

DON'T MISS A GOOD THING

Last 3 Days of Monster Sale Now Going On at the Union Clothing Co.

26-28 Charlotte St., opp. City Market

Come--Follow the Crowd

"THE LATE TENANT"

By GORDON HOLMES

(Continued.)

"Van Hupfeldt stole it from the flat during my absence."

"How could that be?"

"He has duplicate keys, I suppose. Once before I have reason to believe he was there. We struggled together, one on each side of a door. It was in the dark, and he managed to dodge past me, but I fired at him and drew blood, I think."

"When was that?" she demanded with a quickness which did not escape him.

"On the morning of the day you were to have met me at the cemetery, but sent such a bitter little note instead."

"A bitter little note!"

And thus were the words said which, pursued for another sentence, must have unmasked Van Hupfeldt wholly; but they were both so excited, so carried out of all bounds of reasoned thought, that Van let flow at a tangent, and David doubled after her, so delighted was it to hear the words coming from her lips, to watch her eye telegraph their secret meanings.

"He was lame that day," she whispered. "He is not quite free from stiffness in his walk yet."

"Ah! I hit him then?" And David smiled a different kind of smile to that which Violet was learning to like.

"But if all that you say is true, the man is a monster," she cried in a sudden rage.

"It am coming to think that he is not in his right mind," said David, a surprising charity springing up in him.

"And do you know what they are waiting for now?" she asked vehemently.

"I cannot tell, save that it is for you."

"They want me to sign a marriage settlement. Oh, what a vile world!"

"Not a vile world, dear; nor are its humans altogether bad. Even this Van Hupfeldt, or Strauss, seems to have loved your sister. And she did love him. Poor girl! she meant to kill herself on his account, owing to some secret he revealed to her, something about another woman who had adopted him as her son. That was not clear in her story. She purposely kept the definite things out of her diary."

"The girl's mind was driven back, with quick rebound, to the memory of her sister's fate. The mere mention of the name of Strauss touched a poignant chord. Strauss was a blacker, more Satanic creature in her imagination than Van Hupfeldt. She swathed herself free and sprang toward the door.

"Do you swear that you are telling me the truth?" she cried.

"I swear it."

"Then I go now to meet him, and his lawyer, and my mother. Poor mother! How she will suffer when she sees me! Shall I come with you?"

She blushed. She began to remember more vividly each instant, how long she had been there in his arms, almost clinging to him.

"Better not," she said. "I will drive him away, and when mother and I have cried together we shall see you. Are you staying in the village?"

"Yes. At the inn, the Feathers I think it is called."

"Then I shall send for you tonight, or perhaps tomorrow morning."

"Make it tonight, if possible. Tell your mother I will not add to her sorrow, and it is best she should know all."

"Good-by, then, Violet."

"Good-by, David."

He held out his hand, so frankly that she placed her white fingers within the grasp of his strong ones. He was tempted to draw her nearer, but her color rose again, her eyes dropped, and she tore herself away, breaking almost into a run.

David, careless whether he was seen or not, walked off towards the lodge, glancing every now and then over his shoulder to watch Violet hastening to the house. Once, when crossing the lawn, she looked around and waved a hand to him. He replied. Then she vanished, and David walked on, the happiest man in England.

What a pity it is that ignorance should so often be an essential part of bliss.

Daily Fashion Hint for Times Readers.

STOLEN AND MUFF OF GRAY OSTRICH.

The tailor-made girl with her short pleated skirt, smart-fitting jacket and flower bedecked cloche capelet has added another charming accessory to her fluffy Ruffles costume. This is the feather-neck scarf and muff or ostrich, coq or marabout. These fashionable accessories come in a variety of shapes, especially the neck-piece, but the smartest is the long flat

DON'T NEGLECT YOUR SKIN

A healthy skin is absolutely essential to HEALTH, HAPPINESS and BEAUTY, and the natural and never-failing way to keep a healthy skin is to treat all injuries and eruptions promptly with Zamb-Buk. Zamb-Buk contains only the rich oils and juices of healing, health-giving herbs, and is therefore Nature's Own Skin Remedy.

