Are You Going to Build?

The first consideration is a suitable building site. This does not mean simply so many square feet of freehold, in itself attractive, to which you will acquire title. Of more importance than the actual land are the surroundings. The value of your land and the enjoyment of your home, when built, are very directly affected by the occupation and use of the surrounding land. Hence, the importance of first selecting a suitable locality, the present development of which is in accord with your own tastes, and the future development of which is definitely fixed on similar lines.

Given a locality which meets the above demands, and is in addition centrally located with regard to every part of the city, with all city conveniences installed, such as water and sewer systems, graded streets and sidewalks, with schools, churches, street cars, shops, banks, etc., within two minutes' walk, and we have a locality which at least merits the serious investigation of the prospective home builder.

PORTLAND PLACE

Fills the above specifications and more. The building lots are ample in size, individually attractive and Moderate in Price.

The whole development of PORTLAND PLACE adheres to the best "Garden Suburb" principles. These principles were only applied after personal study on the ground of the best examples of residential development in Canada, United States and Europe had made us thoroughly familiar with them.

HOUSE PLANS FREE

During the past year we have designed and purchased a fine selection of plans for moderate-priced, self-contained and two-family houses, especially suited to the scheme of development undertaken for PORT-LAND PLACE. These plans are at the service of purchasers of lots free.

The Man Who Thinks

Thomas W. Lawson says that "success in finance comes to the man who thinks clearly and acts quickly. The doubting-hesitating-man is sure to be swamped."

It's the same in real estate investing—the man who waits to see prices go up and things happen before buying—always pays the top price.

But the bright, alert man who thinks and sees for himself —and takes advantage of what he sees and hears—does it quickly and wins.

You know—I know—anybody knows—who thinks—that you can't lose a penny by taking advantage of these war time prices and "get in" on our "Hatheway Partners" proposition.

Call, write or phone and let us explain this wonderful proposition.

Act at once before you are too late.
