

reconciled to his Maker. Pointing to the Cross it reveals a remedy for the curse of sin, and throws a light upon the state which succeeds to death, which will pacify the agonizing spirit whose faith rests upon a crucified Redeemer.

Let us not then suffer any abatement of our zeal, but let the thought that the little aid we may impart to this exalted work will exert an influence upon souls, which will cause reverberations of joy through the Heavenly courts, and add voices to the mingled melody of those who shall ascribe blessing, and honor and glory, and power, unto Him that sitteth upon the Throne, and unto the Lamb for ever and ever

Respectfully submitted on behalf of the Committee.

T. T. HIGGINSON,

Secretary.