ZAMB-BUK CURED

Mrs. A. E. Gardner, Catalina, of Pitts. Miss K. M. Bartlett, Montreal, of Ezeza. A. Harrison, Kingston, of Blood Poison. Mr. Alfred Brown, Toronto, of Rheumatism. Mrs. Cogill, Wapella, (Sask.), of Abscesses.

All Skin Diseases Yield to Zamb-Buk.

Obtainable from all druggists and stores at 5c. a box. Send to Zamb-Buk Co., Toronto, for free sample box. Just cut out and offer, write name of paper across it, and mail with 10c. stamp to pay postage.

Men Require Nerve and Blood Tonic.

How Are Your Nerves?

The daily grind of life burns up a man's vitality faster than he renews it. He gets shaky, starts at trifles, loses in his sleep, is ready to fly off the handle any minute.

The nervous man is nervous because his blood is so thin his nerves are starved to death.

He needs Ferrerozine!

A fine action is upon digestion. It stimulates secretion of gastric juice, ensures perfect digestion, prepares the food so it can be at once assimilated.

Hence the blood in our veins is fortified, made redder, richer, stronger.

To the whole organism is imparted a vim, endurance and reserve of vigor that the nervous man never knew before.

The restorative power of Ferrerozine is marvellous. In a month it will make you feel like new, just as it did the Hon. E. Newsome of Rochdale, who writes: "I owe a debt of gratitude to Ferrerozine which saved my life after a severe case of nervous prostration. About a year ago my health gave out. I was in such a weak, irritable condition I could not work. My doctor recommended Ferrerozine as the best preparation for nervous troubles, so I bought a bottle and took it at meals. Every box of Ferrerozine I took did me more good than the previous one, and it was not very long before I was strong enough to move around again. In three months I was completely cured. Ferrerozine braced up my nerves, gave me a strong healthy constitution, and is certainly a marvellous restorer and tonic."

Try Ferrerozine—sold everywhere by druggists in 50c. boxes.

The Natural History Society lecture course was very successfully opened yesterday afternoon when Miss Elizabeth Robinson Scovell delivered an entertaining and instructive address on Wonders of Modern Medicine. The lecture hall in the society's building in Union Street was filled by an audience of ladies who gathered with evident pleasure while Miss Scovell spoke for almost an hour. Mrs. G. E. Matthew presided.

A vote of thanks was moved by Mrs. Thomas Walker and was given by all standing. A brief hour was then pleasantly passed in conversation and in the enjoyment of refreshments served by young lady nurses in uniform.

E. W. Rowley is completing a large two-story brick house in Sydney street, near the foot of Queen square. The house, which will be ready for occupancy about Dec. 1, will contain three tenements heated by a steam system to be installed by J. O'Brien.

Through the honesty of Alfred Knight Miss Mosher, of 31 Hazen street, had a pocketbook restored to her yesterday afternoon. Miss Mosher dropped the wallet in Mill street, and later Mr. Knight picked it up and handed it to Policeman Marshall. The patrolman, hearing of Miss Mosher's loss, made her happy by returning the purse.

DR. HETHERINGTON WRITES AGAIN

He Replies to Some of the Statements Made by Dr. H. B. Hay.

To the Editor of The Telegraph.

Sir,—I don't know just what sentiment of duty or desire has prompted Dr. Hay to rise and address the audience at this time, but since he seems ambitious to shoulder large responsibilities, he must, of course, have the attention.

Therefore, in reply:

First—Dr. Hetherington manifestly could not agree to a convention, or anything else, until he was consulted. The convention was arranged and the day set before Dr. Hetherington was informed, the information not then coming from any one of the party leaders personally, which he took the liberty of thinking rather unusual, especially as the convention was supposed to be strong in their allegiance to him and uniting in their labors in his behalf.

