

CONTENTS

xi

PAGE	SECTION	PAGE
184	93. "Assembling" a Proposition . . . . .	187
188	94. Financing a Proposition—The Initial Development . . . . .	188
141	95. Foresight in Providing Funds . . . . .	190
148	96. Advantages of a Wide Distribution of Stock . . . . .	191
144	97. "Starting Right" in the Sale of Stock . . . . .	191
	98. A Concrete Illustration . . . . .	192

CHAPTER XIII.

THE PROMOTER AND THE CORPORATION.

47	99. Professional Promoters . . . . .	197
49	100. Lawyers and Bankers as Promoters . . . . .	199
50	101. Engineering Firms as Promoters . . . . .	199
53	102. Secret Profits are Illegal . . . . .	201
	103. Misleading Statements Constitute Fraud . . . . .	204
	104. Contracts on Behalf of the Corporation and Their Ac- ceptance . . . . .	205
55	105. The Promoter's Pay . . . . .	205
57	106. The Promoter's Risks and Labors . . . . .	208
8	107. Is the Promoter Over-Paid? . . . . .	208

CHAPTER XIV.

CORPORATE PROMOTION—FORMING CONSOLIDATIONS.

108. The Importance of Small Industrial Combinations . . . . .	210
109. Difficulties in the Promoter's Task . . . . .	211
110. "Discovery" of a Small Consolidation . . . . .	212
111. Basis of Consolidation . . . . .	213
112. The Necessity for Cash . . . . .	220
113. One Method of Raising Cash . . . . .	221
114. Problems in Forming a Large Consolidation . . . . .	224
115. Basis of Consolidation . . . . .	225
116. The Interborough-Metropolitan Consolidation . . . . .	226
117. Canada's Experience in Forming Consolidations . . . . .	228
118. Basis of Consolidation . . . . .	230
119. Dangers of Over-Capitalization . . . . .	232
120. Reorganization of Industrial Consolidations . . . . .	233
121. Most Complicated Merger in Canada's History . . . . .	236