A Liberal majority of 3,502 at the general elections gave place to a Unionist majority of 113 on Saturday, in a three-cornered contest. There was a Labor candidate in the field, but he only the same purposes and ideals. I do not believe there can be found in the whole country a man so well fitted to be presented.

the imprisonment of children in all cases, and he quite agreed that it was a most undesirable form of punishment in all cases of boys and girls under the age of 14. In this case, however, the offender was no ordinary offender, but one who had already been before the court, and whose offence had been so grave that he had been sent to reformatory. Having een guilty of a serious breach, the mangers had no other alternative but to and him to prison. In the future, when ney had abolished imprisonment of hildren under 14, and practically abolished it under age 16, there would be auger number of boys sent to a reformatory. This power of imprisonment would be a weapon in reserve in the hands of the managers, enabling them to get displine in the institution.

"Mr. Leif Jones said that reformatory stitutions were not always very well istitutions were not always very well anaged, and he believed that this im-risonment power would be used where the management was not so efficient as in her places.

"Mr. Acland Allen pointed out that the influence of a boy returned to the school from prison would be bad on the other boys, and said that to send a boy to prison for three months would do him no good, but probably make him a good deal worse than he was before. It would be better to send the boy to prison for two or three years under the Borstal system.

BLUEJACKETS WANTED

A London cable states that there is a erious shortage of men to man reserve essels for the naval manoeuvres. The tuation is interesting. We quote:-

"Arrangements are now being made for the mobilization of the Devonport Divis-ion of the Home Fleet to take part in the forthcoming naval manoeuvres. It has been discovered, however, that there to full strength and the special reserve ships are to be commissioned. The commodore of the Royal Naval Barracks has furnished returns of the availa tension to Loch Lomond is so satisfac- Imperative orders have been received that these ships are to be got to sea somethory. The secretary of the board of fire underwriters has expressed his belief that the promised reduction in fire insurance rates will soon be made. It was to accomplish this end the extension was undertaken, and since the tests of the new service have proved satisfactory the rates should come down without delay.

St. John has added to its other advantages a gravitation supply of the best water, under largh pleasure. There is still some work to be done, replacing old pipes here and there about the city, but

ROOSEVELT ON TAFT

It is interesting to know what President Roosevelt thinks of the man who will probably succeed him in office. Immedi-The by-election for the Pudsey district ately upon receiving news of the nomination of Secretary Taft for the presidency, Labor candidate in the field, but he only secured 1,291 votes, compared with 5,444 for the Unionist and 5,331 for the Liberal. The London press regards the result as another victory for tariff reform. The London Standard's reports from Leeds showed that throughout the contest the rival claims of free trade and tariff reform were especially prominent.

The record of the recent by-elections is practically all against the government. The new premier has been unable to convince the people that he is any more capable than his predecessor, and the force of foreign competition is felt with increasing Leenness in the industrial centres. As the London Post says, "The rapid growth of the essential policy of union may bring a change of government sooner than expected."

The the only secured with 5,444 for the Unionist and 5,331 for the Libbar the country a man so well fitted to be president. He is not only absolutely disinterested and upright, but he has the widest acquaintance with the nation's needs without and within and the broadest sympathies with all our citizens. He would be as emphatically a president of the plain people as Lincoln, yet not Lincoln himself would be freer from the least taint of demagogy, the least tendency to arouse or appeal to class hatered of any kind. He has a peculiar and intimate knowledge of and sympathy with the needs of all our people—of the farmer, of the wage-worker, of the business man, of the property owner. No matter what his creed, his color or the section of the country from which he comes, if he is an honest, hard-working man who tried to do his duty toward can rest assured that he will have in Mr. Taft the most upright of representatives and the most fearless of champions. Mr. Taft the most upright of representatives stands pre-eminently for the broad principles of American citizenship which lie at the foundation of our national well.being."

MAUD WILL GO TO MANCHESTER

Canadian Dancer Will Do the Living Statuary Act There When She is Ready.

Thousands of people in London, drawn from every class of society, and including the highest in the land, have during the past few months witnessed the wonderful daneing of Miss Maud Allan; but, if the Manchester Watch Committee adheres to the attitude which it is stated to have taken up, the probability is that audiences in that city will not be afforded a similar opportunity. The manager of the Palace Theatre of Varieties at Manchester wished, it appears, to arrange for a series of performances by Miss Allan at an early date, and had mentioned this to the Watch Committee, with the result that the latter has, without expressing any opinion on the lady's performance, intimated that it cannot agree to her apearance on the Manchester stage. The decision is understood to be based on general grounds of policy with regard to entertainments of the "living statuary" order, by which the committee has been guided for some time past, and which, it appears to be thought, should be made applicable to the present case also.

On the part of the committee it is denied that the action taken means the banning of Miss Maud Allan's performance. The chairman, indeed, says, "We have not prohibited Miss Allan's performance, we cannot act as censors beforehand. We can simply stop a production if we disapprove of it." But the powers of the Watch Committee over houses of entertainment are, of course, extensive. Although not expressly stated, it is thought that exception may have been taken to Miss Allan's "Salome" dance; but it is pointed out that her repertoire is not limited to this particular dance, and that any objection which, rightly or wrongly, might be taken to "Salome" would not apply in the case, say, of the Chopin "Marche Funebre," or the Rubinstein "Valse Caprice," in the illustration of which Miss Allan has achieved high distinction.

One of our representatives yesterday had a conversation with Miss Allan on the sub-