Second—Dr. Hetherington believes that Col. McLean made all necessary arrangements for the convenience of his guests to the reception he was tendering himself at Gagetown, Oct. 17. It was not Dr. Hetherington's party and he was obviously not called upon to assist in the preparations. The steamship Aberdeen was engaged to convey the Washdenoak contingent upon a purely business basis, and Dr. Hetherington trusts that everything was satisfactory.

Third—Dr. Hetherington has no recollection of having ever consented upon any lack of posters or newspaper advertisements. Indeed, had it not been for these, he might have almost never known anything about the affair at all. Neither does Dr. Hetherington doubt but that every possible arrangement was made by the host and the receiving party to make the reception a success. He failed to observe anything lacking along that line.

Fourth—Dr. Hetherington agreed at no time to support any one, either before the convention, at the convention, or after the convention. He trusts he has made that plain.

Fifth—No doubt the reception was the largest ever held in Queens and Sunbury. Dr. Hetherington has not Dr. Hay's experience in functions of the sort and so really could not argue that point with him. However, it seemed to be ample in its proportions and everything that could be desired in that respect.

Sixth—Dr. Hetherington did not rise and give the address. Dr. Hetherington must say to Dr. Hay that it is an unqualified, uncalculated misstatement of fact. Dr. Hetherington left the building immediately after addressing the gathering, and it is entirely useless to attempt to argue that point further with him. He did not even "rise" to make his own few remarks, neither being in the room long enough to sit down, nor seeing any opportunity for doing so had he been. Oh, it was unquestionably a very large affair, the seating capacity being so limited and the attendance so large that, when the standing vote was taken, a large proportion of the guests were already on their feet, and some few have assured me that at that critical moment they were unable to secure anything to sit upon and so, in spite of themselves, helped to swell the crowding triumph of that famous, unanimous standing vote.

Dr. Hetherington's protest is against public misrepresentation of his attitude and a public misinterpretation of his speech at Gagetown, together with unfair, diabolical and unnecessary methods employed toward him on the part of certain of the party leaders before the convention and in the calling of the convention.

JUDSON E. HETHERINGTON.

Coly., Oct. 23, 1907.

EDWARD MORGAN DIED IN A CHAIR

Sudden Death of Well Known Fredericton Man—Inquest Will be Held.

Fredericton, N. B., Oct. 23.—Edward Morgan, a well known citizen, died very suddenly at 5 o'clock this afternoon while sitting in a room at the Commercial Hotel. He had been drinking heavily of late, and about 1 o'clock dropped into the Commercial Hotel. Being considerably the worse for liquor he sat down in a chair and was soon fast asleep. About 3 o'clock some persons, who chance to be in the room, noticed that he was breathing heavily and called in Dr. F. B. Gunther, who was in F. B. Gunther's Bros' livery stable next door. The doctor, after feeling his pulse, expressed the opinion that he would be all right in a short time.

Nothing more was thought of the matter until nearly 5 o'clock, when it was noticed that Mr. Morgan had stopped breathing. His features had become pale and it needed only a glance to convince those in the room with him that life was extinct.

Dr. G. J. McNally, who is also a coroner, was called in and after making an examination of the body, expressed the opinion that death had resulted from heart failure, brought on by the excessive use of alcohol. Permission was given to have the body removed to the deceased's late home.

The affair has created quite a lot of talk about the city, and Coroner McNally has decided to hold an inquest tomorrow afternoon.

Morgan was about 40 years of age and was survived by a wife and two children. For some years he was engaged in the manufacture of carriages here, but of late has conducted a saloon on King street. He was well known and popular among his acquaintances, and his death, under such sad circumstances, has occasioned much regret.

