Gen. Mewburn replied that no definite decision had yet been reached, but he hoped that some scheme would be worked out whereby there would be a proper building. There would also be a distribution of trophies thrusty the Tomician.

Establish an Air Board.

The house then took up in committee the government bill to establish an air board to control aeronautics in Canada. There must be some development of commercial aeronautics in the immediate future, said Hon. A. K. MacLean, who had charge of the bill. The air board would have entire control of any commercial or government services. Mr. Morphy asked if the government intended to utilize the services on the board of returned Canadian aviators. Mr. MacLean replied that they would be represented on the board.

In reply to Mr. Stevens of Vancouver, Mr. MacLean said the government had not yet considered the advisability of entering the field of commercial aeronautics. Nor, said Mr. MacLean, replying to the leader of the opposition, had the government decided to establish a training school. Establish an Air Board.

Mewburn Foreshadows.

It was necessary that the present legislation be enacted before the government could determine its policy in regard to the development of aeronautics. The immediate policy was to control aeronautics, to attend to the licensing of pilots, the licensing and inspection of machines and the supervision of routes. General Mewburn said the imperial authorities had spent millions of dollars at Camp Borden and the property had been turned over to the militia department for a mere song. He said he had in mind the reorganization of the militia and no doubt the air force would be one of the large features.

Mr. Lemieux suggested that Col. Bishop should be on the air board. General Mewburn replied, laughingly, that at present Col. Bishop was making something like $30,000 a month in the United States and he thought there was not money enough in the militia department to induce him to act on the board now, but probably he would be available later.

The bill was reported out of committee and now stands for third reading.

Second reading was then given to Mewburn Foreshadows.

Second reading was then given to Hon. T. A. Crerar's bill to amend the live stock and live stock products act, and the house went into committee on it, Among other things, the bill provides that farmers may buy as well as sell stock in stock yards. It also makes provision for Government Cold Storage.

Mr. McKenzie suggested that the government should enter upon a scheme of public ownership of cold storage plants in Canada. What was regarded, he said, as a great curse to the people of the country was printing people of the country wa regarded, he said, as a great curse to the people of the country was pri-vate ownership of cold warehouses. At the present time, he understood, five or six million pounds of butter was being held in cold storage for higher prices. Butter bought for from 40 cents to 45 cents was held until prices rose to 75 cents and 80 cents and in some places to even $1 a pound.
That was a condition which should not be permitted to exist. Mr. Lemieux said it was a puzzle to him that Canadian butter was sold cheaper today in London than in Canada.

Mr. Crerar replied that dairy products of Europe had been depleted enormously, causing an increase in prices. He quite agreed with Mr. Mc-Kenzie that if cold storage companies were cornering supplies of butter there should be some method of reaching them. He really believed that the main reasons for high prices were due to the demand in Europe.

The total vote was 12,433.

ERINDALE

Fire which broke out in John Burke's general grocery store and postoffice in the village of Erindale about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon completely destroyed that building together with all the contents, and spreading to the Erindale Hotel, kept by George Merrydew, likewise completely destroyed that the town hall adjoining, entailing a loss estimated at from $40,000 to $45,000. Shortly after the fire broke out in the store a quantity of gasoline in an adjoining building exploded greatly imcreasing the difficulties of the local firemen. When it was seen that the fire was getting beyond control. Port Credit and Brampton were wired for help was responded by sending their chemical extinguishers. The Erindale flouring mills and the machine shop adjoining caught fire and were only saved by theroic efforts of the villagers.

flouring mills and the machine shop adjoining caught fire and were only saved by theroic efforts of the villagers. Practically everything in the store and postoffice was burned, not even the postoffice documents being saved. Merrydew's loss on the contents of the hotel will be heavy. All the buildings and contents are insured the to what extent could not be learned.

That an abundance of land suitable for the building of moderately-priced houses at a low rate was available for the house to Yonge street in many cases, could be bought all the way from $13 to $25 per foot, was clearly brought out at Saturday night's meeting of the North Toronto avenue and éast of Yonge street land in blocks for the building of 1000 houses could easily be obtained at the price quoted. On the west side the land, thrubuilding restrictions, was, little of it, available.

W. L. Cuttell was in the chair, and there was a good turnout. H. H. Waddington said that the board of control and the city council will be acquainted with this fact, and that the housing commission had already been advised of the truth of the matter. A section of the city press, according to Mr. Waddington, had persistently declared that North Toronto properties were largely held by speculators. It was decided to meet every Saturday night during the month of May.

The hotel will be heavy. All the buildings and contents are insured tho to what extent could not be learned.
