Trevelyan, who seconded the resolution, agreed in condemning the uncertainty in the speech of the German (chuncellor, 'Dr. Michaelis, and said that they were all agreed that peace awaited the restoration of Belgium and France, without any economic or other conditions. He also doubted whether there would be peace until all the governments clearly and expressly repudiated the idea of conannexation. While it might be the duty of the government to reply to the German chancellor, it was the duty of the house of commons to reply to the reichstag resolution. Dr. Michaelis' speech was made on that resolution, and the fact that he did