$100 Reward, $100

The return of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one remedy that science has been able to cure in its grasp, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in its efforts to cure. Send for list of testimonials. It fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. CHESEBURY & CO., Toledo, O. "Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation."

(Write looking up from her book.)—"You know a great many things, John; now what do you think should be done in a case of drowning?"

Husband—"Have a funeral. I should think."

ST. JOHN LEADS This City Considerably Ahead of Halifax in Postal Revenue

Ottawa, Oct. 23.—The report of the post-master-general for the fiscal period of nine months, ended March 31 last, which is the first of the departmental blue-books to make its appearance, shows that the increased in letters and postcards, on the same basis as for the nine months, would be 44,470,000 for the full twelve months. The total number of letters for the nine months was 273,611,000.

The total expenditure for the nine months was $5,452,701, and the surplus $1,082,301. This is more than the total surplus for the year previous. Taking the twelve months of 1907, the total amount of money remitted by money orders was $47,929,250, as against $48,083,237 for the year previous.

The balance due depositors at the close of the fiscal period was $47,432,457, compared with $47,991,491 for the same nine months last year.

The number of unpaid letters sent to the dead letter office for the nine months was 67,394, as against 72,532 for 1906.

The revenue for the St. John post was $78,305, and for Halifax $75,091. For the head office alone the revenue of Halifax was $70,794, and for St. John $68,977.

The statistics of the dead letter branch show some curious things very wrongly addressed through the mails. There was one bark canoe, one bed tick, one bird, three bottles of whiskey, 127 calves, one can of salmon, one football, numerous articles of jewelry, five packages of gum, one hair brush, one hair switch, three kimonos, one lamp, one military busby, three mine pies, nineteen mortgages, seven napkin rings, thirty-six neckties, five night-dresses, one oilcloth, four pawn tickets, two redigees, six packages of peanuts, forty-five pipes, twenty-one puddings, twenty-seven razors, six diamond rings, four rubbers, fifty-six socks, twenty-three stockings, one clergyman's stole, thirteen summonses, five teeth, fifty toys, one war medal, ten watches, two wigs and one window chair.

A man is not always as old as he feels; a woman is seldom as young as she looks. A woman's hair, said Solomon, is her glory. Had he lived today he would have said it was her hat.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MISS HELEN ADAM

Death came last night with terrible suddenness to Miss Helen Adam, teacher for some years in the Protestant Orphan Asylum. She and her sister, Miss George, had been attending the mid-week service in St. David's church where they also assisted in making arrangements for an entertainment to be held there tonight. Returning to her boarding house, Mrs. Findlay's, 127 Duke street, Miss Helen Adam was passing through the hall when a lady asked her for a match. She made a joking reply and went on, but on reaching her room she fell on the floor dead. Dr. Semmell was called but nothing could be done. Her sister was almost prostrated by the fearful shock.

Miss Adam was a daughter of the late James Adam. The family formerly lived in Moncton but moved to St. John. Both Mr. and Mrs. Adam are dead, and an only brother, James, at one time manager of Jones' brewery, died suddenly in the old burning ground some years ago. Miss Adam is survived by three sisters—Miss George, who boarded in the same house with her; Miss Elizabeth B., a patient in the Home for Incurables, and Miss Johanna, who is now in Boston, having left for that city only a few days ago.

The deceased had been for a number of years a teacher in the Protestant Orphan Asylum, a position she filled to the satisfaction of all. All those in the institution cherished the highest regard for her and the little ones especially looked upon her as a close personal friend. She was a consistent member of St. David's Presbyterian church, where she was prominent in the work of the mission society, besides being a teacher in the Sunday school. Miss Adam, although naturally retiring in her manner, had a sunny disposition and a gift of ingratiating herself with children. She will be sorely mourned for by a very large circle of friends and acquaintances.

