LOCAL NEWS

David Brown, superintendent of rolling stock for the Glasgow tramways, is visiting his cousin, Mr. B. Brown, and Mrs. Samuel Thompson, West St. John. He has also visited Toronto and Montreal.

It was announced yesterday that the tickets which were sold at the Cathedral Sunday school picnic, on Wednesday, August 9, would be drawn on Friday evening in the St. Vincent de Paul rooms, Waterloo street.

A still alarm was sent in Saturday evening for what was thought to be a fire in the home of J. W. Dolbin, 57-59 Burpee Ave. The house was filled with smoke which had backed down the chimney.

A building in City Road used as a barn and workshop by James Kilpatrick, and owned by the Macaulay estate, was destroyed by fire early Sunday morning. Two alarms were sent in from Box 412. The firemen worked in vain for their waists, in the midst of the rain.

The victim of the recent drowning accident at Lambert Lake, near Vanceboro, was Maurice Bishop. A week ago yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Bishop were out on the lake. The boat overturned and Mr. Bishop sank at once while his wife gained a hold on the overturned boat. She clung there for nearly three hours until her cries attracted attention. Mr. Bishop's body was not recovered until Tuesday.

Dr. M. G. Teed, K. C., Dr. William B. Wallace, K. C., and J. D. P. Lewin, members of the New Brunswick bar who attended the seventh annual sessions of the Canadian Bar Association in Vancouver recently, returned to the city by the Montreal train yesterday afternoon, after an absence since August 3 last. Dr. Teed was accompanied by Mrs. Teed. Hon. Dr. J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., M. P., did not return with the party, but is expected some time this week.

unidentified man who lurked in a doorway at Fifty-first street and Third avenue, Brooklyn, Whalen ran a whole block with a bullet in his heart, before he dropped dead at the corner of Fifty-second street. Detectives said that they thought they knew the name of the slayer, and that the shooting was caused by a bootlegging row in which Whalen was said to be involved.

After considerable discussion it was decided to raise the number of the executive, exclusive of officers, from nine to fifteen, the idea being that each county could be represented when all the counties joined the union. Those added to the original nine chosen on Friday evening were: Councillor John T. O'Brien, Lancaster; Mayor J. A. Reid, Fredericton; L. P. Smith, Albert county; Warden Barton, Queens county; Councillor Belle Isle, Campbellton, and Mr. Hunter, St. Stephen.

Mayor Mesereau, of Chatham, said that it had been his intention to invite the union to hold its next annual meeting at Chatham, but he understood that Campbellton was keen to have the convention there, and he would not press the invitation. Mayor N. C. McKay, of Campbellton, then invited the union to meet there in 1923, which invitation was accepted with thanks. It was left with the president and secretary to fix the date, and Councillor Belle Isle suggested that they come in salmon fishing time, along about the latter part of June.

Charles A. Emery, secretary of the board of assessors of St. John city, gave an address and a demonstration of the preparation of voters' lists.

During the course of the convention the Municipal Officers' Association met with J. A. Fowle, the president, in the chair. Gen. A. Taylor, Salisbury, was
