers of the iniquity of Rome. If they who compound and administer poison be guilty, can they who voluntarily give their money for the purchase of poison be guiltless? If to destroy the body be a great crime, how much greater to destroy the soul? I do not dwell on the plea of putting a sword in the hand of an enemy, wherewith to wound or destroy us: for this is the age of liberty, and it is considered a breach of charity to suppose that any sect can be so cruel as to persecute. The off mis-applied text, "Ye know not what monner of spirit ye are of," is quoted to support such liberality of sentiment; but ough I would condemn the calling down of fire from heaven, or any kind of persecution, yet I cannot learn from the Apostle's relation of the circumstance that it was the desire of our Saviour that his disciples should give the hand of fellowship to those who would not receive their blessed Master, and join them in the unhallowed work of driving him from the place.
I would ask if there is no other method of laying out oney for the good of our fellow-men? Are all the Pro ant churches which are wanted built and endowed? Do either of the church-building societies refuse to receive more subscriptions, that the sons and daughters of the Church are throwing their time, their talents, and their riches into the coffers of the church of Rome? Are there no heathen nations for the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel to Christianize?-no poor among urselves lacking the word of God?

Do we not hear a cry for more resources and more labourers on all sides? Alas! that these calls should remain unanswered, from poverty:—but doubly is it to be deploted that a deaf ear is turned to them, while the allurements of a fancy fair for an unholy purpose quickly

It is from no wish to enter into controversy, but merely to point out to my fellow-Churchmen the importance of acting conscientiously on this, as well as on greater occasions, that this has been written, by one who endeavours

PRINCE EDWARD DISTRICT COUNCIL. - The session of this body will probably close to night (Thursday.) Their time has been principally occupied on the subject of roads, and the alteration of School Districts. The question of sassessment for school purposes, was deferred for the present. The proceedings were rather dull and uninteresting, until Mr. Howell brought up his address to the new Governor General, when a general flare up" took place on the amendment of Mr. Stevenson. The amendment contained a clause, disapproving of the policy of the administration of the late Governor General in his appointments to office. This brought forth some very spicy speeches from Messrs. Stevenson, Howell, Clark, Bentley, Rose, and Hubbs. The amended address was carried. Stevenson, Dempsey, Hubbs, Noxon, Lane, Clark. Nays, Messrs, Howell, Rose, Bentley, Roblin, Dunning. Since writing the above the Warden has refused to sign the address, on the ground that, as that document accused the administration of the late Governor of selecting individuals of "doubtful loyalty" to fill offices of trust, he could not sign his own accusation, as he held his office under the administration demned. A resolution of want of confidence was then passed, and a request that the government would remove the Warden, or dissolve the Council!!!

At St. Pancras Church, London, Richard Potter, Esq., A.M., Professor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy in the University of King's College Torouts, Canada, to Mary Anne, daughter of the late Edward Pilkington, Esq., of Urney, King's County, Ireland. DIED.

In this city, on Tuesday 16th, greatly regretted, at the house of his father on Lot Street, George, fifth son of Mr. John M. Savigny, having nearly completed his 21st year. His death was occasioned by an accident while shooting on the Friday morning previous.

At Sheffield, England, on the 13th April last, Mr. Thos. Champion, and 7 are a few seconds.

nearly completed his 21st year. His death was occasioned by an accident while shooting on the Friday morning previous.

At Sheffield, England, on the 13th April last, Mr. Thos. Champion, aged 71:

In this city, on the 17th instant, after a painful illness, borne with truly Christian meckness, Hannah, eldest daughter of Mr. Thomas Cuttell, printer, aged 16.

At Kingston, on the 7th May, instant, Colonel C. L. L. Foster, half-pay unattached, Assistant Adjutant General to the Forces in Canada West, aged 63 years. Colonel Foster entered the service as Ensign in the 52nd Regiment, in December, 1799, and was for some time Adjutant of the 2nd Battalion of that renowned corps. He served for a short period, in 1808, in the Peninsula, but in 1809 returned to England, from whence he proceeded to Jamaica as Military Secretary to his Grace the Duke of Manchester, the Governor General of that island. In 1810 he was sent by that nobleman on a special embassy to the Spanish authorities at the Havannah, where he remained some mouths. In 1811 he returned to England, and subsequently served in Ireland as Aide-de-Camp to General Gordon Drummond, who then commanded the Kilkenny district. In 1813 he came on the staff of that officer to Canada, and has since les to meloyed as Assistant Adjutant General. During a period of forty-four years he has constantly been on full or staff-pay, and since he came to Canada, in 1813, he had but just six months leave of absence, viz., in 1832 when he revisited his native land. With a perfect knowledge of his duty, and a most intimate acquaintance with the regulations of the service. Colonel Foster united a bland and courteous demeanor, which will long cause him to be remembered by the various military men who have been in this command during the last 30 years. As a friend, an officer, and a gentleman, his superiors could not be found, and in the private and domestic relations of life, he was equally lappy. His commissions were dated respectively as follows:—Ensign, 1799 a Lieutenant, 1800; Capatan, Rev. S. Givins; Mr. C. Hinds; Rev. H. Patton, add. sub.; Rev. S. Givins; Mr. C. Hinds; Rev. H. Patton, add. sub.; Rev. S. E. J. Boswell (2) rem., [the parcel was sent on the 18th]; P. M. Cornwall; Rev. E. Denroche, rem.; Rev. J. Hickie; Rev. C. P. Reid; Rev. J. Butler [many thanks].

We have received the parcel from our South Carolina friend, and beg to return him our best thanks.