To check a cold quickly, get from your druggist some Little Candy Cold Tablets called Preventics. Druggists everywhere are now dispensing Preventics, for they are not only safe, but decidedly certain and prompt. Preventics contain no Quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh nor sickening. Taken at the "onset stage" Preventics will prevent Pneumonia, Bronchitis, La Grippe, etc. Hence the name, Preventics. Good for feverish children. 48 Preventics 25c. Trial Boxes 5c. Sold by all druggists.

The Currier Business University football team will go to Sussex on Saturday to play a game with the team of that place.

$10

AT THIS POPULAR PRICE you will always find our Overcoat values beyond the ordinary. This season especially our qualities in TEN DOLLAR OVERCOATS are exceptionally fine. It is therefore of great importance to view our Fall Overcoat Stock, if only to see OUR GREAT TEN DOLLAR LEADERS.

Don't pass these Splendid Suits if you are looking for Extraordinary Values.

Reduced Prices

$4.98, 5.48, 6.48, 7.48, 8.48, 9.48

Formerly from $6.75 to $12.50

C. B. PIDGEON,

Cor. Main and Bridge Sts.

TAILORING. CLOTHING. BOOTS.

EDWARD MORGAN DIED IN A CHAIR

Sudden Death of Well Known Fredericton Man—Inquest Will be Held.

Fredericton, N. B., Oct. 23.—Edward Morgan, a well known citizen, died very suddenly at 5 o'clock this afternoon while sitting in a room at the Commercial Hotel. He had been drinking heavily of late, and about 1 o'clock dropped into the Commercial Hotel. Being considerably the worse for liquor he sat down in a chair and was soon fast asleep. About 3 o'clock some persons, who chance to be in the room, noticed that he was breathing heavily and called in Dr. F. B. Gunther, who was in F. B. Gunther's Bros' livery stable next door. The doctor, after feeling his pulse, expressed the opinion that he would be all right in a short time.

Nothing more was thought of the matter until nearly 5 o'clock, when it was noticed that Mr. Morgan had stopped breathing. His features had become pale and it needed only a glance to convince those in the room with him that life was extinct.

Dr. G. J. McNally, who is also a coroner, was called in and after making an examination of the body, expressed the opinion that death had resulted from heart failure, brought on by the excessive use of alcohol. Permission was given to have the body removed to the deceased's late home.

The affair has created quite a lot of talk about the city, and Coroner McNally has decided to hold an inquest tomorrow afternoon.

Morgan was about 40 years of age and was survived by a wife and two children. For some years he was engaged in the manufacture of carriages here, but of late has conducted a saloon on King street. He was well known and popular among his acquaintances, and his death, under such sad circumstances, has occasioned much regret.

$100 Reward, $100

The return of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one remedy that science has been able to cure in its grasp, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in its efforts to cure. Send for list of testimonials. It fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. CHESEBURY & CO., Toledo, O. "Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation."

(Write looking up from her book.)—"You know a great many things, John; now what do you think should be done in a case of drowning?"

Husband—"Have a funeral. I should think."

ST. JOHN LEADS This City Considerably Ahead of Halifax in Postal Revenue

Ottawa, Oct. 23.—The report of the post-master-general for the fiscal period of nine months, ended March 31 last, which is the first of the departmental blue-books to make its appearance, shows that the increased in letters and postcards, on the same basis as for the nine months, would be 44,470,000 for the full twelve months. The total number of letters for the nine months was 273,611,000.

The total expenditure for the nine months was $5,452,701, and the surplus $1,082,301. This is more than the total surplus for the year previous. Taking the twelve months of 1907, the total amount of money remitted by money orders was $47,929,250, as against $48,083,237 for the year previous.

The balance due depositors at the close of the fiscal period was $47,432,457, compared with $47,991,491 for the same nine months last year.

The number of unpaid letters sent to the dead letter office for the nine months was 67,394, as against 72,532 for 1906.

The revenue for the St. John post was $78,305, and for Halifax $75,091. For the head office alone the revenue of Halifax was $70,794, and for St. John $68,977.

