Correspondence.

[We invite correspondence on all local subjects, and will be glad to publish anything that will advance the interests of our readers, individually, or of the communities in which they live. Local News Items, Notices of Improvements—either moral or physical—Reports of Meetings, Agricultural, Lumbering, Fishing, Mechanical and other Industrial notes are especially welcome. We do not expect that all who desire to assist us in the above way are good writers, but that should not deter them from sending along their favors. We want the news and will see that it goes into the paper in proper shape.]

Vivian Replies to Mr. Ryan.

GLOUCESTER Co., N. B., April 27th.

To the Editor of the Miramichi Advance.

SIR:—In the Advocate of the 25th inst., a letter appeared over the signature of an honorable gentleman—or, at all events, of one who occupies a very honorable position in our county—which shows that the hon. gentleman's temper was slightly ruffled by some remarks in my last anent the demand for a change of line between Caraquet and Inkerman parishes. I freely condone all the little faults of style, all the little bitternesses, deflections in a word, from that good taste which should characterise the correspondence of gentlemen, into which the ill temper of this political fledgling has betrayed him and assure him that I fully "realized and understood the force and meaning of my words" when I wrote the communication he refers to. And, moreover, had we to "manufacture" the "article" again like that "skilled mechanic" of whom he writes, being acquainted with all the circumstances of the case, we should shape it with the same tools and turn out, perhaps, not "an inferior article," but one just as effective in disturbing the political repose of the honorable introducer of this measure. Mr. Ryan speaks of misrepresentation, etc., but the gentleman altogether misapprehends and misrepresents the drift of our remarks when he interprets it as "an unchristian and uncharitable attempt to injure his "political character." Nothing was more foreign to our intention when penning that letter. No honorable gentleman's "political character" can be injured by the fact that he introduces a Bill at the request of any number of his constituents. He is their servant and as such it may be his duty to accede to their expressed desire. We have known members to do so in obedience to the wish of those they represented, altho' personally opposed to the measure introduced. No one blames the hon. gentleman for performing what was simply his duty in that respect. Where the fault lies exactly we are not prepared to say—perhaps there is a hidden hand—indeed we think so. But of this we are certain that of the 2162 residents of the Parish of Inkerman mentioned in the last census, all, without exception, belong to the lower section, the only part of the Parish inhabited, and that the proposed change of line was asked for by a handful of new settlers from Caraquet, recently located on the ungranted lots at the rear, without the knowledge or consent of the inhabitants who, themselves and their fathers before them, had borne "the heat and burthen of the day" in that Parish. It is all very fine for the hon. gentleman to say that the Bill in question was advertised in the columns of the Advocate for five weeks, but, he, who is so well acquainted with the people of the lower parishes, must know that practically as far as they are concerned it might as well have been advertised in the "Timbuctoo Gazette," if such a journal exists. Altho' a subscriber to the Advocate, I confess that the advertisement escaped my own attention and it was only when I perused the reports of the Legislative proceedings that I learned of the proposed change. In matters such as this, involving as it does a radical change in the state of a parish, we say again, as we said in our last, that the parties interested should be heard from, and we are further of opinion that no hon. gentleman's "political character" would suffer the least detriment by consulting them. It may be quite true, as no doubt it is, that the inhabitants of the lower part of Inkerman would by no "act of theirs oppose what was honestly intended to benefit their neighbors in the upper part" but they fail, at least for the present, to understand how these few newly arrived immigrants to their territory are to be benefited by being annexed to the already too large parish of Caraquet and, moreover, they feel that their charity should not be exercised at the expense of the disintegration of their own small Parish. Mr. Ryan refers to a letter received by him at Fredericton. He may rest assured that, if its contents are as represented, it was not from "Vivian" as that correspondent is not in the habit of giving false information. The matter was not misrepresented at all. The case was simply stated to the people. An Act, they were told, had passed the lower branch of the Legislature whereby it was proposed to cut off a large section from the rear of their Parish and they were asked whether they were of opinion that it was advisable that such a change should be made without obtaining, from the neighbouring Parish thus enlarged a quid pro quo and the response was conveyed in a petition numerously signed praying the Legislative Council to stay the proceeding for the time. The honorable gentleman, may, in his turn, as the Hon. R. Young—"be amused"—we like to afford amusement when we can, especially in these dull times—when we tell him that it was the Hon. the President of the Executive, to whom the people of Inkerman are indebted for having been put upon the alert in this matter. That Hon. gentleman during the brief visit to Caraquet to which Mr. Ryan refers, mentioned the affair to some of the leading men of Upper Pokemouche and, if we were not misinformed by the parties, advised them to "strengthen his hands" against the Bill by a petition and in accordance with this friendly council the petition was sent. This is the plain, unvarnished statement of the affair and all 'P. G. Ryan's' talk about "ignorance" and "destroying the character of an individual by misrepresentation,
