Josh Billings' Definitions.

- Silence is a still noise.
- Bashfulness is ignorance afraid.
- Conscience is our private secretary.
- Economy is a first mortgage on wealth.
- Prudrey is nothing more than coquetry gone to seed.
- Pleasure is like a hornet—generally ends with a sting.
- Flattery is like cologne water—to be smelt of, not to be swallowed.
- A "gentleman about town" is one who pays cash for everything except his debts.
- Rumor is like a swarm of bees—the more you fight them the less you get rid of them.
- Anxiety is milking a kicking heifer with one hand and holding her by the tail with the other.
- Fortune—is the aggregate of possibilities a goddess whom cowards court by stealth but who brave men take by storm.
- Kiss—the only way to define a kiss is to take one, and then go and sit down alone out of the draught and smack your lips.
- Friendship is like earthenware—if it is broken it can be mended—but love is like a mirror—once broken that ends it.
- Contentment is a kind of moral laziness; if there weren't anything but contentment in this world man wouldn't be any more of a success than the angle-worm is.

Be Careful How You Sit.

Recently an eminent physician gave utterance to the opinion that appendicitis is more common in this country than in others because of the Yankee custom that men have—and men are more frequently sufferers from the disease than women—of habitually sitting with one leg thrown over the other. This habit, the physician was quoted as saying, restricts the action of the digestive apparatus, and especially of the lower intestine and causes stagnation of the contents and the stretching of the opening of the vermiform appendix, making it possible for obstructions to reach the latter and thus giving rise to appendicitis.

There is no other disease, if we may judge from the attention given to it by current publications, in which the general public takes so much interest as in this one, which is comparatively new to medical practice. Probably much of the popular interest is due to the fact that only within a few years what may be called the literature of appendicitis has reached the reading community.—Leslie's Weekly.

Messrs Shaw & Dibblee say they are more than pleased with their new Acetylic Gas Machine, the saving of time compared with the old system of oil lamps amounts to 2½ hours per week or 5½ days in the year. This is no small item, while the saving in cold cash will amount to about $25 a year. Then the light is whiter, cleaner and better in every respect.

It is a contradiction of terms to say that this man or that man had "a touch of the grip." It is more truthful to say "a grip of the grip." The grip never touches. It grips. It is the doctor who touches you if you recover.