The statistics of the dead letter branch show some curious things very wrongly addressed through the mails. There was one bark canoe, one bed tick, one bird, three bottles of whiskey, 127 calves, one can of salmon, one football, numerous articles of jewelry, five packages of gum, one hair brush, one hair switch, three kimonos, one lamp, one military busby, three mine pies, nineteen mortgages, seven napkin rings, thirty-six neckties, five night-dresses, one oilcloth, four pawn tickets, two redigees, six packages of peanuts, forty-five pipes, twenty-one puddings, twenty-seven razors, six diamond rings, four rubbers, fifty-six socks, twenty-three stockings, one clergyman's stole, thirteen summonses, five teeth, fifty toys, one war medal, ten watches, two wigs and one window chair.

A man is not always as old as he feels; a woman is seldom as young as she looks. A woman's hair, said Solomon, is her glory. Had he lived today he would have said it was her hat.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MISS HELEN ADAM

Death came last night with terrible suddenness to Miss Helen Adam, teacher for some years in the Protestant Orphan Asylum. She and her sister, Miss George, had been attending the mid-week service in St. David's church where they also assisted in making arrangements for an entertainment to be held there tonight. Returning to her boarding house, Mrs. Findlay's, 127 Duke street, Miss Helen Adam was passing through the hall when a lady asked her for a match. She made a joking reply and went on, but on reaching her room she fell on the floor dead. Dr. Semmell was called but nothing could be done. Her sister was almost prostrated by the fearful shock.

Miss Adam was a daughter of the late James Adam. The family formerly lived in Moncton but moved to St. John. Both Mr. and Mrs. Adam are dead, and an only brother, James, at one time manager of Jones' brewery, died suddenly in the old burning ground some years ago. Miss Adam is survived by three sisters—Miss George, who boarded in the same house with her; Miss Elizabeth B., a patient in the Home for Incurables, and Miss Johanna, who is now in Boston, having left for that city only a few days ago.

The deceased had been for a number of years a teacher in the Protestant Orphan Asylum, a position she filled to the satisfaction of all. All those in the institution cherished the highest regard for her and the little ones especially looked upon her as a close personal friend. She was a consistent member of St. David's Presbyterian church, where she was prominent in the work of the mission society, besides being a teacher in the Sunday school. Miss Adam, although naturally retiring in her manner, had a sunny disposition and a gift of ingratiating herself with children. She will be sorely mourned for by a very large circle of friends and acquaintances.

To check a cold quickly, get from your druggist some Little Candy Cold Tablets called Preventics. Druggists everywhere are now dispensing Preventics, for they are not only safe, but decidedly certain and prompt. Preventics contain no Quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh nor sickening. Taken at the "onset stage" Preventics will prevent Pneumonia, Bronchitis, La Grippe, etc. Hence the name, Preventics. Good for feverish children. 48 Preventics 25c. Trial Boxes 5c. Sold by all druggists.

The Currier Business University football team will go to Sussex on Saturday to play a game with the team of that place.

"Brick's Tasteless"

REGISTERED

is an extract of fresh cod livers, containing all the virtues of fresh cod liver oil without the nauseous grease, the compound syrup of hypophosphites, nutritious extract of malt and the fluid extract of wild cherry bark purifies the blood.

makes the weak strong.

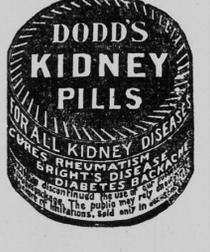

is a specific in sore throat and lung diseases.

is so prepared that it can be assimilated without the least digestive effort.

is sold under the positive guarantee that a decided improvement will be felt after taking one bottle, or your money will be refunded by the druggist from whom you purchased it.

Can we be fairer?

Two Sizes—8 ounce bottle 50c; 20 ounce bottle $1.00

COMBINED CIRCULATION OVER 15,000